Ward, Robert J. Butler, 2008-06-30 Richard Wright is one of the most important African American writers He is also one of the most prolific Best known as the author of Native Son he wrote 7 novels 2 collections of short fiction an autobiography more than 250 newspaper articles book reviews and occasional essays some 4 000 verses a photo documentary and 3 travel books By attacking the taboos and hypocrisy that other writers had failed to address he revolutionized American literature and created a disturbing and realistic portrait of the African American experience This encyclopedia is a guide to his vast and influential body of works The Power of Political Art Robert Shulman, 2000 During the 1930s radical young writers artists and critics associated with the Communist Party animated a cultural dialogue that was one of the most stimulating in American history With the dawning of the Cold War however much of their work fell out Civil Rights Digest , 1968 Faithful Vision James W. Coleman, 2009-08-01 This is a marvelous and sustained discussion of faithful vision and its significant influence on African American literature American Literature In Faithful Vision James W Coleman places under his critical lens a wide array of African American novels written during the last half of the twentieth century In doing so he demonstrates that religious vision not only informs black literature but also serves as a foundation for black culture generally The Judeo

Christian tradition according to Coleman is the primary component of the African American spiritual perspective though its syncretism with voodoo hoodoo a religion transported from West Africa through the West Indies and New Orleans to the rest of black America also figures largely

Reviewing novels written mainly since 1950 by writers including James Baldwin Randall Kenan Toni Morrison John Edgar Wideman Alice Walker Gloria Naylor Erna Brodber and Ishmael Reed among others Coleman explores how black authors have addressed the relevance of faith especially as it relates to an oppressive Christian tradition He shows that their novels no matter how critical of the sacred or supernatural or how skeptical the characters viewpoints ultimately never reject the vision of faith With its focus on religious experience and tradition and its wider discussion of history philosophy gender and postmodernism Faithful Vision brings a bold critical dimension to African American literary studies An insightful interrogation of the complexities of religious discourse in the African American literary tradition Because it superbly translates complex spiritual ethos into literary tradition this remarkable book is a must for anyone interested in intersections of the sacred and the secular in black cultural productions Southern Literary Journal

Faithful Vision both looks intently into faith and shows us how to look Christianity and Literature     Exorcising Blackness Trudier Harris,1984-01-22 By lynching burning castrating raping and mutilating black people contends Trudier Harris white Americans were performing a rite of exorcism designed to eradicate the black beast from their midst or at the very least to render him powerless and emasculated Black writers have graphically portrayed such tragic incidents in their writings In doing so they seem to be acting out a communal role a perpetuation of an oral tradition bent on the survival of the race Exorcising Blackness demonstrates that the closeness and intensity of black people's historical experiences sometimes overshadows frequently infuses and enhances and definitely makes richer in texture the art of black writers By reviewing the historical and literary interconnections of the rituals of exorcism Harris opens up the hidden psyche the soul of black American writers     The Fugitive Race Stephen P. Knadler,2002 They created unsettling moments when white readers had to see themselves for the first time from the outside in or from the critical perspective of non white writers These writers including William Wells Brown Pauline Hopkins Abraham Cahan YOUNGHILL Kang Zora Neale Hurston and Arturo Islas did not simply resist assimilation They sought to dismantle the white identities that lay as the foundation of the master's house BOOK JACKET     Resources in Education ,1970     New Essays on Native Son Kenneth Kinnamon,1990-05-25 A collection of essays providing original insights into this major American novel by Richard Wright     American Literature in Transition, 1950-1960 Steven Belletto,2017-12-28 American Literature in Transition 1950 1960 explores the under recognized complexity and variety of 1950s American literature by focalizing discussions through a series of keywords and formats that encourage readers to draw fresh connections among literary form and concepts institutions cultures and social phenomena important to the decade The first section draws attention to the relationship between literature and cultural phenomena that were new to the 1950s The second section demonstrates the range of subject positions important in the 1950s but still not visible in many accounts of the era The third section explores key literary schools or movements associated with the decade and explains how and why they developed at this particular cultural moment The final section focuses on specific forms or genres that grew to special prominence during the 1950s Taken together the chapters in the four sections not only encourage us to rethink familiar texts and figures in new lights but they also propose new archives for future study of the decade      Novels of the Harlem Renaissance Amritjit Singh, 2010-11-01
