Reflections On The Royal Australian Navy:

The Naval Miscellany Susan Rose, 2008 This seventh volume of Naval Miscellany contains documents which range in date from the late thirteenth century to the Korean War They illustrate the many different ways in which the naval forces of the crown have served the realm There is something here for every enthusiast for naval history and for all students of the relevant periods

The Admirals Richard Howard Gimblett, Peter Trevor Haydon, Michael Jeffrey Whitby, 2006-01-21 A biographical compendium of articles on the officers who led Canada's navy from 1910 to 1968

Guy Griffiths Peter Jones, 2021-07-02 In his long career in the Royal Australian Navy Guy Griffiths participated in its emergence from Depression era stricture pre World War II to its reinvention in the 1950s and 60s as a capable middle power force centred on aircraft carriers in the missile age In this time he personally experienced the RAN's darkest days in the face of the Japanese onslaught and its finest hour in the Philippines Campaign of World War II and its close involvements in the Korean War and then the Vietnam War He witnessed the realities of war in positions of increasing responsibility Guy Griffiths The Life Times of an Australian Admiral is the authorised biography of Rear Admiral Guy Griffiths AO DSO DSC RAN From country boy to gold braided admiral Guy Griffiths has led a richly textured life of service to the navy and the nation As a teenage midshipman he survived the disastrous sinking of the battlecruiser HMS Repulse off Malaya in 1941 and went on to fight at sea with distinction in another two wars Korea and Vietnam It is an unmatched record of courage dedication and achievement This is the enthralling biography of a remarkable sailor and a genuinely great Australian Mike Carlton AM bestselling author of Flagship First Victory

How to Grow a Navy Geoffrey Till, 2022-09-02 This book examines the large but neglected topic of the development of maritime power from both an historical and a contemporary point of view Navies have never been more important than they are now in a century becoming as widely expected increasingly and profoundly maritime The growing competition between China and Russia with the United States and its allies and partners around the world is essentially sea based The sea is also central to the world's globalised trading system and to its environmental health Most current crises are either sea based or have a critical maritime element to them What happens at sea will help shape our future Against that background this book uses both history and contemporary events to analyse how maritime power and naval strength has been and is being developed In a reader friendly way it seeks to show what has worked and what has not and to uncover the recurring patterns in maritime and naval development which explain past present and future success and failure It reflects on the historical experience of all navies but in particular it poses the question of whether China is following the same pattern of naval development illustrated by Britain at the start of the 18th century which led to two centuries of naval dominance This book will be of much interest to students of maritime power naval studies and strategic studies as well as to naval professionals around the world

Reflections on the Royal Australian Navy and the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea 1982 Stuart Mayer, Ian Knox, I. A. Shearer, 2014

Nation's Navy Michael L.

Hadley, Robert Neil Huebert, F. W. Crickard, 1996 Bounded by three great oceans Canada stands as a maritime nation with rich seafaring traditions Born of both national and British imperial interests in 1910 and maturing in two world wars its navy is a vital national institution that continues to evolve in response to new and complex challenges A Nation's Navy explores the decisive formative forces of the navy's history and illuminates the characteristically Canadian elements and values that have defined it British Naval Strategy East of Suez, 1900-2000 Greg Kennedy, 2004-11-18 Britain's strategic position east of Suez in the twentieth century was a dominant area of interest and had an enormous impact in the overall construction of Great Britain's naval strategic posture The Ashgate Research Companion to the Korean War Donald W. Boose, 2016-03-23 This essential companion provides a comprehensive study of the literature on the causes course and consequences of the Korean War 1950-1953 Aimed primarily at readers with a special interest in military history and contemporary conflict studies the authors summarize and analyze the key research issues in what for years was known as the Forgotten War The book comprises three main thematic parts each with chapters ranging across a variety of crucial topics covering the background conduct clashes and outcome of the Korean War The first part sets the historical stage with chapters focusing on the main participants The second part provides details on the tactics equipment and logistics of the belligerents Part III covers the course of the war with each chapter addressing a key stage of the fighting in chronological order The enormous increase in writings on the Korean War during the last thirty years following the release of key primary source documents has revived and energized the interest of scholars This essential reference work not only provides an overview of recent research but also assesses what impact this has had on understanding the war Naval Power in the Twentieth Century N.A.M. Rodger, 2016-07-27 It is a century since Mahan and his disciples taught the world that a battlefleet was indispensable to a great power Great and not so great powers still keep powerful navies today but we have no generally accepted principles to explain why In this book historians and naval officers from Britain the United States and other countries study the use of naval power over a century and ask what it is for and what it can do It will be essential reading for modern historians policy makers and strategists Maritime History at the Crossroads Frank Broeze, 2017-10-18 This volume seeks to critically review the contemporary state of maritime historiography as it stands at the volume's publication date of 1995 The volume is comprised of thirteen essays each focused on the recent research into the maritime concerns of a particular geographical location listed as follows Australia Canada China Denmark Germany Greece Ibero America India the Netherlands the Ottoman Empire Spain the United States and a final chapter concerning historians and maritime labour in Britain Australia and New Zealand One concern made evident by the collection is the lack of stable identity and cohesive aims within maritime history the subject holds many conflicting definitions and concepts The purpose of this volume is to explore the recent developments in maritime history plus the growth of scholarly interest to provide a beacon and stimulus for future work and to clearly direct and define maritime historiography toward a solid position in the field of history Warship 2017 Stephen

