Interpretive Conventions Steven Mailloux, 2018-03-15 In Interpretive Conventions Steven Mailloux provides a general introduction to reader response criticism while developing his own specific reader oriented approach to literature. He examines five influential theories of the reading process: those of Stanley Fish, Jonathan Culler, Wolfgang Iser, Norman Holland, and David Bleich. He goes on to argue the need for a more comprehensive reader response criticism based on a consistent social model of reading. He develops such a reading model and also discusses American textual editing and literary history.

A General Theory of Visual Culture Whitney Davis, 2022-06-14 What is cultural about vision or visual about culture? In this ambitious book Whitney Davis provides new answers to these difficult and important questions by presenting an original framework for understanding visual culture. Grounded in the theoretical traditions of art history, A General Theory of Visual Culture argues that in a fully consolidated visual culture, artifacts and pictures have been made to be seen in a certain way. What Davis calls visuality is the visual perspective from which certain culturally constituted aspects of artifacts and pictures are visible to informed viewers. In this book Davis provides a systematic analysis of visuality and describes how it comes into being as a historical form of vision. Expansive in scope, A General Theory of Visual Culture draws on art history, aesthetics, the psychology of perception, the philosophy of reference and vision science, as well as visual cultural studies in history, sociology, and anthropology. It provides penetrating new definitions of form, style, and iconography and draws important and sometimes surprising conclusions, for example, that vision does not always attain to visual culture and that visual culture is not always wholly visible. The book uses examples from a variety of cultural traditions from prehistory to the twentieth century to support a theory designed to apply to all human traditions of making artifacts and pictures: that is, to visual culture as a worldwide phenomenon.

Bibliography of Semiotics, 1975-1985 Viktoria Eschbach-Szabo, 1986-01-01 This bibliography of semiotic studies covering the years 1975-1985 impressively reveals the world-wide intensification in the field. During this decade national semiotic societies have been founded all over the world; a great number of international, national, and local semiotic conferences have taken place; the number of periodicals and book series devoted to semiotics has increased; as has the number of books and dissertations in the field. This bibliography is the result of a dedicated effort to approach complete coverage.

The Frankenstein Syndrome Bernard E. Rollin, 1995-06-30 This book is unlike others on the emotionally charged subject of the moral and social issues raised by genetically engineering animals. Nontechnical and anecdotal, it attempts to inform, not inflame, the reader about the problems society must address.
Animal Rights & Human Morality Bernard E. Rollin, 2010-12 It has been more than two decades since the first edition of this landmark book garnered public accolades for its sensitive yet honest and forthright approach to the many disquieting questions surrounding the emotional debate over animal rights Is moral concern something owed by human beings only to human beings Drawing upon his philosophical expertise his extensive experience of working with animal issues all over the world and his knowledge of biological science Bernard E Rollin now widely recognized as the father of veterinary ethics develops a compelling analysis of animal rights as it is emerging in society The result is a sound basis for rational discussion and social policy development in this area of rapidly growing concern He believes that society must elevate the moral status of animals and protect their rights as determined by their natures His public speaking and published works have contributed to passage of major federal legislation designed to increase the well being of laboratory animals This new third edition is greatly expanded and includes a new chapter on animal agriculture plus additional discussions of animal law companion animal issues genetic engineering animal pain animal research and many other topics

The Life-threatened Elderly Margot Tallmer, 1984 Why do smokers claim that the first cigarette of the day is the best What is the biological basis behind some heavy drinkers belief that the hair of the dog method alleviates the effects of a hangover Why does marijuana seem to affect ones problem solving capacity Intoxicating Minds is in the author s words a grand excavation of drug myth Neither extolling nor condemning drug use it is a story of scientific and artistic achievement war and greed empires and religions and lessons for the future Ciaran Regan looks at each class of drugs describing the historical evolution of their use explaining how they work within the brain s neurophysiology and outlining the basic pharmacology of those substances From a consideration of the effect of stimulants such as caffeine and nicotine and the reasons and consequences of their sudden popularity in the seventeenth century the book moves to a discussion of more modern stimulants such as cocaine and ecstasy In addition Regan explains how we process memory the nature of thought disorders and therapies for treating depression and schizophrenia Regan then considers psychedelic drugs and their perceived mystical properties and traces the history of placebos to ancient civilizations Finally Intoxicating Minds considers the physical consequences of our co evolution with drugs how they have altered our very being and offers a glimpse of the brave new world of drug therapies

