Reflections In A Bloodshot Lens The Communication Gap Between American And The Worlds Muslims:

Reflections in a Bloodshot Lens Lawrence Pintak, 2006-01-25 There exists today a tragic rift between Americans and the world's Muslims. Each views the other with suspicion and anger. Yet in the immediate aftermath of 9/11 there was widespread sympathy for the U.S. in the great arc of Muslim nations from West Africa to Southeast Asia. This book explores what happened. It examines the disconnect that leads Americans and Muslims around the world to view the same words and images in fundamentally different ways. Partly a result of a centuries-old us against them dichotomy and an essential difference in worldview, the problem is exacerbated by an increasingly polarised media and by leaders on both sides who either don't understand or don't care what impact their words and policies have in the world at large. Journalist scholar Lawrence Pintak, a former CBS News Middle East correspondent, argues that the Arab media revolution and the rise of patriot journalists in the US marginalized voices of moderation, distorting perceptions on both sides of the divide with potentially disastrous results. Built on the author's extensive journalistic experience, the book is carefully grounded in contemporary academic scholarship including Orientalism, othering, worldview, media effects theory, and framing theory, amongst others, giving it broad appeal to policymakers, students of such fields as media studies, Middle East studies, and Islamic studies, and general current affairs readers. Muslims and the News Media Elizabeth Poole, John E.

Richardson, 2010-11-05 Muslims have featured in many of the more significant news stories of the past few years, yet shockingly very few of these stories have been about anything other than the war on terror. This urgently relevant book examines the role and representations of Muslims in the news media, particularly within a climate of threat, fear, and misunderstanding. Written by both academic authorities and media practitioners, Muslims and the News Media is designed as a comprehensive and critical textbook and is set in both the British and international context. Bringing together a range of insightful perspectives on the subject into a coherent whole, the book clearly establishes the links between context, content, production, and audiences, thus reflecting the entire cycle of the communication process. It reveals both the ways in which meaning is produced and reproduced in the news media and the ways in which audiences themselves, both Muslim and non-Muslim, use or consume this media. Significant too and discussed here is the role of Muslims themselves in the processes of news production. Clarifying the circumstances and politics surrounding the representation of Muslims across a range of journalistic genres, Muslims and the News Media provides crucial insights into the representation and misrepresentation of Islam and Muslims today. Terrorism Democracy A. Rashid Moten, Noraini Mohd. Noor, 2007 This book is primarily addressed to the Muslim and non-Muslim intelligentsia, professionals, teachers, students, and political activists residing in the West as well as in the Muslim world. It contains chapters that will enable them to wrestle with the multitude of problems inhibiting a cordial relationship between the West and the Muslim World. This book, containing edited papers presented in a conference, hopefully will open serious dialogues for a just, peaceful world order. The Publishers Weekly, 2005

Image Politics in the Middle East Lina Khatib, 2012-10-22 Politics in the Middle East is now seen and the image is playing a central part in processes of political struggle This is the first book in the literature to engage directly with these changing ways of communicating politics in the region and particularly with the politics of the image its power as a political tool Lina Khatib presents a cross country examination of emerging trends in the use of visuals in political struggles in the Middle East from the Cedar Revolution in Lebanon to the Green Movement in Iran to the Arab Spring in Egypt Syria and Libya She demonstrates how states activists artists and people on the street are making use of television the social media and mobile phones as well as non electronic forms including posters cartoons billboards and graffiti to convey and mediate political messages She also draws attention to politics as a visual performance by leaders and citizens alike With a particular focus on the visual dynamics of the Arab Spring and based on case studies on the visual dimension of political protest as well as of political campaigning and image management by political parties and political leaders Image Politics in the Middle East shows how visual expression is at the heart of political struggle in the Middle East today It is a hard hitting enjoyable groundbreaking book challenging the traditional ways in which politics in the Middle East is conceived of and analysed

