Nature And Lifeworld Theoretical And Practical Metaphysics Odense University Studies In Philosophy V 15:

Nature and Lifeworld Carsten Bengt-Pedersen, Niels Thomassen, 1998 A persistent theme of the 20th century has been a critique of metaphysics But the limitations of this critique are manifesting themselves more and more clearly Among them is the fact that both inner and outer nature have form and structure This volume provides a comprehensive elucidation of the theoretical and practical problems of metaphysics The Ultimate Nature of Things: Pathways Program F. Metaphysics Geoffrey Klempner, 2019-01-07 Is there more to existence than the familiar objects of sense perception or the underlying structures that science describes Are there things that lie beyond the mundane world of empirical inquiry things whose nature can only be approached through pure reasoning While some philosophers today remain sceptical about such a possibility others continue to hold theories that are unashamedly metaphysical One theory formulated over two centuries ago that still finds adherents today is Berkeley's immaterialism the view that our familiar material world of objects in space is ultimately composed of mental entities such as perceptions in the mind of God We shall be looking at this and other similar theories and examining their claims to credibility Scientific Realism and Laws of Nature: A Metaphysics of Causal Powers Michel Ghins, 2024-04-04 This book addresses central issues in the philosophy and metaphysics of science namely the nature of scientific theories their partial truth and the necessity of scientific laws within a moderate realist and empiricist perspective Accordingly good arguments in favour of the existence of unobservable entities postulated by our best theories such as electrons must be inductively grounded on perceptual experience and not their explanatory power as most defenders of scientific realism claim Similarly belief in the reality of dispositions such as causal powers which ground the natural necessity of scientific laws must be based on experience Hence this book offers a synthetic presentation of an original metaphysics of science namely a metaphysics of properties both categorical and dispositional while at the same time opposing strong versions of necessitarianism according to which laws are true in all possible worlds The main theses and arguments are clearly presented in a non technical way Thus on top of being of interest to the specialists of the topics discussed it is also useful as a textbook in courses for third year and more advanced university students Conceptual Principles of Natural Philosophy Gal Yehezkel, 2025-01-13 This book provides a general framework for understanding nature to revive the philosophical study of nature as a complementary research project to the empirical exploration of nature It demonstrates that the a priori research of nature is a viable science by articulating its principles and demonstrating their effectiveness in explaining the most fundamental features of nature time space and its laws The original contribution of this book is twofold Firstly it introduces a unique method for undertaking conceptual analysis The effectiveness of these tools is demonstrated in exploring the most general and fundamental features of nature Secondly it introduces a novel conception of nature internal relationalism that offers an insight into the structure of nature and its most fundamental features Thus it offers answers to some of the most fundamental questions that have plagued philosophers and scientists for millennia concluding with the question Why is there something rather than nothing This book is of interest to metaphysics philosophers of science who focus on the foundations of physics and philosophically minded physicists especially those whose research interests include the nature of time and space Nature and Understanding Nicholas Rescher,2000 Rescher explores the prospect of looking from a scientific point of view at such central ideas of traditional metaphysics as the simplicity of nature its comprehensibility or its systematic integrity The Metaphysics of Nature Carveth Read,2000-11 1905 A philosophic text by Read professor of philosophy of mind and logic at University College London Contents Belief and Knowledge Reality and Truth Book I Canonic The Test of Truth Historical The Test of Truth Analytic Skepticism The Relativity of Knowledge Book II Cosmology Substance in Experience Ontology of the World Universal Forms of the Phenomenon Book III Psychology The Subject in Experience The Ontology of the Subject Natural History of the Subject Book IV The Categories The Abstract Categories The Physical Categories and Categories of Subjective Categories
