Digital Hampi: Preserving Indian Cultural Heritage Anupama Mallik, Santanu Chaudhury, Vijay Chandru, Sharada Srinivasan, 2018-03-31 The book represents the culmination of a hugely successful heritage preservation project initiated by the Government of India's Department of Science and Technology It presents extensive research on the digital preservation of the history mythology art architecture and culture of the world heritage site Hampi in Karnataka the seat of the Vijayanagara dynasty in medieval India Further the book introduces readers to a range of techniques developed by Indian technical research groups for digitally preserving both the tangible and intangible cultural heritage of the region. These techniques are sufficiently generic to be applied in heritage preservation efforts for other historical sites around the world as well. Technological advances have made it possible to not only create digital archives of these heritage artifacts but to also share these resources for people to view, explore, experience, and analyze. This book showcases how cutting edge technology can be combined with cultural and historical research to digitize and preserve heritage. It is the consolidation of work conducted under the Indian Digital Heritage project, a unique initiative of the Department of Science Technology DST Government of India. The project involved collaboration between researchers in the areas of Technology, Computer Science, Architecture, and the Humanities for the digital documentation and interpretation of India's tangible and intangible heritage. It highlights the art, architecture, and cultural legacy of the world heritage site of Hampi in Karnataka, the medieval capital of the 14th-16th century Vijayanagara dynasty. The contributors to this book are scientists and technology experts from prominent academic institutes in India, such as the IITs, Indian Institutes of Technology, NIIT, and NID, National Institute of Design, working in collaboration with some of India's top architects, art historians, anthropologists, heritage groups, and multi-disciplinary cultural institutions such as the National Institute of Advanced Studies, NIAS. Their papers will introduce readers to cutting edge technologies from research areas such as computer vision, 3D modeling, and artificial intelligence as they are employed to preserve art and culture in the digital domain. The book is divided into four parts. Part 1 details efforts and techniques for modeling and representing the tangible heritage of Hampi, such as the reconstruction of damaged structures, realistic walk-throughs, and haptic rendering. Part 2 includes chapters detailing the analysis and digital restoration of artifacts such as mural paintings, inscriptions, and sculptures, as well as mobile-based visual search for artifacts. Part 3 includes chapters on conjectural reconstructions of the architectural, life, social life, and traditions of Hampi. Lastly, Part 4 addresses the knowledge-based archiving and exploration of cultural heritage.

The Rock-cut Temples of Western India Dulari Qureshi, 2010. The present book entitled Rock Cut Temples of Western India is an exhaustive book that covers all the caves of Western India. The book is the need of the times as a more researched book. A more detailed book on Western Caves has not been published after James Burgess and James Fergusson. Modern viewpoints and deeper understanding of the caves was essential. The study required huge travel around the caves; it was difficult to access some caves. Since there are no facilities around, photography was extremely perplexing. However, the book was completed within a span of three and a half years. Focus of the book is on the evolution of the chaitya and the vihara caves, as well as an comprehensive documentation of all the caves. Each cave was carefully studied and their architectural, cultural details were documented. A comparative study too has been included as similarities and dissimilarities establish a more authentic dating in case of absence of inscriptions. The book also throws light on many unidentified sculptures. The special contribution of the book is the inclusion of practically all caves, even some caves that were not included by James Burgess and

Fergusson like the unknown caves of Kol Yerphal Pohale Nadsur and Nenavali Some of these caves are simply in accessible Besides all the documentation the book has also taken special pains to assess and evaluate the present conditions of all these monuments as after a gap of many years many cave groups are in an extremely bad condition Those caves under ASI are in fairly good condition though of course caves like Ajanta where the painting despite commendable development and conservation work being done are in a bad condition due to climatic and other geographical and man made reasons In the study major scholars work has been referred to as their contribution is significant
