Reflections On School Integration Colloquium Proceedings:

Reflections on School Integration Mokubung O. Nkomo, Carolyn McKinney, Linda Chisholm, 2004 School integration means among other things that the divisions created by apartheid need to be addressed systematically and systemically Integration is not merely about changing the racial demographics of learner and educator bodies It means schools changing to meet the needs of all children fostering meaningful interaction among learners in the classroom on the playground and in extra mural activities as well as instilling a human rights culture It means constructing curricula texts and pedagogies that are informed by a democratic ethos and it requires teachers school managers and communities that are equipped to promote a democratic school environment In short it is about inclusivity and social cohesion And the issue of integration is as pertinent internationally as it is in South Africa questions of race racism citizenship and diversity are central to school systems throughout the world This book contains the proceedings of a colloquium held in October 2003 attended by leading South African and international researchers to take stock of the status quo in school integration and identify new directions research should be taking to support the process of change

Proceedings of the International Conference on Education, Reflection and Development Ion Albulescu, 2015-06-18 The International Conference on Education Reflection and Development took place in May 2013 at Babes Bolyai University of Cluj Napoca Romania TThe event was organized by the Educational Sciences Department of the Faculty of Psychology and Educational Sciences and brought together participants from various different countries including Israel Greece Turkey Republic of Moldova the United States of America the United Kingdom and Romania The conference gave these scholars the opportunity to share their research and experiences Textbooks for Diverse Learners Carolyn McKinney, 2005 Child Youth and Family Development Research Programme Teacher Education and the Challenge of Diversity in South Africa Crispin Hemson, 2006 Conflicts in schools over race fees or language frequently make headlines in South Africa Such conflicts reflect the multifaceted issue of learner diversity encompassing racial class gender religious linguistic physical and other differences The need to handle such differences in equitable ways poses new challenges for teachers and teacher education How are teacher education institutions preparing students for teaching in schools that are different from the ones they experienced as learners What kinds of skills are they providing to enable teachers to deal with diversity and difference amongst learners Learning from Difference: Comparative Accounts of Multicultural Education Joseph Lo Bianco, Aydin Bal, 2016-03-30 This book analyses the experiences of multicultural education in nine very different international settings uncovering insights from a vast variety of educational contexts Taking a multi critical approach in reporting and discussing problems faced by increasingly multicultural and multilingual societies the nine case studies reflect radically different assumptions about what counts as difference and what should be the appropriate ways for education systems to respond to differences While each country s approach seems unique analysis of the divergent treatments of internal population diversity elicits a genuinely global instance of the increasingly shared phenomenon of cultural pluralism Discussing various successes and failures of policy enactment theory pedagogy and management of diversity the book isolates both the differences and similarities in the unique geopolitical and socio historical contexts of the countries investigated A key value of the book is that it greatly expands the range of settings experiences epistemologies ontologies and practical experiences that are typically encountered in mainstream discussion of what counts as multicultural education In effect all societies are in some way dealing with difference this volume helps widen the scope of reflection and thus facilitates increased global learning from difference

The Construction, Negotiation, and Representation of Immigrant Student Identities in South African schools Saloshna Vandeyar,Thirusellvan

Vandeyar,2015-02-01 This is a ground breaking research study on Black immigrant identities in South African schools It is the first major book on racial integration and immigrant children in South African schools The overall aim of this study is to investigate how immigrant students negotiate and mediate their identity within the South African schooling context This study set out to explain this complex phenomenon guided by the following research objectives One to describe how immigrant student identities are framed challenged asserted and negotiated within the institutional cultures of schools Two to evaluate the extent to which the ethos of these schools has been transformed towards integration in the truest sense and to determine how immigrant students perceive this in practice Three to explore the transnational social fields in terms of social networks and cross border linkages of immigrant students and how this impacts on their identity formation Four to determine if there are any new forms of immigrant student self identities that are beginning to emerge Five to determine the extent to which racial desegregation has been accompanied by social integration between immigrant and local students Six to determine the impact of the South African social schooling context on immigrant student identity formation And seven to identify critical lessons and good practice that could be learnt and used to accelerate the racial desegregation and social integration of immigrant students in South African schools

