Duane Champagne

Native American Studies Form Models For Collaboration Between Universities And Indigenous Nations:

Native American Studies in Higher Education Duane Champagne, 2002 In this collection Champagne and Stauss demonstrate how the rise of Native studies in American and Canadian universities exists as an extraordinary achievement in higher education In the face of historically assimilationist agendas institutional racism and structural opposition by Western educational institutions collaborative programs continue to grow and promote the values and goals of sovereign tribal communities The contributors show how many departments grew significantly following the landmark 1969 Senate report Indian Education A National Tragedy A National Challenge They evaluate the university efforts to offer Native students intellectual and technical skills and the long battle to represent Native cultures and world views in the university curriculum In twelve case studies Indian and non Indian teachers provide rich contextual histories of their programs through three decades of growth They frankly discuss successes and failures as innovative strategies and models are tested Programs from University of California Davis Harvard Saskatchewan Arizona and others provide detailed analyses of academic battles over curriculum content the marginalization of indigenous faculty and students the pedagogical implications of integrating native instructors the vagaries of administrative support and funding Native student retention the vulnerability of native language programs and community collaborations A vision of Indian education that emerges from these pages that reveals the university's potential as a vehicle for Indian nation building one in which the university curriculum also benefits from sustained contacts with tribal communities As Native populations grow and the demand for university training increases this book will be a valuable resource for Native American leaders educators in Native American studies race and ethnic studies comparative education minorities in education anthropology sociology higher education administration and educational policy

Encyclopedia of the Social and Cultural Foundations of Education: A-H ; 2, I-Z ; 3, Biographies, visual history, index Eugene F. Provenzo, John P. Renaud, Asterie Baker Provenzo, 2009 The Encyclopedia provides an introduction to the social and cultural foundations of education The first two volumes consist of A Z entries featuring essays representing the major disciplines including philosophy history and sociology and a third volume is made up of documentary photographic and visual resources

Notes from the Center of Turtle Island Duane Champagne, 2010-10-16 Duane Champagne has been presenting a series of comments on Indian policy history and culture since October 2006 in the newspaper Indian Country Today This book provides a compilation of many of these editorials plus two chapters not previously published The contemplative writing by this well respected scholar are comments and thoughts on a variety of issues that have arisen in his academic work and the classroom but mainly through his direct contact and work with tribal communities The purpose of these thought provoking editorials is to create discussion about the issues that confront indigenous peoples and to educate a broad audience about the complexities of American Indian issues Students policy makers and all people interested in American Indian or indigenous people's issues will find this book to be an interesting and stimulating read of the Social and Cultural Foundations of Education Eugene F. Provenzo, Jr., 2008-10-29 More than any other field in education the social and cultural foundations of education reflect many of the conflicts tensions and forces in American society This is hardly surprising since the area focuses on issues such as race gender socioeconomic class the impact of technology on learning what it means to be educated and the role of teaching and learning in a societal context The Encyclopedia of the Social and Cultural Foundations of Education provides a comprehensive introduction to the social and cultural foundations of education With more than 400 entries the three volumes of this indispensable resource offer a thorough and interdisciplinary view of the field for all those interested in issues involving schools and society Key Features Provides an interdisciplinary perspective from areas such as comparative education educational anthropology educational sociology the history of education and the philosophy of education Presents essays on major movements in the field including the Free School and Visual Instruction movements Includes more than 130 biographical entries on important men and women in education Offers interpretations of legal material including Brown v Board of Education 1954 and the GI Bill of Rights Explores theoretical debates fundamental to the field such as religion in the public school curriculum rights of students and teachers surveillance in schools tracking and detracking and many more Contains a visual history of American education with nearly 350 images and an accompanying narrative Key Themes Arts Media and Technology Curriculum Economic Issues Equality and Social Stratification Evaluation Testing and Research Methods History of Education Law and Public Policy Literacy Multiculturalism and Special Populations Organizations Schools and Institutions Religion and Social Values School Governance Sexuality and Gender Teachers Theories Models and Philosophical Perspectives A Visual History of American Education Handbook of Research on Teachers of Color and Indigenous Teachers Conra D. Gist, Travis J. Bristol, 2022-10-15 Teachers of Color and Indigenous Teachers are underrepresented in public schools across the United States of America with Black Indigenous and People of Color making up roughly 37% of the adult population and 50% of children but just 19% of the teaching force Yet research over decades has indicated their positive impact on student learning and social and emotional development particularly for Students of Color and Indigenous Students A first of its kind the Handbook of Research on Teachers of Color and Indigenous Teachers addresses key issues and obstacles to ethnoracial diversity across the life course of teachers careers such as recruitment and retention professional development and the role of minority serving institutions Including chapters from leading researchers and policy makers the Handbook is designed to be an important resource to help bridge the gap between scholars practitioners and policy makers In doing so this research will serve as a launching pad for discussion and change at this critical moment in our country s history The volume s goal is to drive conversations around the issue of ethnoracial teacher diversity and to provide concrete practices for policy makers and practitioners to enable them to make evidence based decisions for supporting an ethnoracially diverse educator workforce now and in the future Native American Program Initiatives at the College and University Level United States.

Engaging Native American Publics Paul V. Kroskirty, Barbra A. Meek, 2017-07-14 Engaging Native American Publics considers the increasing influence of Indigenous groups as key audiences collaborators and authors with regards to their own linguistic documentation and representation The chapters critically examine a variety of North American case studies to reflect on the forms and effects of new collaborations between language researchers and Indigenous communities as well as the types and uses of products that emerge with notions of cultural maintenance and linguistic revitalization in mind In assessing the nature and degree of change from an early period of salvage research to a period of greater Indigenous self determination the volume addresses whether increased empowerment and accountability has truly transformed the terms of engagement and what the implications for the future might be Culture ,1990 Forthcoming Books Rose Army, 2002

Abstracts ,1996 Ethnocultural Diversity and the Home-to-School Link Christine M. McWayne, Fabienne Doucet, Susan M. Sheridan, 2019-05-09 This book explores family school partnerships and how they can be most effectively leveraged to ensure academic success for students from socioculturally diverse backgrounds It presents an innovative framework for building collaborative learning partnerships with culturally diverse families for improved student achievement and more meaningful ties between schools and their communities It promotes understanding of familial and communal knowledge and recognizing families resilience in addressing academic social and linguistic barriers Chapters reimagine family school partnerships within a context of shared power and authority examine a spectrum of interventions that support culture based modes of learning and emphasize the potential for transformative learning to occur when students out of school lives are understood and meaningfully leveraged in school Chapters also discuss how to foster bridges between parents and teachers provide teachers with access to the rich cognitive and cultural resources of families and enable all parties to begin viewing families as truly equal partners in children's education. The book concludes with a commentary chapter that identifies necessary areas for further research. Topics featured in this volume include: The contribution of racial and ethnic socialization to family school partnerships during early childhood; Fathers and their role in family school partnerships; The importance of Indigenous family engagement in systems of education; Home school partnerships and mixed status immigrant families in the United States; Family school partnership research with the migrant and seasonal farm working community; The role of humility in working with families across international contexts; Interventions that promote home to school links; Ethnocultural Diversity and the Home to School Link. This is a must have resource for researchers, professionals and graduate students in education, child and school psychology, educational policy and politics, family studies, developmental psychology, sociology of education and anthropology.
