Memory And The Impact Of Political Transformation In Public Space:

Memory and the Impact of Political Transformation in Public Space Daniel J. Walkowitz, Lisa Maya Knauer, 2004-11-30 Memory and the Impact of Political Transformation in Public Space explores the effects of major upheavals wars decolonization and other social and economic changes on the ways in which public histories are presented around the world Examining issues related to public memory in twelve countries the histories collected here cut across political cultural and geographic divisions At the same time by revealing recurring themes and concerns they show how basic issues of history and memory transcend specific sites and moments in time A number of the essays look at contests over public memory following two major political transformations the wave of liberation from colonial rule in much of Africa Asia and Central and South America during the second half of the twentieth century and the reorganization of Eastern Europe and the former Soviet bloc beginning in the late 1980s This collection expands the scope of what is considered public history by pointing to silences and absences that are as telling as museums and memorials Contributors remind us that for every monument that is erected others including one celebrating Sri Lanka s independence and another honoring the Unknown Russian Soldier of World War II remain on the drawing board While some sites seem woefully underserved by a lack of public memorials as do post Pinochet Chile and post civil war El Salvador others run the risk of diluting meaning through overexposure as may be happening with Israel s Masada Essayists examine public history as it is conveyed not only in marble and stone but also through cityscapes and performances such as popular songs and parades Contributors James Carter John Czaplicka Kanishka Goonewardena Lisa Maya Knauer Anna Krylova Teresa Meade Bill Nasson Mary Nolan Cynthia Paces Andrew Ross Daniel Seltz T M Scruggs Irina Carlota Silber Daniel J Walkowitz Yael Zerubavel Contested Histories in Public Space Daniel J. Walkowitz, Lisa Maya Knauer, 2009-01-16 Historians anthropologists and other scholars explore the public presentation of contested historical narratives in museums monuments texts and festivals around the world South African Transitions Christopher J. Lee, Andrew Offenburger, 2025-01-08 This book addresses the multiple repercussions of South Africa s democratic transition beginning in 1994 by examining a number of themes with local national regional and global relevance the politics of nation building public memory residential segregation higher education media racism trade unionism women s rights and global climate change to name only a few Drawing from the rich archive of previously published articles from the journal Safundi South African Transitions documents both the country s and the journal s mutual history over the past quarter century Divided into five sections the first part of the book explores the broad theme of South Africa s transition to non racial democracy by foregrounding issues of nationalism diplomacy rural change social trauma historical commemoration and political feeling at local national and international levels The second section focuses on the question of civil society including essays on media racism histories of segregation legacies of criminal violence and comparative patterns of incarceration underscoring the endurance of certain long term problems and the emergence of new ones Part three surveys the role of education in transforming South Africa while part four situates South Africa's opportunities and challenges within regional and global contexts to better understand the South African situation and its relationship to conditions around the world The penultimate section has contributions that confront the present by identifying the struggles and crises of South Africa's current political moment including labor movements the matter of land restitution feminist activism LGBTQI rights and the Marikana Massacre of 2012 The book ends with an essay on the fire at Jagger Library at the University of Cape Town by historian Bill Nasson a moment of contingent destruction that speaks of the Covid 19 pandemic and the burgeoning climate crisis at present Traversing across time and place South African Transitions will be an indispensable resource for scholars researchers activists and policymakers as well as those readers who are generally interested in understanding South Africa's social political and intellectual transformations over the past several decades

War Memory and Commemoration Brad West, 2016-07-15 In a period characterised by an unprecedented cultural engagement with the past individuals groups and nations are debating and experimenting with commemoration in order to find culturally relevant ways of remembering warfare genocide and terrorism This book examines such remembrances and the political consequences of these rites In particular the volume focuses on the ways in which recent social and technological forces including digital archiving transnational flows of historical knowledge shifts in academic practice changes in commemorative forms and consumerist engagements with history affect the shaping of new collective memories and our understanding of the social world Presenting studies of commemorative practices from Africa Asia Australia Europe and the Middle East War Memory and Commemoration illustrates the power of new commemorative forms to shape the world and highlights the ways in which social actors use them in promoting a range of understandings of the past The volume will appeal to scholars of sociology history cultural studies and journalism with an interest in commemoration heritage and or collective memory

