Native Californians A Theoretical Retrospective:

Native Californians Lowell John Bean, Thomas C. Blackburn, 1976 Craft Specialization in the Prehistoric Channel Islands, California Jeanne E. Arnold, 1987-01-01 California-Oregon Transmission Project and the Los Banos-Gates Transmission Project (CA,OR,WA), 1988 Foundations of Chumash Complexity Jeanne E. Arnold, 2005-12-31 This volume highlights the latest research on the foundations of sociopolitical complexity in coastal California. The populous maritime societies of southern California, particularly the groups known collectively as the Chumash, have gone largely unrecognized as prototypical complex hunter-gatherers only recently beginning to emerge from the shadow of their more celebrated counterparts on the Northwest Coast of North America. While Northwest cultures are renowned for such complex institutions as ceremonial potlaches, slavery, cedar plank house villages, and rich artistic traditions, the Chumash are increasingly recognized as complex hunter-gatherers with a different set of organizational characteristics ascribed chiefly leadership, a strong maritime economy based on oceangoing canoes, an integrative ceremonial system, and intensive and highly specialized craft production activities. Chumash sites provide some of the most robust data on these subjects available in the Americas. Contributors present stimulating new analyses of household and village organization, ceremonial specialists, craft specializations, and settlement data, cultural transmission processes, bead manufacturing practices, watercraft, and the acquisition of prized marine species. Narratives of Persistence Lee Panich, 2021-04-13 Narratives of Persistence charts the remarkable persistence of California's Ohlone and Paipai people over the past five centuries. Lee M. Panich draws connections between the events and processes of the deeper past and the way the Ohlone and Paipai today understand their own histories and identities. Indians, Missionaries, and Merchants Kent G. Lightfoot, 2006-11-20 Lightfoot examines the interactions between Native American communities in California, the earliest colonial settlements, those of Russian pioneers, Franciscan missionaries. He compares the history of the different ventures, their legacies that still help define the political status of native people. Mead/McCullough-Victorville/Adelanto Transmission Project (NV,CA), 1986 Prehistoric Exchange Systems in North America Timothy G. Baugh, Jonathon E. Ericson, 2013-03-14 In this unique volume, archaeologists examine the changing economic structure of trade in North America over a period of 6,000 years. Organized by geographical and chronological divisions, each chapter focuses on trade in one of nine regions from the Archaic through the late prehistoric period. Each contribution explores neighboring areas to illustrate the complexity of North American exchange. By charting the economic structure of these regions, archaeologists, economic anthropologists, and economic geographers gain greater insight into the dynamics of North American trade and exchange on a continental-wide basis. The Spanish Missionary Heritage of the United States United States National Park Service, 1993 Archaeologies of Sexuality Robert A. Schmidt, Barbara L. Voss, 2005-06-28 Status, age, and gender have long been accepted aspects of archaeological enquiry, yet it is only recently that archaeologists have started seriously to consider the role of sex and sexuality in their studies.

Archaeologies of Sexuality is a timely and pioneering work. It presents a strong diverse body of scholarship which draws on locations as varied as medieval England, the ancient Maya kingdoms, New Kingdom Egypt, prehistoric Europe, and convict era Australia, demonstrating the challenges and rewards of integrating the study of sex and sexuality within archaeology. This volume, with contributions by many leading archaeologists, will serve both as an essential introduction and a valuable reference tool for students and academics.

“And in Length of Days Understanding” (Job 12:12) Erez Ben-Yosef, Ian W. N. Jones, 2023-08-01. This two-volume book presents cutting edge archaeological research primarily as practiced in the Eastern Mediterranean region. These volumes' key foci are inspired by the work of Thomas E. Levy. Volume 1 provides an in-depth look at new archaeological research in the southern Levant, primarily in modern Israel and Jordan, inspired by Levy's commitment to understanding social, political, and economic processes in a long-term or deep-time perspective. Volume 2 focuses on new research in several key areas of 21st-century anthropological archaeology and archaeological science. Volume 1 is organized around two major themes: 1) the later prehistory of the southern Levant, or the Neolithic, Chalcolithic, and Bronze Age; and 2) new research in biblical archaeology or the historical archaeology of the Iron Age. Each section contains a combination of new perspectives on key debates and studies, introducing new research questions and directions. Volume 2 is organized around five major themes: 1) the archaeology of the Faynan copper ore district of southern Jordan, a key region for archaeometallurgical research in West Asia where Levy conducted field research for over a decade; 2) new research in archaeometallurgy beyond the Faynan region; 3) marine and maritime archaeology focusing on issues of trade and environmental change; 4) cyber archaeology, an important 21st-century field Levy conceived as the marriage of archaeology, engineering, computer science, and the natural sciences; and 5) key issues in anthropological archaeological theory. In addition to presenting the reader with an up-to-date view of research in each of these areas, the volume also has chapters exploring the connections between these themes, e.g., the maritime trade of metals and cyber-digital archaeological approaches to metallurgy. The work contains contributions from both up-and-coming early-career researchers and key established figures in their fields. This book is an essential reference for archaeologists and scholars in related disciplines working in the southern Levant and the Eastern Mediterranean.

Narratives and Journeys in Rock Art: A Reader George Nash, Aron Mazel, 2018-11-19. Why publish a Reader? Today it is relatively easy and convenient to switch on your computer and download an academic paper. However, as many scholars have experienced, historic references are difficult to access. Moreover, some are now lost and are merely references in later papers. This can be frustrating.