Conference on e-Learning Eunice Ivala,2013-06-27 The Constitution in the Classroom Stu Woolman,Brahm

Fleisch,2009 About the publication The law on education and educational practices in South Africa would exhaust the capacity of any meaningful monograph Instead the authors of this book engage six discrete topics that reflect the broader currents and conflicts in South African education debates a school choice b school fees c the right to an adequate basic education d single medium public schools e school governing bodies and f independent schools The book has two further aims First To move beyond the debates taking place separately in the education policy community and the legal academy and to demonstrate how these disciplines working in concert with each other can advance our understanding of law and education in South Africa Second To show that the ANC s complex education agenda must mirror the egalitarian utilitarian democratic and communitarian commitments found within the Constitution How these competing political claims reflected in our basic law play themselves out in the enabling education legislation the case law and government education policy frames each topic assayed in this work About the editor Stu Woolman is the Academic Director at the South Africa Institute for Advanced Constitutional Public Human Rights and International Law Brahm Fleisch is Associate Professor in the Division of Education Leadership and Policy Studies in Wits School of Education      From Classrooms to Conflict in Rwanda Elisabeth King, 2014 Based on fieldwork and comparative historical analysis of Rwanda this book questions the conventional wisdom that education builds peace      South African Schooling: The Enigma of Inequality Nic Spaull, Jonathan D. Jansen, 2019-11-05 This volume brings together many of South Africa's leading scholars of education and covers the full range of South African schooling from financing and policy reform to in depth discussions of literacy numeracy teacher development and curriculum change The book moves beyond a historical analysis and provides an inside view of the questions South African scholars are now grappling with Are there different and preferential equilibria we have not yet thought of or explored and if so what are they In practical terms how does one get to a more equitable distribution of teachers resources and learning outcomes While decidedly local these questions resonate throughout the developing world South Africa today is the most unequal country in the world The richest 10% of South Africans lay claim to 65% of national income and 90% of national wealth This is the largest 90/10 gap in the world and one that is reflected in the schooling system Two decades after apartheid it is still the case that the life chances of most South African children are determined not by their ability or the result of hard work and determination but instead by the colour of their skin the province of their birth and the wealth of their parents Looking back on almost three decades of democracy in South Africa it is this stubbornness of inequality and its patterns of persistence that demands explanation justification and analysis This is a landmark book on basic education in South Africa an essential volume for those interested in learning outcomes and their inequality in South Africa The various chapters present conceptually and empirically sophisticated analyses of learning outcomes across divisions of race class and place The book brings together the wealth of decades of research output from top quality researchers to explore what has improved what has not and why Prof Lant Pritchett Harvard University There is much wisdom in this collection from many of the best education analysts in South Africa No surprise that they conclude that without a large and sustained expansion in well trained teachers early childhood education and adequate school resources South Africa will continue to sacrifice its people's future to maintaining the privileges of the few Prof Martin Carnoy Stanford University Altogether one can derive from this very valuable volume if not an exact blueprint for the future then certainly at least a crucial and evidence based itinerary for the next few steps Dr Luis Crouch RTI      Language and Power in Post-Colonial Schooling Carolyn McKinney, 2016-07-15 Critiquing the positioning of children from non dominant groups as linguistically deficient this book aims to bridge the gap between theorizing of language in critical sociolinguistics and approaches to language in education Carolyn McKinney uses the lens of linguistic ideologies teachers and students beliefs about language to shed light on the continuing problem of reproduction of linguistic inequality Framed within global debates in sociolinguistics and applied linguistics she examines the case of historically white schools in South Africa a post colonial context where political power has shifted but where the power of whiteness continues to provide new insights into the complex relationships between language and power and language and subjectivity Implications for language curricula and policy in contexts of linguistic diversity are foregrounded Providing an accessible overview of the scholarly literature on language ideologies and language as social practice and resource in multilingual contexts Language and Power in Post Colonial Schooling uses the conceptual tools it presents to analyze classroom interaction and ethnographic observations from the day to day life in case study schools and explores implications of both the research literature and the analyses of students and teachers discourses and practices for language in education policy and curriculum

