Short History Of Progress The 2004 Cbc Massey Lectures:

An Illustrated Short History of Progress Ronald Wright, 2006 In these acclaimed CBC Massey Lectures Ronald Wright argues that each time history repeats itself the price goes up The twentieth century was a time of runaway growth in human population consumption and technology placing a colossal load on all natural systems He demonstrates how our modern predicament is as old as civilization a 10 000 year experiment we have participated in but seldom controlled Only by understanding the patterns of human triumph and disaster can we recognize the experiment's inherent dangers and shape its outcome Wright's provocative text evokes striking images across time and space starting with Paul Gauguin's painting D O Venons Nous Que Sommes Nous O Allons Nous Where do we come from What are we Where are we going three questions that perfectly summarize the focus of his lectures In this new edition illuminating illustrations and sidebars complement Wright's arguments and allow readers to witness further evidence supporting his cautionary tale pub desc A Short History of Progress Ronald Wright, 2004 Each time history repeats itself so it's said the price goes up The twentieth century was a time of runaway growth in human population consumption and technology placing a colossal load on all natural systems especially earth air and water the very elements of life The most urgent questions of the twenty first century are where will this growth lead can it be consolidated or sustained and what kind of world is our present bequeathing to our future In his 1 bestseller A Short History of Progress Ronald Wright argues that our modern predicament is as old as civilization a 10 000 year experiment we have participated in but seldom controlled Only by understanding the patterns of triumph and disaster that humanity has repeated around the world since the Stone Age can we recognize the experiment's inherent dangers and with luck and wisdom shape its outcome A Short History of Progress Ronald Wright, 2004-10-23 Each time history repeats itself so it's said the price goes up The twentieth century was a time of runaway growth in human population consumption and technology placing a colossal load on all natural systems especially earth air and water the very elements of life The most urgent questions of the twenty first century are where will this growth lead can it be consolidated or sustained and what kind of world is our present bequeathing to our future In his 1 bestseller A Short History of Progress Ronald Wright argues that our modern predicament is as old as civilization a 10 000 year experiment we have participated in but seldom controlled Only by understanding the patterns of triumph and disaster that humanity has repeated around the world since the Stone Age can we recognize the experiment's inherent dangers and with luck and wisdom shape its outcome

Reconstructing Value Elizabeth Kurucz, Barry Colbert, David Wheeler, 2013-03-05 Reconstructing Value prepares contemporary business leaders for the increasingly important task of developing a sustainability vision and translating it across levels in an organization The book is based on insights gained over the past decade from research involving hundreds of practitioners front line managers to senior executives who have been working to integrate sustainability within their organizations It illustrates how building capacity for managing the complex issues of sustainability requires key process skills that leaders need to develop This book equips readers to respond to the risks and opportunities presented by global sustainability issues and reinvent new ways of doing business that will enhance organizational effectiveness while also building a more sustainable world Each chapter includes process questions to guide reflective practice and to build the requisite leadership capabilities for turning a sustainability vision into a value added organizational strategy Reconstructing Value helps readers to build integrative thinking skills such as how to engage critical complexity strategic and design thinking capabilities to enable organizational change that can assist them with becoming successful sustainability champions within their organizations

The Anansi Reader Lynn Coady,2007 In 1967 then unknown writers David Godfrey and Dennis Lee founded a small press they grandly named The House of Anansi after an African trickster spider god Their goal was to publish groundbreaking new Canadian work in three core genres literary fiction poetry and topical nonfiction Forty years later Anansi is not only going strong but enjoying a fascinating creative renaissance bolstered by both its important backlist and its renewed commitment to seeking out the best new writers and ideas to publish alongside its established ones Assembled by award winning writer Lynn Coady The Anansi Reader features excerpts from ten of the best books from each decade of the existence of the press for a total of 40 entries Samples from Lynn Crosbie s Queen Rat Northrop Frye s The Educated Imagination and Kevin Connolly s Drift are among the treasures included In a thoughtful coda Coady shows readers the future with selections from seven exciting works in progress coming from Anansi in the next two years

