specializing in anthropology modernism and African American studies with a special focus on the women of the Harlem Renaissance African American Women Writers' Historical Fiction A. Nunes, 2011-05-09 This volume explores African American historical fiction written by women in the last four decades of the twentieth century Nunes approach to the texts aims at emphasizing the narrative and thematic achievements of individual novels set in the context of the main trends and developments of the contemporary African American historical novel Encyclopedia of the Harlem Renaissance Aberjhani, Sandra L. West, 2003 Presents articles on the period known as the Harlem Renaissance during which African American artists poets writers thinkers and musicians flourished in Harlem New York Women's Fiction Deborah Philips, 2014-06-19 Now in its second edition and with new chapters covering such texts as Elizabeth Gilbert's Eat Pray Love and yummy mummy novels such as Allison Pearson's I Don't Know How She Does It this is a wide ranging survey of popular women's fiction from 1945 to the present Examining key trends in popular writing for women in each decade Women's Fiction offers case study readings of major British and American writers Through these readings the book explores how popular texts often neglected by feminist literary criticism have charted the shifting demands aspirations and expectations of women in the 20th and 21st centuries The Harvard Guide to African-American History Evelyn Brooks Higginbotham, 2001 This massive guide sponsored by the W E B Du Bois Institute for Afro American Research at Harvard University and compiled by renowned experts offers a compendium of information and interpretation on over 500 years of black experience in America African American Jazz and Rap James L. Conyers, Jr., 2015-11-03 Music is an expressive voice of a culture often more so than literature While jazz and rap are musical genres popular among people of numerous racial and social backgrounds they are truly important historically for their representation of and impact upon African American culture and traditions Essays offer interdisciplinary study of jazz and rap as they relate to black culture in America The essays are grouped under sections One examines an Afrocentric approach to understanding jazz and rap another the history culture performers instruments and political role of jazz and rap There are sections on the expressions of jazz in dance and literature rap music as art social commentary and commodity and the future Each essay offers insight and thoughtful discourse on these popular musical styles and their roles within the black community and in American culture as a whole References are included for each essay Remembering Generations Ashraf H. A. Rushdy, 2003-01-14 Slavery is America's family secret a partially hidden phantom that continues to haunt our national imagination Remembering Generations explores how three contemporary African American writers artistically represent this notion in novels about the enduring effects of slavery on the descendants of slaves in the post civil rights era Focusing on Gayl Jones's Corregidora 1975 David Bradley's The Chaneyville Incident 1981 and Octavia Butler's Kindred 1979 Ashraf Rushdy situates these works in their cultural moment of production highlighting the ways in which they respond to contemporary debates about race and family Tracing the evolution of this literary form he considers such works as Edward Ball's Slaves in the Family 1998 in which descendants of slaveholders expose the family secrets of their ancestors Remembering Generations examines how cultural works contribute to social debates how a particular representational form emerges out of a specific historical epoch and how some contemporary intellectuals meditate on the issue of historical responsibility of recognizing that the slave past continues to exert an influence on contemporary American society Fields Watered with Blood Maryemma Graham,2014-04-25

Representing an international gathering of scholars Fields Watered with Blood now available in paperback constituted the first critical assessment of the full scope of Margaret Walker's literary career As they discuss Walker's work including the landmark poetry collection For My People and the novel Jubilee the contributors reveal the complex interplay of concerns and themes in Walker's writing folklore and prophecy place and space history and politics gender and race In addition the contributors remark on how Walker's emphases on spirituality and on dignity in her daily life make themselves felt in her writings and show how Walker's accomplishments as a scholar teacher activist mother and family elder influenced what and how she wrote A brief biography an interview with literary critic Claudia Tate a chronology of major events in Walker's life and a selected bibliography round out this collection which will do much to further our understanding of the writer whom poet Nikki Giovanni once called the most famous person nobody knows Gendered Resistance Valérie Baisnée,2023-04-24

