Multicultural Approaches to Health and Wellness in America Regan A. R. Gurung, 2014-04-21 Led by a UCLA trained health psychologist a team of experts describes non traditional treatments that are quickly becoming more common in Western society documenting cultural variations in health and sickness practices to underscore the diversity among human society This unique two volume set describes the variety of cultural approaches to health practiced by people of varying cultural heritages and places them in stark context with traditional Western approaches to health care and medicine Examining health practices such as Ayurveda an ancient system of medicine that focuses on the body the sense organs the mind and the soul and traditional Chinese medicine TCM the author examines why these different approaches can explain some of the cultural variations in health behaviors differences in why people get sick and how they cope with illness Traditional health care providers of all kinds including clinicians counselors doctors nurses and social workers will all greatly benefit by learning about vastly different approaches to health while general readers and scholars alike will gain insight into the rich diversity of world culture and find the material fascinating Landscapes of Defence John R. Gold, George Revill, 2014-09-15 This is a key text on the very topical themes of power defence and space Landscapes of Defence is an exciting collection of theoretical and empirical material from very well known contributors designed to help students understand how landscapes of defence fit in with some of the broader concepts of space power and place to which they are introduced in the 1st year The book is split into four sections and each section contains an introduction placing the subsequent chapters in context There is also a comprehensive introduction and afterword to tie the book's broad themes together 2nd and 3rd year undergraduates in urban and cultural geography will be the key market for this title as well as strong secondary market in departments of Sociology Anthropology Law and Planning Clearing the Plains James William Daschuk, 2013 In arresting but harrowing prose James Daschuk examines the roles that Old World diseases climate and most disturbingly Canadian politics the politics of ethnocide played in the deaths and subjugation of thousands of aboriginal people in the realization of Sir John A Macdonald's National Dream It was a dream that came at great expense the present disparity in health and economic well being between First Nations and non Native populations and the lingering racism and misunderstanding that permeates the national consciousness to this day Clearing the Plains is a tour de force that dismantles and destroys the view that Canada has a special claim to humanity in its treatment of indigenous peoples Daschuk shows how infectious disease and state supported starvation combined to create a creeping relentless catastrophe that persists to the present day The prose is gripping the analysis is incisive and the narrative is so chilling that it leaves its reader stunned and disturbed For days after reading it I was unable to shake a profound sense of sorrow This is fearless evidence driven history at its finest Elizabeth A Fenn author of Pox Americana Required reading for all Canadians Candace Savage author of A Geography of Blood Clearly written deeply researched and properly contextualized history Essential reading for everyone interested in the history of indigenous North America J R McNeill author of Mosquito Empires The Navajo as Seen by the Franciscans, 1898-1921 Howard M. Bahr, 2004-06-24 Utilizing both primary and secondary materials this sourcebook presents the views of the Franciscan missionaries to the Navajo people both in their personal writings and in national publications and mission magazines addressing the Catholic laity and potential donors Select Bibliographic Index ,1997

American Multicultural Studies Sherrow O. Pinder,2013 American Multicultural Studies Diversity of Race Ethnicity Gender and Sexuality provides an interdisciplinary view of multicultural studies in the United States addressing a wide range of topics that continue to define and shape this area of study Through this collection of essays Sherrow Pinder responds to the need to open up a rich avenue for addressing current and continuing issues of race gender ethnicity sexuality cultural diversity and education in their varied forms Substantial thematic overlaps are found between sections and essays all of which are oriented toward a single broad objective to develop new and different ways of addressing how multicultural issues in their discursive sociocultural contexts are inextricably linked to the operations of power Power as a site of resistance to which it invariably gives rise is tackled from a perspective that attends to the complexities of America s history and politics