Cut Stones and Crossroads Ronald Wright,2015-10-06 Traveling through Peru tracing the history of the Incas from their royal cities of Cusco and Machu Picchu to their mythic origin in Lake Titicaca Ronald Wright explores a country of contrasts between Spanish and Indian past and present coastal desert and mountainous interior In his highly entertaining and perceptive account Wright brings to life a complex culture a land of ancient traditions seeking its place in the modern world Embracing history politics anthropology and literature Cut Stones and Crossroads is a fascinating travel memoir and the study of a civilization by a writer who has won international awards as both a novelist and a historian

How Societies Work, 5th Edition Joanne Naiman,2020-04-28T00:00:00Z In 2011 protesters around the world including Canada called for changes to the societies in which they live Many observers were asking What do they want Some answers to this question can be found in How Societies Work a unique and accessible introductory sociology textbook that introduces students to the structure of contemporary societies and the power relationships within them In contrast to most introductory textbooks How Societies Work explores a broad range of sociological concepts and theories while simultaneously creating a coherent picture of modern societies Drawing on fields as diverse as anthropology genetics economics social psychology history and politics this innovative and popular text looks at both the roots of modern societies and the current structures within them This approach helps undergraduate students make sense of our complex social world and encourages them to connect the social world to their own lived experiences This extensively revised and updated fifth edition includes discussions of the roots of the recent global economic crisis and worldwide responses to it growing social inequality broader global struggles for change the growth of the security state in Canada and the sudden resurgence of political protest in North America The final chapter looks to the future examining such issues as the possible consequences of climate change increased forced migration of peoples and the changing dynamic of global power More boxes quotes and think about it elements have been added to the fifth edition while the language clarity of presentation and many examples make it even more accessible to readers It is an introductory textbook that truly engages students in the sociological imagination This fifth edition is presented in a large format making it easier to read and even more student friendly A testbank and power point presentation are available for instructors upon request What Is America? Ronald Wright,2008-09-02 Following his international bestseller A Short

History of Progress Wright provokes once again as he explores the oldest American myth the endless frontier The Good-Enough Life Avram Alpert,2023-09-19 How an acceptance of our limitations can lead to a more fulfilling life and a more harmonious society We live in a world oriented toward greatness one in which we feel compelled to be among the wealthiest most powerful and most famous This book explains why no one truly benefits from this competitive social order and reveals how another way of life is possible a good enough life for all Avram Alpert shows how our obsession with greatness results in stress and anxiety damage to our relationships widespread political and economic inequality and destruction of the natural world He describes how to move beyond greatness to create a society in which everyone flourishes By competing less with each other each of us can find renewed meaning and purpose have our material and emotional needs met and begin to lead more leisurely lives Alpert makes no false utopian promises however Life can never be more than good enough because there will always be accidents and tragedies beyond our control which is why we must stop dividing the world into winners and losers and ensure that there is a fair share of decency and sufficiency to go around Visionary and provocative The Good Enough Life demonstrates how we can work together to cultivate a good enough life for all instead of tearing ourselves apart in a race to the top of the social pyramid

Carbon Shift Thomas Homer-Dixon,2011-06-22 We are now so abusing the Earth that it may rise and move back to the hot state it was in fifty five million years ago and if it does most of us and our descendants will die James Lovelock leading climate expert and author of The Revenge of Gaia I don't see why people are so worried about global warming destroying the planet peak oil will take care of that Matthew Simmons energy investment banker and author of Twilight in the Desert The Coming Saudi Oil Shock and the World Economy The twin crises of climate change and peaking oil production are converging on us If they are not to cook the planet and topple our civilization we will need informed and decisive policies clear sighted innovation and a lucid understanding of what is at stake We will need to know where we stand and which direction we should start out in These are the questions Carbon Shift addresses Thomas Homer Dixon author of The Ingenuity Gap and The Upside of Down argues that the two problems are really one a carbon problem We depend on carbon energy to fuel our complex economies and societies and at the same time

