First published in 1952     Heidegger and Homecoming Robert Mugerauer,2008-10-21 Martin Heidegger's philosophical works devoted themselves to challenging previously held ontological notions of what constitutes being and much of his work focused on how beings interact within particular spatial locations Frequently Heidegger used the motifs of homelessness and homecoming in order to express such spatial interactions and despite early and continued recognition of the importance of homelessness and homecoming this is the first sustained study of these motifs in his later works Utilizing both literary and philosophical analysis Heidegger and Homecoming reveals the deep figural unity of the German philosopher's writings by exploring not only these homecoming and homelessness motifs but also the six distinctive voices that structure the apparent disorder of his works In this illuminating and comprehensive study Robert Mugerauer argues that these motifs and Heidegger's many voices are required to overcome and replace conventional and linear methods of logic and representation Making use of material that has been both neglected and yet to be translated into English Heidegger and Homecoming explains the elaborate means with which Heidegger proposed that humans are able to open themselves to others while at the same time preserve their self identity     Memories of the Tennysons Hardwicke Drummond Rawnsley,1900     Tale of Myths and Legends: Book One Michael Phelps,     Air Power in the Age of Total War John Buckley,2006-05-09 Warfare in the first half of the 20th century was fundamentally and irrevocably altered by the birth and subsequent development of air power This work assesses the role of air power in changing the face of battle on land and sea Utilizing late 1990s research the author demonstrates that the phenomenon of air power was both a cause and a crucial accelerating factor contributing to the theory and practice of total war For instance the expansion of warfare to the homefront was a direct result of bombing and indirectly due to the extent of national economic mobilization required to support first rate air power status In addition the move away from the principle of total war with the onset of the Cold War and the replacement of air power by ICBMs is thoroughly examined This work should provide students of international history war studies defence and strategic studies with an insight into 20th century warfare
