Function-Based Spatiality and the Development of Korean Communities in Japan David Rands, 2014-05-21 Function Based Spatiality and the Development of Korean Communities in Japan utilizes the theoretical model of complex adaptive systems and introduces the concept of function based spatiality to investigate the roles of the urban environments of Tokyo and Osaka in the development of Korean communities in Japan Analysis of distinct Korean communities allows for the examination of urban factors of each city which contributed to the patterns of Korean immigration and community formation By utilizing a comparative narrative of the two cities distinctions between the organic growth of Osaka and the planned city of Tokyo are illuminated Additionally the discussion utilizes the concept of function based spatiality to show how each city interacted with its surrounding regional national and global spheres The functions of Tokyo as a gateway to Western modernization and center of the Japanese state shaped the interactions with Korean immigrants Likewise Osaka s functions as a center of mercantilism and second city played a large role in how Koreans were incorporated into the urban ethnoscaapes Taken together these two examples provide insight to the dynamics of urban systems on the development of immigrant communities

The Urbanism Reader Stefan Al, Tom

Verebes,2025-02-06 Positioning design at the center of the debate The Urbanism Reader brings together classic and contemporary readings to help designers understand the complexities of cities and urban design in the 21st century The selection of readings presented here is uniquely tailored to a design perspective for architects and urban designers balancing social issues in urbanism with a clear focus on foregrounding design as an instrument for change in cities and examining the outcomes and challenges of recent design theories design methods and technologies in the built urban environment Covering today s most urgent issues 45 texts explore key topics in urbanism from digital design technologies to smart cities from the ongoing ecological crisis to public health and the impact of Covid 19 and from emergence and informality to economic inequity in global cities Chapters cover cultural issues including diversity indigenous knowledge decolonization social justice and inclusion alongside technological developments while a final chapter speculates on the future of urbanism through readings in AI virtual reality and the frontiers of current thinking in architecture and urban design The extracts are grouped by theme each with an introduction to the historical contexts and guiding paradigms helping design students researchers and professionals to make sense of the diverse field of theory and practice in the past present and future of global urbanism

Globalization, Urbanization, and Civil Society Bagoes Wiryomartono,2023-05-15 Globalization Urbanization and Civil Society is an interdisciplinary compilation of chapters concerning civil society in the global geopolitical context The establishment of civil society is essential for urbanism and the global community because it is the sense and essence of development concerning what humankind is as a collective entity on the globe This thought provoking book covers the multidimensional aspects issues challenges and consequences of geopolitics and globalization on civil society including freedom in the public sphere alienation neo fascism social cohesion racial inequality political narcissism political economic exceptionalism Islamic radicalism social justice and resistance The author brings a fresh and essentially non Western critical perspective to bear on the fundamental challenges faced by civil society as a result of the globalization of corporate capitalism in the Digital Age as well as providing a rich perspective on colonialism This book will appeal to scholars and graduate students of geopolitics and globalization global development sociology international relations cultural studies psychology and philosophy as well as practitioners and policymakers who are interested in interdisciplinary approaches in the field of global studies