Internationalizing the Teaching of Psychology Uwe Gielen, Grant J. Rich, Harold Takooshian, 2017-08-01 How can psychology professors in the USA and other nations make their courses more international This question is addressed in this indispensable new sourcebook co authored by 73 contributors and editors from 21 countries In recent decades psychology has evolved from an American dominated discipline to a much more global discipline Preliminary estimates by Zoma and Gielen 2015 suggest that approximately 76% 78% of the world's one million or so psychologists reside outside the U S However most textbooks in the field continue to rely predominantly on research conducted in North America and Europe Our book is intended to introduce psychology instructors to a variety of broad perspectives as well as specific suggestions that can support their efforts to internationalize their course offerings at both the undergraduate and graduate levels In this way they can prepare their students to become more culturally sensitive and function more effectively as citizens and psychologists in the evolving globalized world To achieve these ambitious goals the editors have assembled an international group of 73 distinguished contributors who taken together have taught and conducted research in all regions of the world The chapters in the book include both core areas of psychology and subdisciplines that represent rapidly expanding and internationally important areas such as cross cultural psychology and the psychology of gender The chapters cover key topics and areas included in the course offerings of psychology departments both in the United States and in other countries In addition to a discussion of international perspectives relevant to a given area all chapters include an annotated bibliography of pertinent books articles web related materials films videos and so on Based on this information both highly experienced and less experienced psychology instructors can add globally and culturally oriented dimensions to their respective courses This is important because universities departments and accrediting agencies increasingly put pressure on instructors to broaden and internationalize their courses As a long time international psychologist myself I see this bold new volume as a great leap forward for international psychology The 73 distinguished contributors and editors from 21 countries have carefully crafted a handbook that will be the go to resource on the topic for years to come For psychology to continue to be relevant in the 21st century it must become more international I am grateful this book will help us accomplish this challenging but rewarding goal Philip G Zimbardo Ph D Past President American Psychological Association What could be more important than understanding human behavior and the thoughts and emotions that underlie it By teaching psychology to the world we offer the possibility of using our discipline to create a better future for all of us The chapters in this excellent book help teachers of psychology move from an ethnocentric perspective to a global way of thinking about and telling about a truly international psychology Diane F Halpern Ph D Past President of the American Psychological Association and Professor of Psychology This is a brilliant unprecedented collection of international scholarship that every psychology professor and student should read The 21st century in the teaching of psychology has truly arrived with this book creating a thoroughly needed international focus for our pedagogy Frank Farley Ph D L H Carnell Professor Temple University Former President American Psychological Association APA International Council of Psychologists American Educational Research Association AERA and the Society for International Psychology Division 52 of APA Internationalizing Teaching of Psychology contains chapters authored by eminent psychologists of diverse cultural background inclusive of different cultural perspectives on range of topics of contemporary importance Thus the volume integrates research emanating from varied cultural contexts facilitating development of a truly universal psychological science The volume is a major resource for teaching courses on Cultural Cross cultural Global psychology and in enhancing internationalization of psychology Prof Janak Pandey University of Allahabad India Editor Psychology in India The State of the Art All involved in the training of psychologists will want to recommend this book which thoroughly presents an international perspective on the teaching of psychology Rich Gielen and Takooshian consider the basic nature of psychology at the same time emphasizing cultural differences and relating it all to real life As expert cross cultural researchers the contributors provide a much needed resource and up to date reference for psychologists and students as well as for any scholar interested in our discipline around the globe Laura Hernandez Guzman Ph D Professor of Psychology Universidad Nacional Autonoma de Mexico Past President of the Mexican Psychological Society Since the mid twentieth century the world has become an increasingly smaller place at least in the figurative sense And yet Western psychology has been slow to grasp the culturally limited scope of much of our science Although the movement toward a more culturally inclusive psychology had its roots at least as early as the 1960s more recent meta analyses have shown that a large percentage of the psychological literature has represented a small percentage of the world s population In Internationalizing the Teaching of Psychology

