Metcalf, 2007 Imperial Connections challenges the Eurocentrism implicit in many accounts of modern European empires Focusing on the British empire when it was at its zenith Metcalf analyzes the pivotal role the Raj played in the running of the empire in regions as far flung from one another as say Egypt Uganda Natal and the Malay peninsula This innovative book is a real tour de force from a respected and versatile historian of India Dipesh Chakrabarty author of Provincializing Europe Postcolonial Thought and Historical Difference As he has done regularly throughout his career Thomas Metcalf has once again refreshed the study of British imperial history with a bold new perspective Imperial Connections puts South Asians soldiers policemen and labourers right at the heart of his study C A Bayly Cambridge University author of The Birth of the Modern World This is a distinctly original study which re centers colonial power in provocative ways Metcalf asks a simple question why were Indians so persistently to be found elsewhere in the British empire and in such significant numbers Then elegantly offers answers that force us to re think the operations of imperial power in critical ways Wide ranging elegantly written and meticulously researched Metcalf s is an important and a persuasive study Philippa Levine author of Prostitution Race and Politics Policing Venereal Disease in the British Empire and forthcoming The British Empire Sunrise to Sunset

Wedgwood Paul Mulvey, 2010 New study of the Radical politician Josiah Wedgwood setting him in context and illuminating many of the political issues of the time In his day Josh Wedgwood was one of Britain's best known and most outspoken Radical politicians He served in three wars and in a Parliamentary career lasting from 1906 to 1943 first with the Liberals and then with Labour he fought to uphold personal liberty and to limit the power of the state Instead of the collectivism of socialists or social imperialists Wedgwood advocated a Radical vision of Victorian Individualism as the solution to the problems of social inequality at home and growing threats abroad that Britain faced in the first half of the twentieth century His support of individual freedom a redistribution of landowner's wealth and a voluntary and democratic British Empire received only limited support in his own lifetime but he fought for them with vigour and passion throughout his career This study of his life throws new light upon some of the defining ideological and policy issues of the most turbulent period of modern British history PAUL MULVEY teaches at the London School of Economics

Women in Higher Education, 1850-1970 E. Lisa Panayotidis, Paul Stortz, 2017-09-19 This edited collection illustrates the way in which women's experiences of academe could be both contextually diverse but historically and culturally similar It looks at both the micro individual women and universities and macro level comparative analyses among regions and countries within regional national trans national and international contexts The contributors integrally advance knowledge about the university in history by exploring the intersections of the lived experiences of women students and professors practices of co education and intellectual and academic cultures They also raise important questions about the complementary and multidirectional flow and exchange of academic knowledge and information among gender groups across programmes disciplines and universities Historical inquiry and interpretation serve as efficacious ways with which to understand contemporary events and discourses in higher education and more broadly in community and society This book will provide important historical contexts for current debates about the numerical dominance and significance of women in higher education and the tensions embedded in the gendering of specific academic programs and disciplines and university policies missions and mandates
