Looking at Art Peter V. Moak, 2016-09-06 This guide contains a new approach to looking at and appreciating art. One not found elsewhere. It makes you aware of abilities you already have to see things in various ways. The key to these abilities is what I call the visual ego the place between your eyes from which you see the world. The guide then describes a series of particular ways of seeing and making works of art. Finally it applies these ways which I call perspectives to works of art painting sculpture architecture and the decorative arts covering a period of some seventy thousand years. The results I find to be amazing including new understandings and appreciation of many works of art and artists and their place in the history of art.

The Art of Looking Lance Esplund, 2018-11-27 A veteran art critic helps us make sense of modern and contemporary art. The landscape of contemporary art has changed dramatically during the last hundred years from Malevich's 1915 painting of a single black square and Duchamp's 1917 signed porcelain urinal to Jackson Pollock's midcentury drip paintings Chris Burden's Shoot 1971 in which the artist was voluntarily shot in the arm with a rifle Urs Fischer's You 2007 a giant hole dug in the floor of a New York gallery and the conceptual and performance art of today's Ai Weiwei and Marina Abramovic. The shifts have left the art viewing public understandably perplexed. In The Art of Looking renowned art critic Lance Esplund demonstrates that works of modern and contemporary art are not as indecipherable as they might seem. With patience insight and wit Esplund guides us through the last century of art and empowers us to approach and appreciate it with new eyes. Eager to democratize genres that can feel inaccessible Esplund encourages viewers to trust their own taste guts and common sense. The Art of Looking will open the eyes of viewers who think that recent art is obtuse nonsensical and irrelevant as well as the eyes of those who believe that the art of the past has nothing to say to our present.

A Forest of Ideas BLAKE PARKER, 2014-08-14 Blake Parker worked on this series of writings in the last year of his life while he lived with a terminal diagnosis of cancer It is a mixture of poetry dialogues book reports and short essays formed as a sort of shorthand to a number of concepts primarily from sociology and anthropology which he saw as useful if not actually essential for understanding symbolic interpretation and the essence of the therapeutic process within a social and cultural context He designed the psychoanalytic and therapeutic diagrams to clarify concepts and as teaching aids for art therapy students and therapists Blake uses a phenomenological understanding of metaphor in order to throw light upon the process of social construction creativity and conceptions of mysticism or spirituality The book includes some of his personal reflections regarding death dying creativity and the meaning of life The notes are essentially a hermeneutic of mysticism a moving from the parts to the whole and the whole to the parts It is a forest of ideas and ramblings in interpretive frameworks that emerged and is presented in a circular spiral The Roman Gaze
