Education Pamela Burnard, Sarah Hennessy, 2006-08-12 It is an exciting time to be an artist and artist educator Networks of schools and artists are being motivated by arts partnerships a relatively new phenomenon in a field which whilst disparate in its character and practice is marked by a common intention to respond effectively and critically to politically driven agendas of accountability school improvement and pupil attainment More than ever artists and educators alike have begun to realise the need to develop practices which offer the development of artist educator pedagogies as agencies for change and political action Understanding the function of reflective practice the conditions which support it and its impact on learning are addressed throughout this book We hope that the book will motivate readers with a diversity of interests and needs to engage in reflections of their own professional practices and of the practices of the communities in which they work This book is about reflection The thesis about the field it covers and major premise of this book is that reflection matters at every turn in arts engagement and even more so in educational settings where artist educators share a passion for facilitating and understanding the how of learners engagement with particular art forms It aims to show ways in which reflection can inform and transform practice in terms of what when and how reflection is embodied in arts engagement Reflective Practice

Reflective Teacher Education Linda Valli,1992-09-01 An increasing number of educators are arguing for conceptually sound reflective or inquiry oriented teacher education programs The argument is based on the fact that reflective teaching is possible and the belief that teachers should develop habits of consciously informed action Those who promote reflective teaching argue for teacher empowerment within a self renewing profession Reflective Teacher Education offers case studies from seven universities that have organized teacher education programs around the concept of reflection The cases represent public and private institutions and alternative and traditional models of teacher preparation The studies represent efforts to transform the entire professional education component rather than individual courses or isolated strategies The volume also considers reflection as a conceptual orientation commenting on its power to inform and improve teacher education and assessing the implementation of reflection in these specific programs The six critiques raise intriguing questions about the possibility and desirability of reflective reform efforts by viewing the cases from varying perspectives development cognitive feminist social reconstructionist and post modern rarely subject to detailed scrutiny Each of the chapters in this book is concerned with exploring the concept of reflection and considering its contributions to teacher education The papers range across different stages of professional development some focusing in particular on pre service education others on in service or professional development generally Some of the papers are concerned with particular strategies for promoting reflection and how they might operate in a teacher education context others dwell more upon a theoretical appreciation of how reflection facilitates in the processes of professional development and how it relates to issues of quality in teacher education