Reflections in a Bloodshot Lens Larry Pintak, 2006 Former CBS correspondent explores the abyss of misunderstanding and mis reporting in both the US and Arab media Reflections in a Bloodshot Lens Lawrence Pintak, 2006-01-20 There exists today a tragic rift between Americans and the world s Muslims Yet in the immediate aftermath of 9 11 there was widespread sympathy for the US throughout the Muslim world This book explores what happened It examines the disconnect that leads Americans and Muslims to view the same words and images in fundamentally different ways Partly a result of a centuries old us against them dichotomy the problem is exacerbated by an increasingly polarised media and by leaders on both sides who either don t understand or don t care what impact their words and policies have in the world at large Reflections in a Bloodshot Lens argues that the Arab media revolution and the rise of patriot journalists in the US marginalised voices of moderation distorting perceptions on both sides of the divide with potentially disastrous results Seeds of Hate Lawrence Pintak, 2003-10-20 In the aftermath of 9 11 America has been haunted by one question why do they hate us This book answers that question tracing the roots of the crisis back to American s involvement in the Middle East and in particular Lebanon Journalist Lawrence Pintak was a correspondent for CBS in Beirut in the 1980s where he witnessed the birth of the current terror In Seeds of Hate he explores how America s flawed policy in the Lebanon transformed Muslim perceptions of the US from impartial peacekeeper to hated enemy of the Lebanese Muslims Pintak explores the links between those who carried out the terror war in Lebanon and the current wave of terror examining the role played by key figures behind the Beirut bombings He considers how the template for shaping would be terrorists is being replicated from Saudi Arabia to Indonesia and speaks with victims of the earlier wave of terror Fueling Our Fears Brigitte Lebens Nacos, Oscar Torres-Reyna, 2007 After September 11 many in the American public and media zeroed in on Muslims in America and the world irresponsibly linking intentionally or not Muslims at large with terrorism This well researched book explores this focus and its implications At the same time the authors do not leave out the opinion of Muslim Americans exploring their views about the American media and its influence their attitudes toward non Muslim Americans and just as important their opinions on post9/11 U S counterterrorist policies and practices This book not only serves students and scholars in the fields of Middle East studies media studies and international communication but is also an enlightening read to anyone interested in mainstream America's perception of Muslims

Silent No More Paul Findley, 2001 This book chronicles Paul Findley's far flung trial of discovery the false stereotypes of Islam that linger in the minds of the American people the corrective actions that the leaders of America's seven million Muslims are undertaking and the community's remarkable progress in mainstream politics

Muslims in America Craig Considine, This installment in the critically acclaimed Contemporary Debates series uses evidence based documentation to provide a full and impartial examination of beliefs and claims made about Muslim individuals families and communities in the United States Muslims in America Examining the Facts provides an objective overview of the realities and experiences of Muslims in the United States both historically and in the present day and of their relationship with their fellow Americans It surveys the history of American Muslims settlement and integration into the United States explores the dominant social political cultural and economic characteristics of American Muslim families and communities and studies the ways in which their experiences and beliefs intersect with various notions of American national identity In the process the book critically examines the more dominant social and political narratives and claims surrounding American Muslims and their religion of Islam including false or malicious claims about their attitudes toward terrorism and other important issues Muslims in America Examining the Facts thus gives readers a clear and accurate understanding of the actual lives actions and beliefs of Muslim people in the United States

Healing the Wounds of Sept. 11, 2001 Shahid Athar, 2003-10 Lila's Child chronicles an Internet discussion group centered around Robert M Pirsig's second novel Lila Robert Pirsig provides an introduction and over a hundred annotations which can be found nowhere else A can't miss for Robert Pirsig fans

This Muslim American Life Moustafa Bayoumi, 2015 Over the last few years Moustafa Bayoumi has been an extra in Sex and the City 2 playing a generic Arab a terrorist suspect or at least his namesake Mustafa Bayoumi was in a detective novel the subject of a trumped up controversy because a book he had written was seen by right wing media as pushing an anti American pro Islam agenda and was asked by a U S citizenship officer to drop his middle name of Mohamed Others have endured far worse fates Sweeping arrests following the terrorist attacks of September 11 2001 led to the incarceration and deportation of thousands of Arabs and Muslims based almost solely on their national origin and immigration status The NYPD with help from the CIA has aggressively spied on Muslims in the New York area as they go about their ordinary lives from noting where they get their hair cut to eavesdropping on conversations in cafés In This Muslim American Life Moustafa Bayoumi reveals what the War on

Terror looks like from the vantage point of Muslim Americans highlighting the profound effect this surveillance has had on how they live their lives To be a Muslim American today often means to exist in an absurd space between exotic and dangerous victim and villain simply because of the assumptions people carry about you In gripping essays Bayoumi exposes how contemporary politics movies novels media experts and more have together produced a culture of fear and suspicion that not only willfully forgets the Muslim American past but also threatens all of our civil liberties in the present From publisher s website
