A Subject Index to Current Literature Australian Public Affairs Information Service, Maps of War Jeremy Black, 2018-10-18 A magnificent visual survey of how conflict was recorded and planned using maps produced at the time to reveal how warfare and its documentation has changed through the centuries There is little documented mapping of conflict prior to the Renaissance period but from the 17th century onwards military commanders and strategists began to document the wars in which they were involved and later to use mapping to actually plan the progress of a conflict Using contemporary maps this sumptuous new volume covers the history of the mapping of war on land and shows the way in which maps provide a guide to the history of war Content includes The beginnings of military mapping up to 1600 including the impact of printing and the introduction of gunpowder The seventeenth century The focus is on maps to illustrate war rather than as a planning tool and the chapter considers the particular significance of maps of fortifications The eighteenth century The growing need for maps on a world scale reflects the spread of European power and of transoceanic conflict between Europeans This chapter focuses in particular on the American War of Independence The nineteenth century Key developments included contouring and the creation of military surveying Subjects include the Napoleonic Wars and the American Civil War The twentieth century including extended features on the First and Second World Wars including maps showing trench warfare and aerial reconnaissance Much of the chapter focuses on the period from 1945 to the present day including special sections on the Vietnam War and the Gulf Wars Family History and Historians in Australia and New Zealand Malcolm Allbrook, Sophie Scott-Brown, 2021-06-27 Since the turn of the twenty first century family history is the place where two great oceans of research are meeting family historians outside the academy with traditionally trained often university employed historians This collection is both a testament to dialogue and an analysis of the dynamics of recent family history that derives from the confluence of professional historians with family historians their common causes and conversations It brings together leading and emerging Australian and New Zealand scholars to consider the relationship between family history and the discipline of history and the potential of family history to extend the scope of historical inquiry even to revitalise the discipline In Anglo Western culture the roots of the discipline s professionalisation lay in efforts to reconstruct history as objective knowledge to extend its subject matter and to enlarge the scale of historical enquiry Family history almost by definition is often inescapably personal and localised How then have historians responded to this resurgence of interest in the personal and the local and how has it influenced the thought and practice of historical enquiry A Cultural History of the Bushranger Legend in Theatres and Cinemas, 1828-2017 Andrew James Couzens, 2019-01-31 A Cultural History of the Bushranger Legend in Theatres and Cinemas 1828-2017 is a multidisciplinary investigation into the history of cultural representations of the bushranger legend on the stage and screen charting that history from its origins in colonial theatre works performed while bushrangers still roamed Australia's bush to contemporary Australian cinema It considers the influences of industrial political and social disruptions on these representations as well as their contributions to those disruptions The cultural history recounted in this book provides not only an insight into the role of popular narrative representations of bushrangers in the development and reflection of Australian character but also a detailed case study of the specific mechanisms at work in the symbiosis between a nation's values and its creative production Remarkable Occurrences National Library of Australia, 2001 Encyclopedia of Library History Wayne A. Wiegand, Donald G. Jr. Davis, 2015-01-28 First Published in 1994 This book focuses on the historical development of the library as an institution Its contents assume no single theoretical foundation or philosophical perspective but instead reflect the richly diverse opinions of its many contributors This text is intended to serve as a reference tool for undergraduate and graduate students interested in library history for library school educators whose teaching requires knowledge of the historical development of library institutions services and user groups and for practicing library professionals
