Natura Artis Magistra Un Conscious Animals As Teachers Of Shortterm Dynamic Psychotherapy:

Natura Artis Magistra Josette ten Have-de Labije, Vereniging voor Korte Dynamische Psychotherapie, 2003 Animals as the Third in Relational Psychotherapy Jo Silbert, Jo Frasca, 2021-03-03 Animals as the Third in Relational Psychotherapy Exploring Theory Frame and Practice elegantly and skilfully weaves together relevant literature clinical reflections compelling case material and contemporary psychoanalytic theory to demonstrate how the presence of an animal in the treatment arena can eventually bring about relational interpersonal and intrapsychic change Contemporary relational psychoanalytic literature has been virtually silent about our relationship with animals a feature seemingly intrinsic to our relational worlds This book seeks to remediate this void by giving voice to the practice and principles of working relationally in the presence of an animal The text accentuates recurrent themes animals are seen by human beings as significant subjective others and are treated as legitimate partners for relational and interpersonal processes attachment figures and transference objects animals in the psychotherapy environment can play the role as a bridge from the unconscious to the conscious from the dissociated to the experienced from the intrapsychic to the interpersonal as the third in the treatment arena the animal helps to reveal the field bringing conflicts to life and making them available for analysis in the clinical setting In seeking to authorise the incorporation of animals into the practice of relational psychotherapy the text applies conventional concepts to novel contexts it extends psychoanalytic and relational principles to create a theoretical framework within which to consider the therapeutic effects of working in the triadic interactions of therapist client and animal and thus also begins to evolve a new version of relational psychoanalytic practice The authors value the human animal experience in treatment and repeatedly show how the application of a relational psychoanalytic lens to the patient therapist animal triad can enhance the therapeutic process in ways that encourage progressive communication understanding of the patient and the relaxing of defences leading to the symbolising of relational capacity therapeutic breakthrough and intrapsychic change

Teaching Empathy Latham Foundation Publication, Lynn Loar, Libby Lee Colman, Latham Foundation, 2004-05 A repository of practical skills and interventions You can select from a rich menu of ideas assessment tools worksheets and resources to design humane education and animal assisted therapy programs that are safe for both the human and animal participant You will not take an animal into a classroom again and be ignorant of the possible impact of your words and the animal's behaviors on certain children All of this knowledge is essential to safeguard the welfare of both humans and animals and to promote the best that the fields of humane education and animal assisted therapies have to offer From the foreword by Barbara W Boat Ph D Associate Professor Department of Psychiatry Executive Director The Childhood Trust Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center Pet-oriented Child Psychotherapy Boris Mayer Levinson, Gerald P. Mallon, 1997 Boris Levinson was the first professionally trained clinician to formally introduce and document the way that companion animals could hasten the development of a rapport between therapist and patient thereby increasing the likelihood of patient motivation The original edition of this fascinating book was the first work to document pet oriented psychotherapy That text is reproduced here in its original form furthermore in order to update and revise the text footnotes have been added to identify and highlight research and practices which have occurred since the book was first published in 1969 Also a list of resources now appears in the appendix This classic work has universal appeal from human service practitioners health and mental health practitioners to educators in social work psychology nursing veterinary medicine and counseling BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved
