Managing the Public Debt in Fiscal Stabilizations Alessandro Missale, Francesco Giavazzi, Pierpaolo Benigno, 1997 This paper provides evidence on the behavior of public debt managers during fiscal stabilizations in OECD countries over the last two decades We find that debt maturity tends to lengthen the more credible the program the lower the long term interest rate and the higher the volatility of short term interest rates We show that this debt issuing strategy is consistent with optimal debt management if information between the government and private investors is asymmetric as is usually the case at the outset of a stabilization attempt when private investors may lack full confidence in the announced budget cuts The Stability and Growth Pact A.
