

Remember Me

*Remember me with smiles not tears,
For all the joy, through all the years.*

*Recall a closeness that was ours,
A love as sweet as fragrant flowers.*

*Don't dwell on thoughts that cause you pain,
We'll see each other once again.*

*I am at peace...try to believe,
It was my time, I had to leave.*

*But what a view I have from here,
I see your face, I feel you near.
I follow you throughout the day,
You're not alone along the way.*

*And when God calls you, you will be,
Right by my side...right here with me.
Till then, I'll wait by heaven's door,
We'll be united evermore!*

The New Monthly Belle Assemblée, 1845 Dismantling Glory Lorrie Goldensohn, 2003 Dismantling Glory deals with the poetry written about the honors and horrors of battle by the very soldiers who put their lives on the line Focusing on American and English poetry from World Wars I and II and the Vietnam War Lorrie Goldensohn presents the move from a poetry largely bound to trench warfare to a global war poetry dominated by air power invasion and occupation Civilians prisoners and children enter this poetry in new and compelling ways as do issues of race and gender changing and complicating the representation of war and expanding the scope of antiwar thinking

The Lyric in Victorian Memory Veronica Alfano, 2017-11-11 This book is a study of nineteenth century poems that remember yearn for fixate on and forget the past Reflecting the current critical drive to reconcile formalist and historicist approaches to literature it uses close readings to trace the complex interactions between memory as a theme and the often memorable formal traits such as brevity stanzaic structure and sonic repetition that appear in the lyrics examined This book considers the interwoven nature of remembering and forgetting in the work of four Victorian poets It uses this theme to shed new light on the relationship between lyric and narrative on the connections between gender and genre and on the way in which Victorians represented and commemorated the past

War Poetry Simon Featherstone, 1995 A major anthology combined with substantial introductory material

Keith Douglas, 1920-1944 Desmond Graham, 2012-11-15 Keith Douglas was almost certainly the greatest poet of the Second World War. He was killed in Normandy three days after D Day. He was only twenty-four. His short life was one of contradictions: the gifted artist and romantic always in love with the wrong girl, also enjoyed soldiering and was quick to volunteer at the beginning of the war. The brave and resourceful tank commander with the Sherwood Rangers in the Western Desert in the campaign of which his Alemein to Zem Zem is the classic account, was also an outspoken critic of the military establishment and often in trouble with his superiors. There was always another side to Keith Douglas: difficult even arrogant, he was at the same time as Desmond Graham observes in his original preface, generous, sensitive to the difficulties of others, remorselessly honest, energetic and passionately innocently open. Douglas made in his brief life some friends who never forgot him and whose memories of him have contributed much to this book. For this biography Desmond Graham had access to much private and unpublished material. From that, interviews, Keith Douglas's own poems, letters and drawings, emerges a definitive biography. An almost unqualified success. Mr Graham has used his material with great skill and tact. Roy Fuller. It is difficult to imagine a better biography than this being written about Keith Douglas. Desmond Graham provides us with an astonishing amount of information. Stephen Spender. Extremely well done. It is written with authority and it will be standard. Peter Levi. Sumptuously evocative. John Carey. The Mad Professor of Babeldu Adamu Kyuka Usman Lilymjok, 2013-08-30. The Mad Professor of Babeldu is a work of fiction with an eccentric professor as its major character. Sitting alone in his farmhouse Professor Philjez in a profound and sometimes comic manner talks on a variety of issues from politics to religion, economics, culture, science and a myriad of other issues. This book no doubt will resonate with many readers because of its unusual character and profound ideas. Bizarre, comical, shocking, profound and perhaps blasphemous are all adjectives aptly descriptive of The Mad Professor of Babeldu. Driven by Professor Philjez, its eccentric major character, this book despairs and inspires, saddens and excites, frightens and soothes, sobers and intoxicates a reader. It is a mixed grille. It is a jolly hearty party of ideas that cannot fail to go away with gold medals in any Olympic contest of ideas. Remember Me Christopher Pike, 2001-11-27. When Shari Cooper wakes up the morning after her friend's birthday party, she doesn't realize that she is really dead. War and Conflict Quotations Michael C. Thomsett, Jean Freestone Thomsett, 2015-09-02. History is replete with pronouncements on war. Some reflect on man's warlike nature. We are quick to flare up, we races of men on the earth. Homer. Others deal with the practical strategies of the combatants. If Hitler invaded hell, I would make at least a favorable reference to the devil in the House of Commons. Winston Churchill. And still others offer advice for avoiding conflict. The most disadvantageous peace is better than the most just war. Desiderius Erasmus. More than 2,700 quotations on war and conflict are presented in this reference work. The quotations are arranged by more than 100 broad categories from action to winning. For each, the quotation is first given, followed by its author, the work in which it appeared, when appropriate, and the date. The book includes numerous cross-references and keyword in context, and author indexes are provided for further utility. The