Grant Rich Uwe Gielen and Harold Takooshian are making a noteworthy effort to inform and support teachers who would move the field toward a psychology of all people From advice about getting involved in international psychology to stand alone international psychology courses to the problems of culture bound specialized courses these well traveled and experienced editors have assembled a resource that psychology teachers will find both interesting and valuable Kenneth D Keith President Society for the Teaching of Psychology University of San Diego This volume is a positive contribution to the internationalization of the psychology curriculum Given the very large numbers of psychology undergraduate and graduate students across the world such internationalization has significant potential to provide learners with opportunities to better understand the similarities and differences in the behavior of humans in different local national and international contexts Such understanding can lead to a greater appreciation of and perhaps respect for and celebration of these similarities and differences thus potentially leading to actions that reduce global human suffering This volume should become an indispensable tool for psychology educators interested in such outcomes Jacquelyn Cranney Psychology UNSW Sydney Australia This book is a necessity given the increasing mobility of psychologists use of technology in psychology practice and need to regulate the psychology profession globally The content in this book will go a long way to improve psychological literacy in our East and Central Africa region I chaired the first ever East and Central African Regional Psychology Conference in Uganda in 2013 and am on the Board of Directors of the International Association of Applied Psychologists IAAP so am keenly aware that the internationalization of scientific psychology knowledge and skills is an imperative James Kagaari Ph D President Uganda Council of Psychologists Teaching psychology in your own country especially when it is a country as vast and diverse as the United States where fewer than half its citizens hold a passport makes it all too easy to give courses in which students come away with the impression that what psychological scientists have learned about behavior and mental processes at home applies equally in the rest of the world That is not always the case of course and the chapters in this valuable volume serve not only to remind us of that fact but to stimulate us to consider adjusting the content of our courses to make them as they should be more international in scope Douglas Bernstein Courtesy Professor of Psychology University of South Florida USA Bravo to this all star cast of international contributors for showing us how to help students appreciate both our cultural diversity and our human kinship and for providing us with accessible articles books media and online materials for teaching every area of psychology from a more international perspective David G Myers Hope College co author Psychology 12th Edition and Social Psychology 12th Edition Imagine that you convened an invitation only panel of 73 experts from around the world and asked that they guide the profession in internationalizing the teaching of psychology This book would be the impressive result Here s the definitive how to guide on adding global and cross cultural perspectives to courses throughout the psychology curricula John C Norcross Ph D ABPP Distinguished Professor of Psychology at University of Scranton Adjunct Professor of Psychiatry at SUNY Upstate Medical University In today s increasingly interconnected world the ever emerging importance and impact of integrating psychology into education is powerfully presented in this book The editors themselves outstanding experts in the field have assembled an exceptionally impressive collection of 28 chapters by 73 expert contributors covering varied aspects of teaching psychology from an international and multicultural perspective Educators students psychologists as well as stakeholders in related disciplines will find the theories and practical guides as essential and useful resources Judy Kuriansky PhD United Nations NGO representative the International Association of Applied Psychology Department of Psychology Columbia University Teachers College Educating for Language and Literacy Diversity M. Prinsloo, C. Stroud, 2014-11-12 Educators and researchers in variety of locations increasingly encounter linguistically and socio culturally diverse groups of students in their classrooms and lecture halls This book examines everyday forms of talk and writing in relation to standardised forms and schooling expectations to suggest ways forward in educational discourse Social Justice and Transformative Learning Sandra M. Tomlinson-Clarke, Darren L. Clarke, 2016-03-10 The similarities between the United States and South Africa with respect to race power oppression and economic inequities are striking and a better understanding of these parallels can provide educational gains for students and educators in both countries Through shared experiences and perspectives this volume presents scholarly work from U S