This book offers a comprehensive overview of the concept of repressed memories. It provides a history and context that documents key events that have had an effect on the way that modern psychology and psychotherapy have developed. Chapters provide an overview of how human memory functions and works and examine facets of the misguided theories behind repressed memory. The book also examines the science of the brain, the reconstructive nature of human memory and studies of suggestibility. It traces the present day resurgence of a belief in repressed memories in the general public as well as among many clinical psychologists, psychiatrists, social workers, body workers and others who offer counseling. It concludes with legal and professional recommendations and advice for individuals who deal with or have dealt with the psychotherapeutic practice of repressed memory therapy. Topics featured in this text include: The modern diagnosis of Dissociative Identity Disorder (DID) once called MPD; The Satanic Panic of the 1980s and its relation to repressed memory therapy; The McMartin Preschool Case and the Day Care Sex Panic; A historical overview from the Great Witch Craze to Sigmund Freud's theories spanning the 16th to 19th centuries; An exploration of the cultural context that produced the repressed memory epidemic of the 1990s; The repressed memory movement as a religious sect or cult; The Repressed Memory Epidemic will be of interest to researchers and clinicians as well as undergraduate and graduate students in the fields of psychology, sociology, cultural studies, religion and anthropology.

Progress in Self Psychology, V. 19 Mark J. Gehrie, 2013-05-13 The contributors to Explorations in Self Psychology volume 19 of the Progress in Self Psychology series wrestle with two interrelated questions at the nexus of contemporary discussions of technique How authentic and relationally invested should the self psychologically informed analyst be and what role should self disclosure play in the treatment process The responses to these questions embrace the full range of clinical possibilities Dudley and Walker argue that empathically based interpretation precludes self disclosure whereas Miller argues in favor of authentic self expression and against the self psychologist's frustrating attempt to decenter from frustration or anger Consideration of the utility of a consistently empathic stance continues with Weisel Barth's clinical presentation and the discussions that it elicits about management of her patient's primary destructiveness Lenoff's critical rereading of Kohut's Examination of the Relationship Between Mode of Observation and Theory and Rieveschl's self psychological work with adolescents and Neville Symington's theory of narcissism Contributions to applied analysis explore topics as diverse as an exchange of dreams between John Adams and Benjamin Rush Mann's Death in Venice the films of Ingmar Bergman psychotherapy of the elderly and disabilities in the sensory motor integration in children And Volume 19 concludes with Constance Goldberg's candid and enlightening reminiscence of Heinz Kohut a very complex man with whom to be in a relationship

LGBTQ Young Adult Fiction Caren J. Town, 2017-07-05 Young adult literature featuring teenage lesbian gay bisexual transgender and questioning characters is fast growing in popularity Unlike the problem novels of the past which focused on the guilt bullying and isolation of LGBTQ characters today's narratives present more sympathetic and celebratory portrayals The author explores a selection of recent novels many of which may be new to readers and places them in the wider contexts of LGBTQ literature and history Chapters discuss a range of topics including the relationship of Queer Theory to literature LGBTQ families and recent trends in utopian and dystopian science fiction Narratives of African American Women's Literary Pragmatism and Creative Democracy Gregory Phipps, 2018-11-02 This book charts an interdisciplinary narrative of literary pragmatism and creative democracy across the writings of African American women from the works of nineteenth century philosophers to the novels and short stories of Harlem Renaissance authors The book argues that this critically neglected narrative forms a genealogy of black feminist intersectionality and a major contribution to the development of American pragmatism Bringing together the philosophical writings of Maria Stewart Anna Julia Cooper and Mary Church Terrell and the fictional works of Jessie Fauset Nella Larsen and Zora Neale Hurston this text provides a literary pragmatist study of the archetypes tropes settings and modes of resistance that populate the narrative of creative democracy Above all this book considers how these philosophers and authors construct democracy as a lived experience that gains meaning not through state institutions but through communities founded on relationships among black women and their shared understandings of culture knowledge experience and rebellion Social Studies for Secondary Schools Alan J. Singer, 2003-04-02 Social Studies for Secondary Schools Teaching to Learn Learning to Teach Second Edition integrates discussions of educational goals and the nature of history and social studies with practical ideas for organizing social studies curricula units lessons projects and activities A major theme woven throughout the text is that what we choose to teach and the way we teach reflect our broader understanding of society history and the purposes of social studies education Each chapter opens with a broad question about social studies education provides many examples of lessons including lesson ideas developed by new and experienced middle school and high school social studies teachers features a rich variety of teaching learning and classroom activities designed to provoke discussion and illustrate different approaches to teaching social studies and concludes with essays about related social studies topics Part I focuses on philosophical issues social studies goals and standards and the design of social studies curricula Part II examines and offers examples of strategies for planning units and lessons Part III explores topics such as thematic and interdisciplinary teaching a project approach to social studies as well as assesses student learning and one's own performance as a teacher and provides a guide to social studies resource materials and organizations New in the Second Edition Every chapter has been updated and includes a number of new lesson ideas The lesson ideas are designed especially to help beginning teachers address learning standards work in inclusive settings and promote literacy and the use of technology in social studies classrooms Sample activities developed with members of the Hofstra New Teachers Network reflect the current focus on document based instruction and assessment and can serve as tools for assessing student learning Increased attention is given to project based social studies instruction and to multicultural education Intended as a text for undergraduate and graduate preservice social studies methods courses this text is also useful for in service training programs as a reference for new social studies teachers and as a resource for experienced social studies educators who are engaged in rethinking their teaching practice Angeliad Surazeus