Barcan Marcus,G.J.W. Dorn,P. Weingartner,1986-05-01 Logic Methodology and Philosophy of Science VII      The Art of Love Peter L. Allen,2015-09-30 Two major French medieval literary works that claim to teach their readers the art of love are virtually torn apart by the contradictions and conflicts they contain In Andreas Capellanus s late twelfth century Latin De amore the author instructs his friend Walter in the amatory art in the first two books but then harshly repudiates his own teachings and love itself in a third and final book In Jean de Meun s encyclopedic continuation of the Romance of the Rose written in French in the 1270s a succession of allegorical figures alternately promote and excoriate the lover s amatory pursuits Jean s romance moreover virtually rewrites the dream vision of Guillaume de Lorris which it claims simply to extend and ends with the depiction of a sexual act that seems to throw the book s whole structure into confusion The more closely one reads this works Peter L Allen contents the harder it is to understand them Didactic heavy handed and problematic they teach would be lovers how to behave in order to have others accomplish their desires yet they also contain vociferous passages that dissuade their protagonists from the practice of this art which they claim leads not only to earthly destruction but also to eternal damnation Readers from the Middle Ages to the present have been troubled by the fact that these texts are both radically self contradictory and fundamentally at odds with the accepted morality of medieval Christian Europe And for decades scholars have tried to determine how these two works are related to what is often referred to as courtly love In The Art of Love Allen persuasive argues that the De amore and the Romance of the Rose are central to the courtly tradition Allen contends that their conflicts and contradictions are not signs of confusion or artistic failure but are instead essential clues which show that the medieval works follow the disruptive structural model of Ovid s first century elegiac Ars amatoria Art of Love and Remedia amoris Cures for Love Andreas s and Jean s works no less than Ovid s teach not the art of love for practicing lovers but the literary art of love poetry and fiction Based squarely on Ovid s poems which were among the most widely read classical texts in medieval Europe the De amore and the Romance of the Rose use the classical tradition in a particularly assertive fashion and suggest a way for fantasies of love to exist even against a background of ecclesiastical prohibition

Key Terms in Discourse Analysis Paul Baker, Sibonile Ellece, 2011-02-17     The Nature of Nature Bruce Gordon, William Dembski, 2014-04-29

The intellectual and cultural battles now raging over theism and atheism conservatism and secular progressivism dualism and monism realism and antirealism and transcendent reality versus material reality extend even into the scientific disciplines This stunning new volume captures this titanic clash of worldviews among those who have thought most deeply about the nature of science and of the universe itself Unmatched in its breadth and scope The Nature of Nature brings together some of the most influential scientists scholars and public intellectuals including three Nobel laureates across a wide spectrum of disciplines and schools of thought Here they grapple with a perennial question that has been made all the more pressing by recent advances in the natural sciences Is the fundamental explanatory principle of the universe life and self conscious awareness to be found in inanimate matter or immaterial mind The answers found in this book have profound implications for what it means to do science what it means to be human and what the future holds for all of us

Between Freedom and Necessity, 2021-11-08 This extended essay joins an old conversation at the intersection of freedom and necessity Though it takes place at the beginning of the twenty first century by the Christian reckoning that has become an integral part of European identity it will at times read like a conversation between classical Greece and nineteenth century Europe The cast consists of characters drawn from Aeschylus Sophocles Euripides and Plato as well as the authors themselves Plato Aristotle Locke Hume Kant Kierkegaard MacIntyre and Nussbaum Some of these writers have been associated with displaced displacing claims of universality but each is in place and in time in ways that are instructive for ethics Myth the matter of stories becomes also the matter of critical reflection which in turn is subjected to critical reflection Every fragment of philosophy is a contribution to the reflection and it is nothing if it is separated from the matter the stories the myths and the characters including us who both make them and live in them

Peirce's Theory of Signs T. L. Short, 2007-02-12 In this book T L Short corrects widespread misconceptions of Peirce's theory of signs and demonstrates its relevance to contemporary analytic philosophy of language mind and science Peirce's theory of mind naturalistic but nonreductive bears on debates of Fodor and Millikan among others His theory of inquiry avoids foundationalism and subjectivism while his account of reference anticipated views of Kripke and Putnam Peirce's realism falls between internal and metaphysical realism and is more satisfactory than either His pragmatism is not verificationism rather it identifies meaning with potential growth of knowledge Short distinguishes Peirce's mature theory of signs from his better known but paradoxical early theory He develops the mature theory systematically on the basis of Peirce's phenomenological categories and concept of final causation The latter is distinguished from recent and similar views such as Brandon's and is shown to be grounded in forms of explanation adopted in modern science
