Reflective Practice of Multi-Unicultural School Leaders Dr. Roberto F. Casas, Dr. Paul A. Rodríguez, 2012-02-21 We have written this book because of our unique and real concern for improving education for children who are at risk of school failure Whether these students are of different ethnicities or speak different languages the students are not failures but have difficulty maneuvering in a system we call school In order to improve education we have to improve schools and the practices of school leaders This transformation of schools requires change and improvement of individuals in school leadership positions In order to change school leaders and their practices toward improvement we must replicate what is working for kids through reflective practice Osterman and Kottkamp 1993 offered this perspective We believe that reflective practice an approach to educational improvement that is both situational and places the professional in the very center of the attempt to create improvement not only stands in contrast to most other current ideas but has the greatest potential of any approach improving individuals and through them schools and education p vii The book was written because we share professional practices and intellectual interests in reflection and reflective practice We are passionate that reflection has the best hope and significant change in how leaders examine their personal beliefs values and behaviors in such a way that members of the school community realize that it is they who must adapt their practices to meet the needs of students at risk and the diverse communities they serve However before we discuss the importance of reflective practice we need to arrive at a definition of reflective practice Schon 1983 defines reflective practice as the capacity to reflect on action so as to engage in a process of continuous learning Similarly Bolton 2010 stated that reflective practice involves paying critical attention to practical values and theories which inform everyday action by examining practice reflectively and reflexively This leads to developmental insight Another idea by Boud et al 1985 states Reflection is an important human activity in which people recapture their experience think about it mull it over and evaluate it It is this working with experience that is important in learning As for education Larrivee 2000 argues Reflective practice refers to the process of the educator studying his or her own teaching methods and determining what works best for students It involves the consideration of the ethical consequences of classroom procedures on students

Reflective Practice for Educators Karen F. Osterman, Robert Kottkamp, 1993-01-17 This book provides specific strategies for facilitating reflective practice and is the first to provide a practical guide to professional development and school reform from this standpoint The authors show how reflective practice provides powerful strategies to help professionals learn from their experiences improve themselves and thus improve schools and education Applications in every area of professional development and school reform are presented

Reflective Practice for Educators Karen F. Osterman, Robert B. Kottkamp, 2004-04-08 Anyone serious about leading the reform of teaching and learning in our schools should read this book Kottkamp and Osterman reframe the conversation about what it means to lead a learning organization Their reflective processes hold promise for educators as they struggle together to create new possibilities for student learning Nelda Cambron McCabe Professor Miami University OH In this age of mandated reforms reflective practice is a truly effective empowering way to make meaningful positive changes Written for teachers administrators and professional development specialists in schools and universities this book is an educators guide to reflective practice In clear accessible language the authors explain the potential to create meaningful change in schools and show you how to integrate reflective practice effectively into the daily work of schools The book Explains reflective practice as a professional development strategy and its importance for school reform Offers ideas and practical strategies to facilitate collaborative data based inquiry dialogue and problem solving in schools Describes reflective practice in action and illustrates its power to create meaningful change in classrooms Shows how reflective practice is an important step in creating professional learning organizations Reflective practice has the potential to renew your sense of optimism commitment and efficacy as you learn how to support meaningful professional growth shape a culture of learning and make important changes in students learning

How Schools and Districts Meet Rigorous Standards Through Authentic Intellectual Work M. Bruce King, 2016-04-18 Meet challenging standards by promoting students authentic intellectual work. Educators have long called for more rigor and engagement in classroom work alongside calls for enhancing equity. Yet classroom practices and student outcomes have been slow to change. A promising solution is the research backed real world tested potential of the Authentic Intellectual Work AIW framework to meet intellectually challenging standards including Common Core. This book provides richly detailed case studies of successful AIW implementation at the statewide districtwide and individual school levels. Illustrations of collaborative teaming to advance higher order thinking disciplined inquiry and value beyond school. Exemplars of how AIW transforms professional development and evaluations and increases coherence and alignment of initiatives. There is no such thing as a simple formula for school improvement but the AIW approaches presented in this book will help school and district based teams improve the quality of instruction assessment and curriculum for more rigorous and more equitable student learning. It is inspiring to read these educators' testaments to the profound personal and professional impact of their efforts to promote students authentic intellectual work. Fred M. Newmann, Emeritus Professor, University of Wisconsin-Madison. AIW is an instructional game changer. It has brought coherence across our district's schools as we help our teachers help students become 21st century learners.
