Provides cooperative education and internship professionals and researchers design carry out and disseminate quality research and evaluation studies Highlights key programs and shows how to demonstrate sound learning outcomes Publisher description African Minorities in the New World Toyin Falola,Niyi Afolabi,2007-11-13 This book uncovers the reality that new African immigrants now represent a significant force in the configuration of American polity and identity especially in the last forty years Despite their minority status African immigrants are making their marks in various areas of human endeavor and accomplishments from academic to business to even scientific inventions The demographic shift is both welcome news as well as a matter for concern given the consequences of displacement and the paradoxes of exile in the new location By its very connection to the Old African Diaspora the notion of a New African Diaspora marks a clear indication of a historical progression reconnecting continental Africa with the New World without the stigma of slavery Yet the notion of trans Atlantic slavery is never erased when the African diaspora is mentioned whether in the old or new world Within this paradoxical dispensation the new African diaspora must be conceived as the aftermath of a global migration crisis

Memories of Africa Toyin Falola,2023-03-24 2023 CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title Memories of Africa Home and

Abroad in the United States suggests a new lens for viewing African Diaspora studies the experiences of African memoirists who live in the United States The book shows how African Diaspora memoirs beautifully and grippingly depict the experiences of African migrants over time through political social and cultural spheres In reading African Diaspora memoirs from the transatlantic slave trade period to the present a reader can understand the complexity of the African migrant legacy and evolution Author Toyin Falola argues that memoirs are significant not only in their interpretation of events conveyed by the memoirists but also in demonstrating how interpersonal and human the stories told can be Memoirs are powerful

because they are emotionally captivating and because important themes and events circulate around a particular person in this case the memoirist Undoubtedly a memoir is significant because it can teach anyone about a part of the human experience even if the facts are not described without bias Through this sort of narrative the reader cannot help but enter into the memoirist's mind and therefore feel more empathy for them In doing so the reader can feel what the memoirist feels and see what the memoirist sees as clearly as is humanly possible In this way the historical events and life lessons become tangible and poignantly real to the reader

Black is the Journey, Africana the Name Maboula Soumahoro, 2021-09-23 In this highly original book Maboula Soumahoro explores the cultural and political vastness of the Black Atlantic where Africa Europe and the Americas were tied together by the brutal realities of the slave trade and colonialism Each of these spaces has its own way of reading the Black body and the Black experience and its own modes of visibility invisibility silence and amplification of Black life By weaving together her personal history with that of France and its abiding myth of color blindness Maboula Soumahoro highlights the banality and persistence of structural racism in France today and shows that freedom will be found in the journey and movement between the sites of the Atlantic triangle Africana is the name of that freedom How can we build and reflect on a collective diasporic identity through a personal journey What are the limits and possibilities of this endeavor when the personal journey is that of oft erased bodies and stories de humanized lives and when Black populations in Africa the Americas and Europe identify and misidentify with each other their sensibilities shaped by the particular locales in which their lives unfold This book makes an important intellectual contribution to contemporary public conversations and theoretical inquiry into race racism blackness and identity today as it probes and questions the academic methodologies that have functioned as structures of exclusion Myth

Performance in the African Diasporas Benita Brown, Dannabang Kuwabong, Christopher Olsen, 2013-12-24 Diaspora studies continue to expand in range and scope and remain fertile terrain for investigating multiple techniques of myth creation in dance performance history as performance dramatic narrative and staged rituals in the field Similarly research in postcoloniality gender sexuality intercultural and literary studies among others all engage and feature core components of performance and myth in articulating and understanding their fields This sharing of similar components also demonstrates the interrelatedness of these fields In Myth Performance in the African Diasporas Ritual Theatre and Dance the authors contend that performance traditions across artistic disciplines reveal a shared if sometimes varied journey among diasporic artists to reconnect with their African ancestors The volume begins with a historical and aesthetic overview of how dramatists choreographers and performance artists have approached the task of interpreting African myth The individual chapters reveal how specific artists dramatists and choreographers have interpreted African myth and what performative approaches and traditions they have used Focusing on theatre practitioners from the nineteenth century through the present the authors examine performative traditions from Canada the United States the Caribbean and Latin America Drawing upon research in theatre dance and literary texts Myth Performance in the African Diasporas will be crucial to academics interested in African performance viewed through the prism of myth making and spiritual ritualistic stagings Besides those interested in diasporic studies this book will also be useful to scholars and students of history drama theatre and dance

At Home In Diaspora Wendy W. Walters, Although he never lived in Harlem Chester Himes commented that he experienced a sort of pure homesickness while creating the Harlem set detective novels from his self imposed exile in Paris Through writing Himes constructed an imaginary home informed both by nostalgia for a community he never knew and a critique of the racism he left behind in the United States Half a century later Michelle Cliff wrote about her native Jamaica from the United States articulating a positive Caribbean feminism that at the same time acknowledged Jamaica's homophobia and color prejudice In At Home in Diaspora Wendy Walters investigates the work of Himes Cliff and three other twentieth century black international writers Caryl Phillips Simon Njami and Richard Wright who have lived in and written from countries they do not call home Unlike other authors in exile those of the African diaspora are doubly displaced first by the discrimination they faced at home and again by their life abroad Throughout Walters suggests that in the absence of a recoverable land of origin the idea of diaspora comes to represent a home that is not singular or exclusionary In this way writing in exile is much more than a literary performance it is a profound political act Wendy W Walters is assistant professor of literature at Emerson College

Afrocentrism Stephen Howe, 1999-08-17 For centuries racist colonial and Eurocentric bias has blocked or distorted knowledge of Africans their histories and cultures resulting in a counter mythology claiming the innate superiority of African descended peoples In this provocative study historian Stephen Howe challenges this Afrocentric rewriting of African history 16 photos Copyright Libri GmbH All rights reserved