Four major women's autobiographies of the twentieth century are discussed together here for the first time Valérie Baisnée reinterprets the autobiographical writing of Simone De Beauvoir Maya Angelou Janet Frame and Marguerite Duras finding some striking similarities in these women's resistance to a conservative order Deploying a variety of theoretical approaches from linguistic to Marxist Baisnée endeavours to break the restrictive patterns of author-centred studies to go beyond simple oppositions between truth and fiction and to dispense with the facile interpretation of these texts as confessional For Valérie Baisnée Autobiography is meant to represent not the true but the official version of a life signed by the author herself and revered as hagiography by the public Instead of analysing women's autobiographies as confessional it is possible to see this mode of discourse as a means to counteract the effect of exposure of women's private lives By revealing their past however painful it may be the four autobiographers studied in this book also enhance their present strength and therefore underline the political nature of the autobiography Harriet Wilson's *Our Nig R.J. Ellis,2021-10-18

Addressed to all readers of Our Nig from professional scholars of African American writing through to a more general readership this book explores both Our Nig's key cultural contexts and its historical and literary significance as a narrative Harriet E Wilson's Our Nig 1859 is a startling tale of the mistreatment of a young African American mulatto woman Frado living in New England at a time when slavery though abolished in the North still existed in the South Frado a Northern free black yet treated as badly as many Southern slaves of the time is unforgettably portrayed as experiencing and resisting vicious mistreatment To achieve this disturbing portrait Harriet Wilson's book combines several different literary genres realist novel autobiography abolitionist slave narrative and sentimental fiction R.J. Ellis explores the relationship of Our Nig to these genres and additionally to laboring class writing Harriet Wilson was an indentured farm servant He identifies the way Our Nig stands as a double first the first separately published novel written in English by an African American female it is also one of the first by a member of the laboring class about the laboring class This study explores how as a result Our Nig tells a series of disturbing two stories about America's constitutional guarantee of freedom and the way these relate to Frado's farm life

Writings on Black Women of the Diaspora Lean'tin Bracks, 2019-05-23 Toni Morrison Alice Walker Paule Marshall and Mary Prince represent the best of African American women writers who draw on the tortuous legacy of their people as a source for their art revealing and defining themselves as they create compelling narratives that illuminate their roots their heritage and their unique culture The themes that suffuse their writing are family community strong women cultural memory oral history and slavery By analyzing the works of these four remarkable writers the study shows how today's black woman can take control of her destiny by coming to grips with an obscured and distorted past These original essays articulate the way in which historical awareness sensitivity to language and an understanding of stereotypes can empower enduring artistic visions in a world that is largely indifferent to marginal voices

Trumpeting a Fiery Sound Jacqueline Miller Carmichael, 2003-11-01 When twenty seven year old Margaret Walker's first collection of poems For My People won the Yale Poets Award in 1942 she was just beginning her long and distinguished career as a poet novelist biographer and teacher When her novel Jubilee was published to great acclaim in 1966 the New York Review of Books said It chronicles the triumph of a free spirit over many kinds of bondages Jubilee is noteworthy for being one of the first novels to present African American history from both a black and female perspective It is a historical and fictional account of Walker's great grandmother's life from slavery through Reconstruction as told to Walker by her maternal grandmother In Trumpeting a Fiery Sound Jacqueline Miller Carmichael examines the novel's genesis and composition the process of revision and publication the work's structure and narrative strategies its use of history and folklore and its critical reception in the three decades since its first publication

Badger, 1996 Tracing the development of African American political thought since the 1960s The Making of Martin Luther King and the Civil Rights Movement offers a new look at the contemporary legacy of the civil rights movement

Gender in Lorraine Hansberry's A Raisin in the Sun Gary Wiener, 2011-02-10 The landmark play A Raisin in the Sun takes its title from a Langston Hughes poem which poses the questions What happens to a dream deferred Does it dry up like a raisin in the sun Focusing on a working class African American family in Chicago who save enough to purchase either a business in a black neighborhood or a house in a white neighborhood the play exposes issues of racism and gender as the women of the family make important decisions that push against both racial and gender lines This volume discusses gender in the play looking at how the female characters fight both racism and male chauvinism how the play is dominated by strong female characters and how characters resist the stereotype of the emasculating female The book also presents contemporary perspectives on race and feminism in
