Causey Whittow, 1999-10-14 Sturkie's Avian Physiology is the classic comprehensive single volume on the physiology of domestic as well as wild birds The Fifth Edition is thoroughly revised and updated and includes new chapters on the physiology of incubation and growth Chapters on the nervous system and sensory organs have been greatly expanded due to the many recent advances in the field The text also covers the physiology of flight reproduction in both male and female birds and the immunophysiology of birds The Fifth Edition like the earlier editions is a must for anyone interested in comparative physiology poultry science veterinary medicine and related fields This volume establishes the standard for those who need the latest and best information on the physiology of birds Thoroughly updated and revised Coverage of both domestic and wild birds New larger format Only comprehensive single volume devoted to birds Behaviour Analysis and Contemporary Psychology C. F. Lowe, M. Richelle, D. E. Blackman, C. M. Bradshaw, 2022-11-01 Originally published in 1985 Behaviour Analysis and Contemporary Psychology presents chapters from the first European Meeting on the Experimental Analysis of Behaviour The book is divided into six parts and provides a useful account of issues and work in behaviour analysis by both European and North American contributors at the time The first part provides an introduction with following parts looking at behaviourist and ethological approaches determinants of human operant behaviour fundamental research and behaviour modification recent developments in the behavioural analysis of drug effects ending with an overview of contemporary behaviourism Comparative Neurology of the Telencephalon Sven O. Ebbesson, 2012-12-06 When a young graduate student sat before Percival Bailey in 1960 and spoke of his longstanding interest in zoology and his recent interest in the nervous system he asked the then Director of the Illinois Neuropsychiatric Institute if there was support in the scientific establishment for research in evolutionary comparative neurology Bailey patted his abdomen with both hands and thought for a moment Finally he said Young man there is no place for people like you The graduate student was crestfallen To a large extent what Bailey said is still true The greater part of research in neurobiology is directed toward answering a single broad question How do brains in general and the human brain in particular work This is a legitimate and important question It is not however the only question worth answering This overweening emphasis on function especially in regard to the human nervous is a result of the origins of neurology in the clinic The professional school system site of most such research has been remarkably well insulated from many of the major concerns of biology Research Awards Index, 1989 Research Grants Index National Institutes of Health (U.S.). Division of Research Grants, 1975 The Central Nervous System of Vertebrates Rudolf Nieuwenhuys, Hendrik Jan Donkelaar, Charles Nicholson, 1998 This comprehensive reference is clearly destined to become the definitive anatomical basis for all molecular neuroscience research The three volumes provide a complete overview and comparison of the structural organisation of all vertebrate groups ranging from amphioxus and lamprey through fishes amphibians and birds to mammals This thus allows a systematic treatment of the concepts and methodology found in modern comparative neuroscience Neuroscientists comparative morphologists and anatomists will all benefit from 1 200 detailed and standardised neuroanatomical drawings the illustrations were painstakingly hand drawn by a team of graphic designers specially commissioned by the authors over a period of 25 years functional correlations of vertebrate brains concepts and methodology of modern comparative neuroscience five full colour posters giving an overview of the central nervous system of the vertebrates ideal for mounting and display This monumental work is and will remain unique the only source of such brilliant illustrations at both the macroscopic and microscopic levels Brain, Behavior and Evolution ,1994 Neural and Behavioural Plasticity R. J. Andrew,1991 Presents a review of all the main aspects of work on learning and plasticity in behaviour and neural mechanisms in the chick together with related topics such as the development of behaviour and lateralization of function The Triune Brain in Evolution P.D. MacLean,1990-01-31 This is MacLean s major work on the evolutionary development of the human brain In its evolution the human forebrain expands along the lines of three basic formations that anatomical and biochemically reflect an ancestral relationship respectively to reptiles early mammals and late mammals MacLean describes this as the Triune Brain Amazon com viewed July 29 2020

Motivation Evelyn Satinoff,Philip Teitelbaum,2013-11-11 Motivation addresses a central problem in psychology Why does an animal s behavior fluctuate in the face of an unaltered environment In a sense this is the opposite of the question from which work on motivation began and for which Claude Bernard invented the concept of the fixity of the internal milieu How does an animal maintain constancy in the face of a fluctuating environment Dealing with motivation has become extremely complex as new experiments phenomena and theories have extended the concept This book embodies some of the ways in which work on motivation is currently proceeding One of the major changes has been the recognition that motivation cannot be explained without an understanding of the biological rhythms and activational systems that underlie behavior Another is that ecological and evolutionary perspectives add enormously to answering the central problem of why an animal does what it does when it does The book suffers from several omissions There is no chapter on the development of motivated behavior There is none on reward systems in the brain owing to the untimely death of James Olds whose contribution would have enriched this book appreciably and to whom we dedicate it EVELYN SATINOFF PHILIP TEITELBAUM VII Contents
