contemporary music theory In some cases authors explore concepts that have not yet been widely added to the theorist s toolkit but deserve to be included in other cases concepts are expanded beyond their core repertory of application This collection does not shy away from controversy Taken in their entirety the essays underline that music theory is on the move exploring new questions new repertories and new approaches This collection is an invitation to take stock of music theory in the early twenty first century to look back and to encourage discussion about its future directions Its chapters open up a panoramic view of the contemporary music theoretical landscape with its expanding repertories and changing guiding questions and offers suggestions as to where music theory is headed in years to come

Bowen, Nicolas Dodier, Jan Willem Duyvendak, Anita Hardon, 2020-10-08 This book examines a range of critical concepts that are central to a shift in the social sciences toward pragmatic inquiry reflecting a twenty first century concern with particular problems and themes rather than grand theory Taking a transnational and transdisciplinary approach the collection demonstrates a shared commitment to using analytical concepts for empirical exploration and a general orientation to research that favors an attention to objects techniques and practices The chapters draw from broad based and far reaching social theory in order to analyze new specific challenges from grasping the everyday workings of markets courtrooms and clinics to inscribing the transformations of practice within research disciplines themselves Each contributor takes a key concept and then explores its genealogies and its circulations across scholarly communities as well as its proven payoffs for the social sciences and often critical reflections on its present and future uses This carefully crafted volume will significantly expand and improve the analytical repertoires or toolkits available to social scientists including scholars in sociology or anthropology and those working in science and technology studies public health and related fields

Stanley Cavell and the Education of Grownups Naoko Saito, Paul Standish, 2012 What could it mean to speak of philosophy as the education of grownups This book takes Cavell s enigmatic phrase as a provocation to explore the themes of education that run throughout his work from his response to Wittgenstein Austin and ordinary language philosophy to his readings of Thoreau and of the moral perfectionism he identifies with Emerson to his discussions of literature and film Hilary Putnam has described Cavell as not only one of the most creative thinkers of today but as one of the few contemporary philosophers to explore philosophy as education Cavell s sustained examination of the nature of philosophy cannot be separated from his preoccupation with what it is to teach and to learn This is the first book to address the importance of education in Cavell s work and its essays are framed by two new pieces by Cavell himself Together these texts combine to show what it means to read Cavell and simultaneously what it means to read philosophically in itself a part of our education as grownups

Die For Giles Gunn, 2013-04-12 Cosmopolitanism and Its Discontents seeks to address the kinds of challenges that cosmopolitan perspectives and practices face in a world organized increasingly in relation to a proliferating series of global absolutisms religious political social and economic While these challenges are often used to support the claim that cosmopolitanism is impotent to resist such totalizing ideologies because it is either a Western conceit or a globalist fiction Gunn argues that cosmopolitanism is neither Situating his discussion in an emphatically global context Gunn shows how cosmopolitanism has been effective in resisting such essentialisms and authoritarianisms precisely because it is more pragmatic than prescriptive more self critical than self interested and finds several of its foremost recent expressions in the work of an Indian philosopher a Palestinian writer and South African story tellers This kind of cosmopolitanism offers a genuine ethical alternative to the politics of dogmatism and extremism because it is grounded on a new delineation of the human and opens toward a new indeed an other humanism Lourenço Da Silva Mendonça and the Black Atlantic

Abolitionist Movement in the Seventeenth Century José Lingna Nafafé, 2022-08-10 This groundbreaking study tells the story of the highly organised international legal court case for the abolition of slavery spearheaded by Prince Lourenço da Silva Mendonça in the seventeenth century The case presented before the Vatican called for the freedom of all enslaved people and other oppressed groups This included New Christians Jews converted to Christianity and Indigenous Americans in the Atlantic World and Black Christians from confraternities in Angola Brazil Portugal and Spain Abolition debate is generally believed to have been dominated by white Europeans in the eighteenth century By centring African agency Jos Lingna Nafafé offers a new perspective on the abolition movement showing for the first time how the legal debate was begun not by Europeans but by Africans In the first book of its kind Lingna Nafafé underscores the exceptionally complex nature of the African liberation struggle and demystifies the common knowledge and accepted wisdom surrounding African slavery

Visiting the Art Museum Eleonora Redaelli, 2023-04-23 Visiting the Art Museum A Journey Toward Participation is a book about the visitor experience It is written as a companion for visitors to and inside the art museum The volume engages readers in transforming a common experience the museum visit into a sophisticated epistemological inquiry The study of the visitor experience through an epistemological approach consists of the untangling of the academic disciplines that study and inform each step of this experience urban studies architecture design art history art education and nonprofit management This journey follows a transformative bottom up trajectory from experiential to epistemological and finally reveals itself as empowering The book unfolds as an edited volume with chapters by different authors who are enthusiastic scholars in each discipline and addresses undergraduate students as citizens master s students as professionals and scholars as teachers and researchers Each reader will discover a kaleidoscopic world made of ideas values and possibilities for participation

