(Re)writing and Remembering James Dalrymple,Jonathan Fruoco, Virginia Sherman,2016-02-08 Recounting past events is intrinsic to the storytelling function as most fiction assumes the past tense as the natural means of narrating a story Few narratives draw attention to this process yet others make the act of remembering a primary part of the narrative situation Ranging in its focus from poetry to novels autobiographical memoirs and biopics from the ostensibly fictional to the implicitly real this volume discusses the extent to which such fictional acts of remembering are also acts of rewriting the past to suit the needs of the present How seamlessly does experience yield to the ordering strictures of narrative and what is at stake in the process What must be omitted or stylised and to what ideological end In making an artefact of the past what role does artifice play and what does this process also tell us about history making Remembrance of Meals Past Anita Legsdin,2014-05 This book is a collection of stories centered around food and memories associated with various dishes Do you have particular likes and dislikes of food based on past experiences Then you ll be able to sympathize with the characters in these stories Recipes are included Memory and Technology Jason R. Finley, Farah Naaz, Francine W. Goh,2018-11-12 How is technology changing the way people remember This book explores the interplay of memory stored in the brain internal memory and outside of the brain external memory providing a thorough interdisciplinary review of the current literature including relevant theoretical frameworks from across a variety of disciplines in the sciences arts and humanities It also presents the findings of a rich and novel empirical data set based on a comprehensive survey on the shifting interplay of internal and external memory in the 21st century Results reveal a growing symbiosis between the two forms of memory in our everyday lives The book presents a new theoretical framework for understanding the interplay of internal and external memory and their complementary strengths It concludes with a guide to important dimensions questions and methods for future research Memory and Technology will be of interest to researchers professors and students across the disciplines of psychology philosophy library and information science human factors media and cultural studies anthropology and archaeology photography and cognitive rehabilitation as well as anyone interested in how technology is affecting human memory ____ This is a novel book with interesting and valuable data on an important meaningful topic as well as a gathering of multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary ideas The research is accurately represented and inclusive As a teaching tool I can envision graduate seminars in different disciplines drawing on the material as the basis for teaching and discussions Dr Linda A Henkel Fairfield University This book documents the achievements of a vibrant scientific project you feel the enthusiasm of the authors for their research The organization of the manuscript introduces the reader into a comparatively new field the same way as pioneering authors have approached it Prof Dr Wolfgang Sch nplug Freie Universit t Berlin
