Reframing the Early Childhood Curriculum Jane Page, 2002-01-04 Pre school children have fundamentally different attitudes towards the future and attendant notions of time and space For this reason early childhood professionals are optimally placed to lay important foundations for young children's long term development Children's flexibility of thought their positive and constructive outlook on life their sense of the continuity of time their creativity and imagination and their sense of personal connection with time and the future are all qualities that should be recognized and addressed in early childhood educational programmes as a means of counteracting the difficulty youths experience in knowing what to expect in their future lives and coming to understand their roles in shaping them Reframing the Early Childhood Curriculum offers fresh insight into examining futurists and early childhood theorists thinking of the relevance of planning for children's long term needs in early childhood identifying the skills attitudes and outlooks required to assist young children attending early childhood programmes in their long term growth and development exploring the means through which these skills attitudes and outlooks can be achieved in curriculum frameworks through specific goals and learning experiences against the background of youth and young children's views of the future Reframing the Early Childhood Curriculum Jane M. Page, 2000 Argues that pre school children have a less apprehensive view of the future than adolescents and that an effective programme in the early years can counteract the difficulties youths experience Global Pedagogies Joseph Zajda,2010-06-14 Global Pedagogies Schooling for the Future which is the twelfth volume in the 12 volume book series Globalisation Comparative Education and Policy Research presents scholarly research on major discourses in comparative education research with reference to globalisation educational policy and classroom pedagogy It is a sourcebook of ideas for researchers practitioners and policy makers in education globalisation global pedagogies and schooling for the future around the world The aim of the book is to provide an easily accessible practical yet scholarly source of information about the international concern in the field of globalisation global pedagogies and educational transformation Readers will find here the very latest thinking on globalisation global pedagogies and educational transformation in the context of global culture It offers a timely overview of current issues affecting discourses pertaining to global pedagogies and policy research in the global culture It provides directions in education and policy research relevant to transformational educational reforms in the 21st century The book critically examines the overall interplay between comparative education discourses globalisation and education It draws upon recent studies in the areas of globalisation equity social justice and the role of the State It explores conceptual frameworks and methodological approaches applicable in the research covering the State globalisation equity and education It demonstrates the neo liberal ideological imperatives of education and policy reforms and illustrates the way the relationship between the State and education policy affects current models and trends in education reforms and schooling globally Various book chapters critique the dominant discourses and debates pertaining to comparative education discourses and the newly constructed and re invented models of neo liberal ideology in education Using a number of diverse paradigms in comparative education research ranging from critical theory to globalisation the authors by focusing on globalisation ideology and democracy attempt to examine critically both the reasons and outcomes of education reforms policy change and transformation and provide a more informed critique on the Western driven models of accountability quality and school effectiveness The book draws upon recent studies in the areas of equity cultural capital and dominant ideologies in education