Epistemic Issues in Pragmatic Perspective Nicholas Rescher, 2017-12-06 This book presents a nonstandard approach to epistemology Where standard epistemology generally focuses on the certain knowledge the Greeks called epistēmē in the present focus is on some less assured modes of information Its deliberations will focus on such cognitively suboptimal processes as conjecture guesswork and plausible supposition This shift of focus has implications for virtually every sector of information management and the book s instigations presented here will explore some of them Throughout the rule of pragmatic considerations stand in the foreground As the book s deliberations set out in detail the nature of our knowledge of reality is inherently conditioned by the fact of its beings the product of what is at best and at most a matter of rational guesswork And so as regards our knowledge we had best adopt the pragmatic optimism of expecting and hoping that our best is good enough

What It Means to Be Human (Colour Edition) Taro Maeyashiki, 2025-09-21 This book What It Means to Be Human Moral and Existential Questions in British and American Literature is a selective anthology of academic articles exploring the wide and complex field of American and British literature from the 17th to the 21st century their moral psychological philosophical and sociological implications and closer deeper reading of a rich variety of texts All chapters engage the reader in a conversation with particular works that throw light on both their own time and place and the issues that are always woven through the fabric of human life The spiritual despair of Melville s Captain Ahab the moral uncertainty of Twain s Huck Finn the metaphysical skepticism of The Mysterious Stranger the audacity of Charlotte Bront s proclamation of female empowerment Ian McEwan s painful reflection on guilt and the impossibility of redemption these essays speak to the contradictions discomfort and desire both in individuals and in the broader community that literature reveals and engages with Even more it is the study of connections

the collection makes between time and genre Thus it is easy to see how Melville s metaphysical preoccupations were countered by Thoreau s gentle yearning for simplicity Salinger s alienation of youth could be read against Hawthorne s tragic dark allegories of faith and disenchantment The psychological disintegration of The Yellow Wallpaper and the absurdity of existence in The Sun Also Rises are cited in the stories of spiritual revolt and social criticism The Fool s ironic insight in Shakespeare s King Lear serves as a connotative precursor for the post modernist fragmentation of the quest for truth as it emerges in the self exploring wanderings of Holden Caulfield The common thread that links this wide ranging exploration of literary questions is the sense that at its best literature does not just mirror reality it ruptures relations displaces certainties and wrestles us from complacency in our understanding of justice love freedom and the precarious scaffolding of the self These fictions never yield clear answers or definitive truths rather they leave us in a state of discomfort and uncertainty amid contradiction and moral ambiguity Moreover most importantly they beckon us always to hear the thoughts of those seated at the intersection of art and ethics I hope this volume will be a space for continued thought and dialogue and a source of inspiration for the readers to return to the literary works to interrogate resist remember and humanize

Ideas to Live For Giles Gunn,2015-09-22 Over the course of his distinguished interdisciplinary career Giles Gunn has sustained his focus on the continuing threats to our collective sense of the human that seem to result from the link between the collision of fundamental values and the increase of systemic violence He asks whether such threats can be at least mitigated even if not removed by understanding as opposed to force and what resources a more pragmatic cosmopolitanism might provide for doing so How in other words might our sense of the human be reconstructed not around suspicion or antipathy toward others but around an epistemological and moral need of them In this narrativized collection of his essays Gunn introduces each one with a set of comments designed to explain his goal when first writing them and what they mean to him now The variety of issues he addresses ranges from the theory of culture and cultural criticism particularly in America the philosophy of inter and cross disciplinary studies and the psychology and politics of pragmatism to the ethics of human solidarity the place of culture in the misshaping of international affairs and the quest of both religion and culture for a new basis for the normative Emerson and Thoreau John T. Lysaker, William Rossi, 2010-01-04 This lively volume explores the theme of friendship in the lives and works of Ralph Waldo Emerson and Henry David Thoreau Written from diverse perspectives the essays offer close readings of selected texts and draw on letters and journals to offer a comprehensive view of how Emerson s and Thoreau s friendships took root and bolstered their individual political social and ethical projects This collection explores how Emerson and Thoreau in their own ways conceived of friendship as the creation of shared meaning in light of personal differences tragedy and loss and changing life circumstances Emerson and Thoreau presents important reflections on the role of friendship in the lives of individuals and in global culture
