Redrawing The Map Of Europe:

Redrawing the Map of Europe M. Emerson, 1998-09-07 Michael Emerson draws on a rare experience of Europe's new political and economic structures from Brussels to Moscow to explain Europe's contradictory tendencies towards both integration and conflict. He confronts the two strategic issues for the Europe of the early 21st century: how to ensure success for the Euro and how to stabilise the wider Europe with a strong structure for EU-Russian relations. He draws distinctions between the different Europes: geographic Europe, the European Union, Security Europe based around NATO, and the emerging Civil Europe. The author argues that Civil Europe could be the basis of a new European golden age and outlines the far-reaching institutional and cultural changes required to achieve this. Redrawing the Map of Europe Rosalind Galt, 2002

Redrawing the Map of Europe Michael Emerson, 1996 Maps Redrawn Amelia Khatri, AI, 2025-02-12 Maps Redrawn explores the captivating history of maps, demonstrating how they've shaped our world, reflecting not just geography but also power dynamics and cultural perspectives. The book argues that maps are subjective creations influenced by the biases and knowledge of their makers, challenging the notion of maps as neutral representations. It highlights how cartographic errors or deliberate distortions have had real-world consequences, influencing territorial claims and international relations. The book begins by introducing fundamental cartographic principles and tracing the history of mapmaking from ancient times to the Renaissance. It then examines instances of lost lands that once appeared on maps but were later removed as scientific knowledge expanded. Progressing further, the book delves into border disputes and political cartography, analyzing how maps have shaped national identities and fueled conflicts, offering a comprehensive understanding of the interplay between maps, history, and geopolitics. Presents a comprehensive discussion of the origins, events, campaigns, and personalities of World War II. Making of the West, Volume II: Since 1500 Lynn Hunt, Thomas R. Martin, Barbara H. Rosenwein, Bonnie G. Smith, 2012-01-04. Students of Western civilization need more than facts. They need to understand the cross-cultural, global exchanges that shaped Western history, to be able to draw connections between the social, cultural, political, economic, and intellectual happenings in a given era, and to see the West not as a fixed region but a living, evolving construct. These needs have long been central to The Making of the West. The book's chronological narrative emphasizes the wide variety of peoples and cultures that created Western civilization and places them together in a common context, enabling students to witness the unfolding of Western history, understand change over time, and recognize fundamental relationships. Commerce and Finance, 1919 The Canadian Forum, 1922. Includes critical reviews. The Idea of Europe in British Travel Narratives, 1789-1914 Katarina

Gephardt,2016-03-03 The nineteenth century was the heyday of travel with Britons continually reassessing their own culture in relation to not only the colonized but also other Europeans especially the ones that they encountered on the southern and eastern peripheries of the continent Offering illustrative case studies Katarina Gephardt shows how specific rhetorical strategies used in contemporary travel writing produced popular fictional representations of continental Europe in the works of Ann Radcliffe Lord Byron Charles Dickens and Bram Stoker She examines a wide range of autobiographical and fictional travel narratives to demonstrate that the imaginative geographies underpinning British ideas of Europe emerged from the spaces between fact and fiction Adding texture to her study are her analyses of the visual dimensions of cross cultural representation and of the role of evolving technologies in defining a shared set of rhetorical strategies Gephardt argues that British writers envisioned their country simultaneously as distinct from the Continent and as a part of Europe anticipating the contradictory British discourse around European integration that involves both fear that the European super state will violate British sovereignty and a desire to play a more central role in the European Union
