Eighteenth-Century Women Writers and the Gentleman's Liberation Movement Megan A. Woodworth, 2016-04-29 In the late eighteenth century English novel the question of feminism has usually been explored with respect to how women writers treat their heroines and how they engage with contemporary political debates particularly those relating to the French Revolution Megan Woodworth argues that women writers ideas about their own liberty are also present in their treatment of male characters In positing a Gentleman's Liberation Movement she suggests that Frances Burney Charlotte Smith Jane West Maria Edgeworth and Jane Austen all used their creative powers to liberate men from the very institutions and ideas about power society and gender that promote the subjection of women Their writing juxtaposes the role of women in the private spheres with men's engagement in political structures and successive wars for independence the American Revolution the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars The failures associated with fighting these wars and the ideological debates surrounding them made plain at least to these women writers that in denying the universality of these natural freedoms their liberating effects would be severely compromised Thus to win the same rights for which men fought women writers sought to remake men as individuals freed from the tyranny of their patriarchal inheritance North Atlantic Right Whales David W. Laist, 2017-03-29 In the cold waters of the North Atlantic Ocean some of the heartiest humans of medieval days ventured out in search of whales Through the centuries people became increasingly dependent on whale oil and other cetacean products To meet this growing demand whaling became ever more sophisticated and intense leading to the collapse of what was once a seemingly inexhaustible supply of large cetaceans Central to the whale's subsequent struggle for existence has been one species the North Atlantic right whale This book is a history of the North Atlantic right whale from its earliest encounters with humans to its close brush with extinction to its currently precarious yet hopeful status as a conservation icon A War Without Ground MICHAEL CANN, 2018-05-10 Fly high above the clouds sail deep down to the ocean bottom and see how a nation demilitarized begins to achieve world dominance from above and below without a need to keep their boots on the ground Hillingdon Hall Robert Smith Surtees, 1888 Frederick Douglass and Herman Melville Robert S. Levine, Samuel Otter, 2012-09-01 Frederick Douglass 1818 1895 and Herman Melville 1819 1891 addressed in their writings a range of issues that continue to resonate in American culture the reach and limits of democracy the nature of freedom the roles of race gender and sexuality and the place of the United States in the world Yet they are rarely discussed together perhaps because of their differences in race and social position Douglass escaped from slavery and tied his well received nonfiction writing to political activism becoming a figure of international prominence Melville was the grandson of Revolutionary War heroes and addressed urgent issues through fiction and poetry laboring in increasing obscurity In eighteen original essays the contributors to this collection explore the convergences and divergences of these two extraordinary literary lives Developing new perspectives on literature biography race gender and politics this volume ultimately raises questions that help rewrite the color line in nineteenth century studies Contributors Elizabeth Barnes College of William and Mary Hester Blum The Pennsylvania State University Russ Castronovo University of Wisconsin Madison John Ernest West Virginia University William Gleason Princeton University Gregory Jay University of Wisconsin Milwaukee Carolyn L Karcher Washington D C Rodrigo Lazo University of California Irvine Maurice S Lee Boston University Robert S Levine University of Maryland College Park Steven Mailloux University of California Irvine Dana D Nelson Vanderbilt University Samuel Otter University of California Berkeley John Stauffer Harvard University Sterling Stuckey University of California Riverside Eric J Sundquist University of California Los Angeles Elisa Tamarkin University of California Irvine Susan M Ryan University of Louisville David Van Leer University of California Davis Maurice Wallace Duke University Robert K Wallace Northern Kentucky University Kenneth W Warren University of Chicago