and South African scholars that advance educational practice in support of social justice and transformative learning It provides a comprehensive framework for developing transformational learning experiences that facilitates leadership for social justice and a deeper understanding of the factors influencing personal national and global identity Teacher Education for Diversity Elizabeth Walton, Ruksana Osman, 2018-02-19 Foregrounding the diversity that characterises various educational settings this book discusses how histories and geographies of oppression exclusion and marginalisation have impacted on teacher education Contributors draw on first hand experiences of living and working in countries including Brazil China South Africa New Zealand and Malawi Positioned in a geographical and metaphorical Global South the book draws critical attention to debates which have been otherwise marginalised in relation to those conducted in the Global North Chapters address difference and diversity on both a conceptual and empirical level acknowledging the significance of various global trends including increased migration and urbanisation and broadening understandings of race religion gender sexuality and disability Taken together these chapters reveal the extent of the work which still remains to be done in the field of teacher education for diversity The issues discussed are of global significance making this text key reading for teachers teacher educators and those concerned with the advancement of social justice and reduction of inequality through education Students with Disabilities and the Transition to Work Oliver Mutanga, 2019-07-01 This book sets out to understand how students with disabilities experience higher education and the transition to the workplace It foregrounds the voices of students and graduates in order to explore identity inclusion participation and success of youth with disabilities in higher education as well as their transition from university to employment The author proposes a new understanding of disability considered in terms of a continuum of abilities balancing empirical data theory and policy analysis with specific regard to the interests of youth with disabilities making a unique contribution to discussions on access inclusion and success in higher education and employment These discussions inform social development and educational policy planning and implementation not only in South Africa but also in countries with a similar context particularly in terms of remedial courses of action that bring social justice to people with disabilities Students with Disabilities and the Transition to Work will be of interest to all scholars and students working in the fields of disability studies particularly those with a focus on critical disability studies and disability in the global south as well as those working in higher education sociology development studies and social policy Currere from Apartheid to Inclusion Shani Steyn, 2024-06-14 This volume demonstrates the instrumental use of Currere as a methodology to bring about Deracialisation through transformational learning by a white educator in Post Apartheid South Africa Offering an honest and vulnerable recognition of privilege and exclusivity it disrupts deep seated racial bias and assumptions unveils racial blind spots and confronts the discourse that South African white educators are overtly or covertly perpetuating systemic racism within schools Based on autoethnographic analyses of the author's lived educational experiences within the Apartheid regime it uses the theoretical concepts of Currere to initiate her journey towards Deracialisation and transform her current pedagogical practice In doing so the book demonstrates how critical self examination of underlying beliefs that lead to actions and how the past in this case being born raised and educated within the Apartheid era can influence one's teaching in ways that harm the educational development of culturally diverse learners Grappling with how autoethnographical experiences in a specific setting can inform current pedagogy and be used to bring about professional and personal transformation this book will be of interest to scholars postgraduate students and educational researchers with interests in curriculum theory race and education transformative learning Deracialisation and autoethnography Race, Racism, and Antiracism in Language Education Ryuko Kubota, Suhanthie Motha, 2024-10-30 Building on the pioneering 2009 volume Race Culture and Identities in Second Language Education this book reflects the significant expansion in the research since its publication and offers a wider breadth of perspectives on the complex theoretical terrain of race racism and antiracism in language education Contributors to this book apply a range of conceptual and methodological lenses to teaching diverse world languages Underscoring the interconnectedness of race and colonialism world language education and intersectional ideologies this book offers a forum for engaged dialogues among teachers teacher educators teacher candidates graduate and advanced undergraduate students curriculum developers policymakers and educational researchers in a wide range of disciplines including language education In covering important theoretical frames and constructs including raciolinguistic and anti oppressive pedagogies decoloniality neoliberalism and reverse linguistic stereotyping this book breaks from the Global North norms in applied linguistics and language instruction An essential text in TESOL and world language education
