Translated by A. Clarke ... A Spirituality in Ministerial Formation Andrew Mayes, 2009-10-01 New Edition, Revised Christoph Christian STURM,1818 This is a ground breaking study into a crucial area of theological education It traces the origin and evolution of the formation model of training and identifies what difference this paradigm makes to present practice It uncovers significant and surprising functions of prayer in the formational and learning process as discovered in empirical research informed by theological and psychological perspectives on prayer among a sample of newly ordained clergy and tutors. The practical implications of the research are identified offering creative ideas for a renewed understanding and praxis of the role of prayer in learning This is essential reading for theological students and teachers alike and calls for a clearer articulation of a spirituality of education as needed by our present culture and context Teachers' Learning J. Wallace, W. Louden, 2000-04-30 Teachers Learning Stories of Science Education is aimed at science educators who wish for a deeper understanding of how teachers learn to teach science and the role of stories in reporting science education research It is a fascinating look at the knowledge teachers have and use how context influences teachers work and the role of reflection and collaboration in teachers learning At the core of each chapter is a story or group of stories written by or about teachers These stories serve as a form of data to build a set of arguments about how science teachers grow and the possibilities for change in teaching This book is designed for all those involved in the science teaching enterprise Pre service teachers graduate students and science education researchers are invited to utilise both the findings about teachers learning and the research processes employed to develop those findings Webster's New International Dictionary of the English Language, Based on the International Dictionary 1890 and 1900 William Torrey Harris, Frederic Sturges Allen, 1911