this very carbon is fatally contaminating our atmosphere To solve one of these problems will require solving the other at the same time In other words we still have a chance to tackle two monumental challenges with one innovative solution clean low carbon energy Carbon Shift brings together six of Canada's world class experts to explore the question of where we stand now and where we might be headed It explores the economics the geology the politics and the science of the predicament we find ourselves in And it gives each expert the chance to address what they think are the most important facets of the complex problem before us There are no experts in Canada better positioned to explain the world that awaits us just beyond the horizon and no better guide to that future than this collection of their thoughts Densely packed with information but accessibly written and powerfully timely Carbon Shift will be an indispensable handbook to the difficult choices that lie ahead David Hughes is a former senior geoscientist with the Geological Survey of Canada David Keith is Canada Research Chair in Energy and the Environment University of Calgary Jeff Rubin is Chief Economist Chief Strategist and Managing Director CIBC World Markets Mark Jaccard is professor of environmental economics in the School of Resource and Environmental Management at Simon Fraser University and a member of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC William Marsden is an investigative reporter and author of Stupid to the Last Drop How Alberta Is Bringing Environmental Armageddon to Canada And Doesn't Seem to Care Jeffrey Simpson is a Globe and Mail national columnist and author with Mark Jaccard of Hot Air Meeting Canada's Climate Change Challenge With a foreword by Ronald Wright author of A Short History of Progress and What is America

A Climate of Desire Eduardo Sasso, 2018-08-27 Written for skeptics and believers alike A Climate of Desire is an unconventional blend of the provocative ecological wisdom of the biblical writers with contemporary insights from sustainability experts and practitioners As we enter an increasingly agitated virtual age and what many affirm is a new period of global warming the way ahead demands rethinking and collaboration It also calls us to reconsider our longings and desires Hence this book bringing popular culture faith and science into dialogue Filled with anecdotes surprising flashbacks of history and concrete and visionary possibilities for change these pages will both challenge and inspire you to follow a forgotten path that's filled with hope for the decades to come www.climateofdesire.com

Global Overshoot doug cocks, 2013-03-13 Global Overshoot is a multidisciplinary analysis including history and pre history from an ecological and evolutionary perspective of the contemporary world system This book compares and critiques attitudes held by people with different world views to the hypothetical prospect of large widespread falls in quality of life It also draws insights from these two analyses to develop and suggest a philosophy of Ecohumanism to people of good will who want to think constructively about the world's converging problems i.e. think altruistically and think like an evolving ecosystem

Learning Citizenship by Practicing Democracy Elizabeth Pinnington, Daniel Schugurensky, 2009-12-14 For many years the fields of citizenship education and participatory democracy have often operated independently from each other During the last decade the Transformative Learning Centre of the University of Toronto has nurtured multiple spaces for an interdisciplinary dialogue among scholars practitioners and students from these two fields One of those spaces was the Second International Conference on Citizenship Learning and Participatory Democracy where close to 300 participants from all over the world shared ideas in more than 150 sessions including discussions round tables workshops and keynote addresses This volume brings together a selected collection from the many papers submitted to the conference Learning Citizenship by Practicing Democracy International Initiatives and Perspectives includes an introductory essay 18 chapters and a postscript and is organized in three sections I Learning democracy in educational institutions II Learning democracy in communities III Learning democracy in participatory budgeting The articles in this book represent a variety of perspectives as the authors come from different geographical and disciplinary locations but they all share a commitment to improvements in theory research and practice in the worldwide movement for deepening democracy and for an emancipatory citizenship education

Blast, Corrupt, Dismantle, Erase Brett Josef Grubisic, Gisèle M. Baxter, Tara Lee, 2014-06-16 What do literary dystopias reflect about the times In Blast Corrupt Dismantle Erase contributors address this amorphous but pervasive genre using diverse critical methodologies to examine how North America is conveyed or portrayed in a perceived age of crisis accelerated uncertainty and political volatility Drawing from contemporary novels such as Cormac McCarthy's The Road Neil Gaiman's American Gods and the work of Margaret Atwood and William Gibson to name a few this book examines dystopian literature produced by North American authors between the signing of NAFTA 1994 and the tenth anniversary of 9 11 2011 As the texts illustrate awareness of and deep concern about perceived vulnerabilities ends of water oil food capitalism empires stable climates ways of life non human species and entire human civilizations have become central to public discourse over the same period By asking questions such as What are the distinctive qualities of post NAFTA North American dystopian literature and What does this literature reflect about the tensions and contradictions of the inchoate continental community of North America Blast Corrupt Dismantle Erase serves to resituate dystopian writing within a particular geo social setting and introduce a productive means to understand both North American dystopian writing and its relevant engagements with a restricted mapped reality

