Da'ath Magic for Beginners Harry Eilenstein, 2021-06-22 Usually magic begins with simple telepathy experiments the production of talismans telekinesis experiments and the like However these beginnings which mainly show that magic is possible can be increased significantly first by practice then by recognizing one's own soul and finally by one pointedness invocations presence and the like Thus simple ordinary magic can eventually be increased to extraordinary magic to miracles such as firewalks spontaneous healings and materializations For this no craftsmanship no special rituals or spells no secret traditions and the like are necessary but a certain consciousness which in the Kabbalistic tradition is called Da'ath This is the state of letting go and of boundlessness The way to it can be sudden which can be felt as a jumping into a bottomless abyss Or it can be approached gradually in which case it can be one of the most pleasant states of all a smile like Buddha a boundaryless consciousness like the gods have a fully conscious collective subconsciousness just Da'ath

Letters of Light Kalonymus Kalman Epstein, Aryeh

Wineman, 2015-02-06 Letters of Light is a translation of over ninety passages from a well known Hasidic text Ma or va shemesh consisting of homilies of Kalonymus Kalman Epstein of Krakow together with a running commentary and analysis by Aryeh Wineman With remarkable creativity the Krakow preacher recast biblical episodes and texts through the prism both of the pietistic values of Hasidism with its accent on the inner life and the Divine innerness of all existence and of his ongoing wrestling with questions of the primacy of the individual vis a vis that of the community The commentary traces the route leading from the Torah text itself through various later sources to the Krakow preacher's own reading of the biblical text one that often transforms the very tenor of the text he was expounding Though composed almost two centuries ago Ma or va Shemesh comprises an impressive spiritual statement many parts of which can speak to our own time and its spiritual strivings

Ontology and Closeness in Human-Nature Relationships Neil H. Kessler, 2018-10-10 In Ontology and Closeness in Human Nature Relationships Neil H Kessler identifies the preconceptions which can keep the modern human mind in the dark about what is happening

relationally between humans and the more than human world He has written an accessible work of environmental philosophy with a focus on the ontology of human nature relationships In it he contends that large scale environmental problems are intimate and relational in origin He also challenges the deeply embedded modernist assumptions about the relational limitations of more than human beings ones which place erroneous limitations on the possibilities for human more than human closeness Diverging from the posthumanist literature and its frequent reliance on new materialist ontology the arguments in the book attempt to sweep away what ecofeminists call human nature dualisms In doing so conceptual avenues open up that have the power to radically alter how we engage in our daily interactions with the more than human world all around us Given the diversity of fields and disciplines focused on the human nature relationship the topics of this book vary quite broadly but always converge at the nexus of what is possible between humans and more than human beings The discussion interweaves the influence of human nature dualisms with the limitations of Deleuzian becoming and posthumanism s new materialism and agential realism It leverages interhuman interdependence theory Charles Peirce s synechism of feeling and various treatments of Theory of Mind while exploring the influence of human nature dualisms on sustainability place attachment common worlds pedagogy emergence and critical animal studies It also explores the implications of plant electrical activity plant intelligence and plant neurobiology for possibilities of relational capacities in plants while even grappling with theories of animism to challenge the animate inanimate divide The result is an engaging novel treatment of human nature relational ontology that will encourage the reader to look at the world in a whole new way

The Little Book of More Lynda Reid EdD PCC,2018-07-30 Many of us live overwhelmed in todays always on culture The yin and yang of technology allow us the freedom to work from anywhere yet restricts our ability to let go reflect process and revive In our viral state of multitasking and simultaneously attempting to control all the multiple aspects of our lives we lose sight of our bigger picture our purpose and what truly gives meaning and value to our lives We rob ourselves of our potential The concept of MORE is an acronym for four essential elementsmeaning owning relationships and emotions It is by focusing on and fostering these four elements that we grow and evolve into our potential Learn how to live your MORE Magical Realism in Twenty-First-Century Transnational Fiction D. Chichester,2025-09-25 Magical Realism in Twenty First Century Transnational Fiction The Global Supernatural offers a much needed re evaluation of magical realism moving beyond traditional postcolonial frameworks to explore its vibrant evolution in the 21st century Analysing the works of contemporary authors like Helen Oyeyemi Mohsin Hamid Preeta Samarasan and Junot Diaz this book explores how magical realism has been adapted to depict the complex fluid identities and experiences of migrants and their children in a globalised world By employing the psychoanalytic concept of relationality it examines the intricate interplay between cultures beliefs and personal narratives Challenging outdated notions of magic versus realism this study reveals how the supernatural is used to express the disorientation paradox and trauma of transnational lives This book is essential for anyone seeking to understand
