monograph attempts to illustrate the uniqueness compatibility and adaptability of classical Chinese poetry in colonial Singapore as well as its sustained connections with literary tradition and homeland It demonstrates how the reading of classical Chinese poetry can better our understanding of Singapore s political social and cultural history deepen knowledge of the transregional relationship between China and Nanyang and fine tune redress and enrich our perception of Singapore Chinese literature Sinophone literature the Chinese diaspora and global Chinese identity Our Ancient National Airs: Scottish Song Collecting from the Enlightenment to the Romantic Era Karen McAulay,2016-05-13 One of the earliest documented Scottish song collectors actually to go into the field to gather his specimens was the Highlander Joseph Macdonald Macdonald emigrated in 1760 contemporaneously with the start of James Macpherson s famous but much disputed Ossian project and it fell to the Revd Patrick Macdonald to finish and subsequently publish his younger brother s collection Karen McAulay traces the complex history of Scottish song collecting and the publication of major Highland and Lowland collections over the ensuing 130 years Looking at sources authenticity collecting methodology and format McAulay places these collections in their cultural context and traces links with contemporary attitudes towards such wide ranging topics as the embryonic tourism and travel industry cultural nationalism fakery and forgery literary and musical creativity and the move from antiquarianism and dilettantism towards an increasingly scholarly and didactic tone in the mid to late Victorian collections Attention is given to some of the performance issues raised either in correspondence or in the paratexts of published collections and the narrative is interlaced with references to contemporary literary social and even political history as it affected the collectors themselves Most significantly this study demonstrates a resurgence of cultural nationalism in the late nineteenth century The Nation ,1866 Living Nations, Living Words: An Anthology of First Peoples Poetry Joy Harjo,2021-05-04 A powerful moving anthology that celebrates the breadth of Native poets writing today Joy Harjo the first Native poet to serve as U S Poet Laureate has championed the voices of Native peoples past and present Her signature laureate project gathers the work of contemporary Native poets into a national fully digital map of story sound and space celebrating their vital and unequivocal contributions to American poetry This companion anthology features each poem and poet from the project including Natalie Diaz Ray Young Bear Craig Santos Perez Sherwin Bitsui and Layli Long Soldier among others to offer readers a chance to hold the wealth of poems in their hands The chosen poems reflect on the theme of place and displacement and circle the touchpoints of visibility persistence resistance and acknowledgment Each poem showcases as Joy Harjo writes in her stirring introduction that heritage is a living thing and there can be no heritage without land and the relationships that outline our kinship In this country poetry is rooted in the more than five hundred living indigenous nations Living Nations Living Words is a representative offering The National Cyclopaedia of American Biography ,1899 American Book Publishing Record ,2003 Nations of Nothing But Poetry Matthew Hart,2010-04-22 Modernism is typically associated with novelty and urbanity So what happens when poets identify small communities and local languages with the spirit of transnational modernity Are vernacular poetries inherently provincial or implicitly xenophobic How did modernist poets use vernacular language to re imagine the relations between people their languages and the communities in which they live Nations of Nothing But Poetry answers these questions through case studies of British Caribbean and American poetries from the 1920s through the 1990s With a combination of fresh insights and attentive close readings Matthew Hart presents a new theory of a synthetic vernacular writing that explores the aesthetic and ideological tensions within modernism s dual commitments to the local and the global The result is an invigorating contribution to the field of transnational modernist studies Chapters focus on a mixture of canonical and non canonical writers combining new literary histories such as the story of how Melvin B Tolson while a resident of Oklahoma was appointed Poet Laureate of Liberia with analyses of poems by Gertrude Stein W H Auden Ezra Pound and T S Eliot More broadly the book reveals how the language of modernist poetry was shaped by the incompletely globalized nature of a world in which the nation state continued to be a primary mediator of cultural and political identity even as its authority was challenged as never before Through deft juxtaposition Hart develops a new interpretation of modernist poetry in English one that disrupts the critical opposition between nationalism and the transnational paving the way for a political history of modernist cosmopolitanism