A Double-Edged Sword Brenda E. Novack, 2014-05-19 On first consideration one might not be inclined to view Adolf Hitler and Dietrich Bonhoeffer in relation to Jehanne d Arc Joan of Arc but Brenda E Novack does just that She demonstrates how these three prominent figures who influenced world history all acted in accordance with what they claimed or perceived to be divine sanction of their participation in violence Taking the reader on a unique exploration of their lives and deaths Novack identifies significant similarities and differences in notions of divine call and human response conveyed by these personalities and determines how they align or fail to align with the biblical prophetic tradition Taking Jehanne d Arc as her foundational study the author engages important theological issues such as the nature of revelation evil and morality The process culminates in the construction of a model of righteous warfare and human agency presented as a tool for evaluating claims to divinely sanctioned violence and as a potentially effective alternative to an outmoded and currently inadequate just war model Case studies of Hitler and Bonhoeffer tentatively establish the model's ability to steer humanity away from unnecessary destruction toward justice compassion and peace

Computing Our Way to Paradise? Robert Rattle, 2010 Rattle's new book challenges key assumptions concerning the role of Internet and communication technologies ICTs in globalization processes The author argues that while globalization is predicated upon a strong extensive and interconnected global ICT network of products processes and services the real environmental and health benefits remain far from certain ICTs have been promoted as the next economic wave with the potential to generate jobs wealth and prosperity to surpass that of the industrial era It is assumed the environmental impacts will be negligible or even beneficial in this shift towards a service economy Rattle investigates these current and expected trends in ICTs and their potential contribution to sustainable development His book is an indispensable overview for researchers and instructors in globalization Internet communication technologies and environmental anthropology or sociology as well as a resource for policy makers in environmental protection sustainable development sustainable consumption and the social role of science and technology sustainable consumption and the social role of science and technology sustainable consumption and the social role of science and technology University of Toronto , Global Education in Bioethics Henk ten Have, 2018-06-14 This book presents and elaborates on how the teaching of global ethics in healthcare contributes to furthering ideals of cosmopolitanism solidarity equality respect for differences and concern with what human beings and specifically patients have in common regardless of where they live and who they are Global problems such as pandemic diseases disasters lack of care and medication homelessness and displacement call for global responses The new area of global bioethics is providing answers by arguing that ethical discourse should first of all criticize the structures of violence and injustice that underlie many threats to global health Education of health professionals should articulate that they are citizens of the world like their patients This book first demonstrates that a moral vision of global education is necessary to gain a global dimension It is argued that a global framework of ethical principles is available the challenge is to elaborate and specify that framework into specific educational approaches and models The book subsequently analyzes goals and challenges of global education in biomedicine and healthcare It is shown how such challenges e.g. inequities and cultural differences can be overcome Finally the book presents concrete examples cases methods and practices of global education in bioethics The unique feature of the book is that it addresses global education challenges specifically in the area of healthcare medicine and medical science It combines two areas of research and experience that are usually not connected global bioethics and global education This book is written for all those involved in global ethics teaching in medicine nursing ethics philosophy law and theology courses

Inventing 'Easter Island' Beverley Haun, 2008-04-05 Easter Island or Rapa Nui as it is known to its inhabitants is located in the Pacific Ocean 3600 kilometres west of South America Annexed by Chile in 1888 the island has been a source of fascination for the world beyond the island since the first visit by Europeans in 1722 due to its intriguing statues and complex history Inventing Easter Island examines narrative strategies and visual conventions in the discursive construction of Easter Island as distinct from the native conception of Rapa Nui It looks at the geographic imaginary that pervaded the eighteenth century a period of overwhelming imperial expansion Beverley Haun begins with a discussion of forces that shaped the European version of island culture and goes on to consider the representation of that culture in the form of explorer texts and illustrations as well as more recent texts and images in comic books and kitsch from off the island Throughout Easter Island is used as a case study of the impact of imperialism on the view of a culture from outside The study hinges on three key points an inquiry into the formation of Easter Island as a subject an examination of how the constructed space and culture have been shaped reshaped and represented in discursive spaces and a discussion of cultural memory and how the constraints of foreign texts and images have shaped thought and action about Easter Island Richly illustrated and unique in its findings Inventing Easter Island will appeal to cultural theorists anthropologists educators and anyone interested in the history of the South Pacific