The Political Afterlife of Sites of Monumental Destruction Andrea Connor, 2017-06-14 What happens when a monumental thing is physically destroyed Is its life as a socially significant presencing thing at an end Or might the process of destruction work to enhance its symbolic force mediating work and presencing power In this book Andrea Connor traces the afterlife of two exemplary examples of monumental destruction and their re-investment with cultural value and symbolic significance In 1993 during the Bosnian war the Mostar Bridge was completely destroyed Reconstructed in 2004 as an exact copy of the original this new Old Bridge has assumed an afterlife as an intentional monument to reconciliation The World Trade Centre in New York has also been transformed since its destruction in 2001 as a place of national mourning and remembrance a symbolic void marking a singular act of terrorism Using recent work on affect and object agency Connor considers their contested reconfiguration as sites of collective remembering and forgetting in new highly charged political contexts She argues for a more expansive notion of reconstruction encompassing not only the material and symbolic afterlife of both things but also their affecting afterlives as they are re assembled in the present Provoking a reconsideration of the way monuments and heritage sites even in their absence become powerful agents of historical narrativization this work will be of interest to students and scholars in a range of fields including international relations cultural studies critical heritage studies and material culture studies Social Media in Iran David M. Faris,Babak Rahimi,2015-11-20 Social Media in Iran is the first book to tell the complex story of how and why the Iranian people including women homosexuals dissidents artists and even state actors use social media technology and in doing so create a contentious environment wherein new identities and realities are constructed Drawing together emerging and established scholars in communication culture and media studies this volume considers the role of social media in Iranian society particularly the time during and after the controversial 2009 presidential election a watershed moment in the postrevolutionary history of Iran While regional specialists may find studies on specific themes useful the aim of this volume is to provide broad narratives of actor based conceptions of media technology an approach that focuses on the experiential and social networking processes of digital practices in the information era extended beyond cultural specificities Students and scholars of regional and media studies will find this volume rich with empirical and theoretical insights on the subject of how technologies shape political and everyday life The National Mall Lisa Benton-Short,2016-01-01 Cover Copyright page Contents Tables and Figures Acknowledgments Introduction 1 From Grand Avenue to Public Space A Brief History of the Mall PART I MANAGEMENT CHALLENGES 2 Neglecting the Mall 3 Managing the Mall PART II USE AND DEVELOPMENT PRESSURES 4 Making Space for the Dream 5 The Brawl on the Mall 6 Securing the Mall PART III PLANNING AND PUBLIC PARTICIPATION 7 Whose Mall Is It 8 The Right to the Mall 9 Envisioning the Twenty First Century Mall Conclusion Notes Index Remembering 1916 Richard S. Grayson,Fearghal McGarry,2016-03-03 A pioneering analysis of how the Easter Rising and the Battle of the Somme have been remembered in Ireland since 1916 The Crisis from Within: Historians, Theory, and the Humanities Nigel Raab,2015-05-19 In The Crisis from Within Nigel Raab explores weaknesses that emerge when using interdisciplinary theories in historical analysis With chapters that focus on knowledge language memory imagining and inventing and civil society the analysis reveals how theoretical applications can be the source of interpretive confusion By drawing from a global range of historical works Nigel Raab demonstrates how this problem concerns all historical sub fields From science in the seventeenth century to communism in the twentieth century theories often overdetermine analysis in a way the historian never intended After the enthusiastic reception of theory for over a generation The Crisis from Within argues that the time has come to pause and think seriously about how we wish to proceed with theory British Cultural Memory and the Second World War Lucy Noakes,Juliette Pattinson,2013-11-21 Few historical events have resonated as much in modern British culture as the Second World War It has left a rich legacy in a range of media that continue to attract a wide audience film TV and radio photography and the visual arts journalism and propaganda architecture museums music and literature The enduring presence of the war in the public world is echoed in its ongoing centrality in many personal and family memories with stories of the Second World War being recounted through the generations This collection brings together recent historical work on the cultural memory of the war examining its presence in family stories in popular and material culture and in acts of commemoration in Britain between 1945 and the present

Lone Star Suburbs Paul J. P. Sandul, M. Scott Sosebee, 2019-10-10 How is it that nearly 90 percent of the Texan population currently lives in metropolitan regions but many Texans still embrace and promote a vision of their state's nineteenth century rural identity This is one of the questions the editors and contributors to Lone Star Suburbs confront One answer they contend may be the long shadow cast by a Texas myth that has served the dominant culture while marginalizing those on the fringes Another may be the criticism suburbia has endured for undermining the very romantic individuality that the Texas myth celebrates From the 1950s to the present cultural critics have derided suburbs as landscapes of sameness and conformity Only recently have historians begun to document the multidimensional industrial and ethnic aspects of suburban life as well as the development of multifamily housing services and leisure facilities In Lone Star Suburbs urban historian Paul J P Sandul Texas historian M Scott Sosebee and ten contributors move the discussion of suburbia well beyond the stereotype of endless blocks of white middle class neighborhoods and fill a gap in our knowledge of the Lone Star State This collection supports the claim that Texas is not only primarily suburban but also the most representative example of this urban form in the United States Essays consider transportation infrastructure urban planning and professional sports as they relate to the suburban ideal the experiences of African Americans Asian Americans and Latinos in Texas metropolitan areas and the environmental consequences of suburbanization in the state Texas is no longer the bastion of rural life in the United States but now for better or worse represents the leading edge of suburban living This important book offers a first step in coming to grips with that reality

The Politics of Heritage from Madras to Chennai Mary E. Hancock,2008-10-29 In this anthropological history Mary E Hancock examines the politics of public memory in the southern Indian city of Chennai Once a colonial port Chennai is now poised to become a center for India s new economy of information technology export processing and back office services State and local governments promote tourism and a heritage conscious cityscape to make Chennai a recognizable brand among investment and travel destinations Using a range of textual visual architectural and ethnographic sources Hancock grapples with the question of how people in Chennai remember and represent their past considering the political and economic contexts and implications of those memory practices Working from specific sites including a historic district created around an ancient Hindu temple a living history museum neo traditional and vernacular architecture and political memorials Hancock examines the spatialization of memory under the conditions of neoliberalism
