Sherman Crunchley:

Sherman Crunchley Laura Joffe Numeroff, Nate Evans, 2005-11-03 Sherman Crunchley is Biscuit City's nicest police officer but that's just the problem. He's too nice. Sherman comes from a long line of police chiefs but it's hard to be a great police officer when you're the kind of guy who can't say no. Can Sherman find the courage to tell his father he doesn't want to be the next chief of police? Beautifully illustrated and filled with canine capers, this silly story barks out a serious message: being true to oneself.

Project-Based Inquiry Units for Young Children Colleen MacDonell, 2006-11-01 Set in the wider context of the project approach to learning, this book addresses the needs of both library media specialists and teachers in preschool, kindergarten, and primary grades. Educators who want to use stories and nonfiction to promote independent learning in young children will love this book. The reader will find practical, hands-on activities where each sample lesson includes content learning goals and strategies for teaching and assessing learning. Librarians and teachers will learn not only how to guide young children through the research process but also the important why to do this. These developmentally appropriate research lessons are ready to teach for grades preschool through second.

The Bravest of the Brave Shutta Crum, 2011-04-27 Late one day I hurried home. Stepping through the wood alone. It was deep and dim. I could barely see. But I thought brave thoughts to comfort me. A young skunk heads home through the woods alone. Or maybe not. Could there be robbers or pirates or ghosts or trappers in the woods? And is our hero brave enough to keep away? With bouncy rhymes, charming art, a subtle counting theme, and a surprise ending, this story will entertain and reassure any child who's ever been afraid.

I Can Read It All by Myself Paul V. Allen, 2021-05-28 In the late 1950s, Ted Geisel took on the challenge of creating a book using only 250 unique first-grade words, something that aspiring readers would have both the ability and the desire to read. The result was an unlikely children's classic, The Cat in the Hat. But Geisel didn't stop there. Using The Cat in the Hat as a template, he teamed with Helen Geisel and Phyllis Cerf to create Beginner Books, a whole new category of readers that combined research-based literacy practices with the logical insanity of Dr. Seuss. The books were an enormous success, giving the world such authors and illustrators as P. D. Eastman, Roy McKie, and Stan and Jan Berenstain, and beloved bestsellers such as Are You My Mother?, Go Dog Go, Put Me in the Zoo, and Green Eggs and Ham. The story of Beginner Books and Ted Geisel's role as president, policymaker, and editor of the line for thirty years has been told briefly in various biographies of Dr. Seuss, but I Can Read It All by Myself: The Beginner Books Story presents it in full detail for the first time. Drawn from archival research and dozens of brand-new interviews, I Can Read It All by Myself explores the origins, philosophies, and operations of Beginner Books from The Cat in the Hat in 1957 to 2019's A Skunk in My Bunk and reveals the often fascinating lives of the writers and illustrators who created them.