Dent, 2017-06-15 Warship 2017 is devoted to the design development and service history of the world's combat ships. Featuring a broad range of articles from a select panel of distinguished international contributors, this latest volume combines original research, new book reviews, warship notes, an image gallery, and much more to maintain the impressive standards of scholarship and research from the field of warship history. This 39th edition features the usual range of diverse articles spanning the subject by an international array of expert authors. Sir William Rooke Creswell and the Foundation of the Australian Navy Sheila Dwyer, 2014-03-26 The six Australian colonies united on 1st January 1901 to become the Commonwealth of Australia. One of the reasons given for this federation was that the Commonwealth could provide a common defence. William Rooke Creswell argued that as an island continent, Australia could not defend itself without a navy. He saw no point in having a 70,000 strong army if only one enemy battleship could destroy port cities and disrupt maritime trade and sea communications. Creswell was not alone in his campaign to establish a navy for Australia, but he was the one constant advocate throughout the years from his first proposals on a navy for Australia in 1886 to when the first ships of the Australian Fleet sailed into Sydney Harbour in October 1913. No Easy Answers James Goldrick, 1997 This is a book about navies and about navies working with very limited resources in less than ideal circumstances. A War Guest in Canada W.A.B. Douglas, 2023-09-12 During the Second World War, hundreds of children were sent from the UK to stay with family and friends in Canada as war guests. This book collects the letters of one such war guest, young W.A.B. Alec Douglas, who wrote from his wartime home in Toronto to his mother back home in London. Alec wrote home every week, although sometimes he forgot to post his letters and they were delayed, and some letters did not get through. Occasionally his godmother and host, Mavis Fry, would add comments and write her own more detailed letters. Also included are letters from Lillian Kingston, who brought Alec to North America in 1940. This is a story of exposure at an impressionable age to ocean passage in wartime, the sights and sounds of New York, the totally new and unfamiliar world of Canada, the wonderful excitement of passage home in a Woolworth Aircraft Carrier as a Guest of the Admiralty, and his eventful return to a world he had left behind three years before. A War Guest in Canada includes a foreword by Cynthia Comacchio and an introduction by Roger Sarty. Doing Naval History John B. Hattendorf, 1997-08 Examines the practice of writing about naval history by presenting a collection of papers aimed at linking the subject to general history while improving methods for specialized study. The papers are arranged by general topic. Bureaucracy includes contributions by Volker Berghahn, James Goldrick, Paul G. Halpern, John B. Hattendorf, Robert Jervis, Paul M. Kennedy, N.A.M. Rodger, David A. Rosenberg, Dennis E. Showalter, Mark R. Shulman, Jon Tetsuro Sumida, William R. Thompson, Robert S. Wood. The British Carrier Strike Fleet after 1945 David Hobbs, 2015-10-30 A comprehensive study of the bittersweet post-WWII history of British naval aviation will become a standard reference for its subject. Firetrench In 1945 the most powerful fleet in the Royal Navy's history was centered on nine aircraft carriers. This book charts the post-war fortunes of this potent strike force, its decline in the face of diminishing resources its final fall at the hands of uncomprehending politicians and its recent resurrection in the form of the Queen Elizabeth class carriers the largest ships ever built for the Royal Navy After 1945 experts prophesied that nuclear weapons would make conventional forces obsolete but British carrier borne aircraft were almost continuously employed in numerous conflicts as far apart as Korea Egypt the Persian Gulf the South Atlantic East Africa and the Far East often giving successive British Governments options when no others were available In the process the Royal Navy invented many of the techniques and devices crucial to modern carrier operations angled decks steam catapults and deck landing aids while also pioneering novel forms of warfare like helicopter borne assault and tactics for countering such modern plagues as insurgency and terrorism This book combines narratives of these poorly understood operations with a clear analysis of the strategic and political background benefiting from the author s personal experience of both carrier flying and the workings of Whitehall It is an important but largely untold story of renewed significance as Britain once again embraces carrier aviation Makes a timely and welcome appearance will make compelling reading for those with serious concern for our naval affairs St Andrews in Focus

Naval Coalition Warfare Bruce A. Elleman, S.C.M. Paine, 2007-08-23 This is the first scholarly book examining naval coalition warfare over the past two centuries from a multi national perspective Containing case studies by some of the foremost naval historians from the US Great Britain and Australia it also examines the impact of international law on coalitions Together these collected essays comprise a compr

Imperial Defence Greg Kennedy, 2007-11-21 This new collection of essays from leading British and Canadian scholars presents an excellent insight into the strategic thinking of the British Empire It defines the main areas of the strategic decision making process that was known as Imperial Defence The theme is one of imperial defence and defence of empire so chapters will be historiographical in nature discussing the major features of each key component of imperial defence areas of agreement and disagreement in the existing literature on critical interpretations introducing key individuals and positions and commenting on the appropriateness of existing studies as well as identifying a raft of new directions for future research

Reflections on the RAN, 1991

A Century of Carrier Aviation David Hobbs, 2009-03-19 It is now almost exactly a hundred years since a heavier than air craft first took off and landed on a warship and from the very beginning flying at sea made unique demands on men and machines As warplanes grew larger faster and heavier air operations from ships were only possible at all through constant development in technology techniques and tactics This book charts the progress and growing effectiveness of naval air power concentrating on the advances and inventions most of them British that allowed shipborne aircraft to match their land based counterparts and looking at their contribution to 20th century warfare Written by a retired Fleet Air Arm pilot and an award winning historian of naval flying this is a masterly overview of the history of aviation in the world s navies down to the present day Heavily illustrated from the author s comprehensive collection of photographs the book will be essential reading to anyone with an interest in navies or air power