Hollywood Action Films and Spatial Theory Nick Jones,2015-03-02 This book applies the discourse of the so called spatial turn to popular contemporary cinema in particular the action sequences of twenty first century Hollywood productions Tackling a variety of spatial imaginations contemporary iconic architecture globalisation and non places phenomenological knowledge of place consumerist spaces of commodity purchase cyberspace the diverse case studies not only detail the range of ways in which action sequences represent the challenge of surviving and acting in contemporary space but also reveal the consistent qualities of spatial appropriation and spatial manipulation that define the form Jones argues that action sequences dramatise the restrictions and possibilities of space offering examples of radical spatial praxis through their depictions of spatial engagement struggle and eventual transcendence A Greene Country Towne Alan C. Braddock, Laura Turner Igoe, 2016-12-12 An unconventional history of Philadelphia that operates at the threshold of cultural and environmental studies A Greene Country Towne expands the meaning of community beyond people to encompass nonhuman beings things and forces By examining a diverse range of cultural acts and material objects created in Philadelphia from Native American artifacts early stoves and literary works to public parks photographs and paintings through the lens of new materialism the essays in A Greene Country Towne ask us to consider an urban environmental history in which humans are not the only protagonists This collection reimagines the city as a system of constantly evolving constituents and agencies that have interacted over time a system powerfully captured by Philadelphia artists writers architects and planners since the seventeenth century In addition to the editors contributors to this volume are Maria Farland Nate Gabriel Andrea L M Hansen Scott Hicks Michael Dean Mackintosh Amy E Menzer Stephen Nepa John Ott Sue Ann Prince and Mary I Unger The City of Grace David Wadley, 2019-11-29 In this sweeping appraisal of the urban condition David Wadley argues that anything less than high level resolution in modelling the well being of inhabitants is wasting precious time Humanity is encountering rising entropy caused by unsustainable economic and demographic expansion Supported by a strong interdisciplinary backdrop featuring systems and crisis theories The City of Grace tackles these obstacles by picturing gracious function and graceful form in a human scale settlement In an attempt to salvage things lost in the teleology of urban development over the last 100 years the outlook is both heterodox and contrarian How long can we all go on in the present way In addressing grace a more elevated concept than those focusing previous urban analyses this manifesto aims not to placate or please but instead to get humanity to face the encompassing realities it tries so hard to forget The Sustainable City VII M. Pacetti, G. Passerini, C.A. Brebbia, G. Latini, 2012-05-07 Containing research on sustainable urban redevelopment presented at the latest in a biennial series organised by the Wessex Institute of Technology this book addresses an area of growing interest The conference series was first held in 2000 These proceedings are split into two volumes Urban areas produce a series of environmental challenges arising from the consumption of natural resources and the consequent generation of waste and pollution contributing to the development of social and economic imbalances All these problems which continue to grow in our society require the development of new solutions Topics include Volume I Urban Strategies Eco town Planning Planning development and management Planning development and management for urban conservation and regeneration Case studies Landscape planning and design Environmental management Intelligent environments and emerging technologies Volume II Sustainable energy and the city Waterfront developments The community and the city Quality of life Cultural heritage issues Transportation Planning for risk Planning for risk Transport models in emergency conditions Industrial wastes as raw materials Waste management Safety and security The city heritage Digital Cities: The Interdisciplinary Future of the Urban Geo-Humanities Benjamin Fraser, 2015-07-30 This book highlights an interdisciplinary terrain where the humanities and social sciences combine with digital methods. It argues that while disciplinary frictions still condition the potential of digital projects, the nature of the urban phenomenon pushes us toward an interdisciplinary and digital future where the primacy of cities is assured. Community Planning Stephanie B. Kelly, 2004-10-17. Community Planning: How to Solve Urban and Environmental Problems covers the basic theoretical principles of community planning and how planning has evolved in the United States. The book defines the interdisciplinary nature of the field, identifies the forces that shape the planning process, and explains the sub-specialized areas of community planning. Throughout the text, the author draws connections between the theoretical principles of planning and their practical applications, leading to an emphasis on the essential skill that links theory to implementation and practice: problem solving. After reading each chapter and corresponding exercises, students learn to link the theoretical concepts with real-world planning problems on their campus, downtown, and hometowns. Several major themes run throughout the text: First, understanding the theoretical principles of community planning leads to effective practical applications in problem solving. Second, using the problem-oriented approach is an effective way of dealing with the immediate situations that confront community planners. And lastly, planners are confronted with their political implications; therefore, discussions about the role of federal, state, and local regulations on planning practice are woven into the text. Community Planning: How to Solve Urban and Environmental Problems provides students with an understanding of the events that shape community planning, the particular forces that impact the planning process, and the knowledge that is needed to link content areas together to solve planning problems. The book is suitable for students in regional, environmental, city, and community planning courses, as well as for students in related fields including geography, sociology, criminal justice, public administration, and economics. The content and problem-solving techniques are valuable for all students in order to participate in community service activities in the future, and the practical aspects of the text make it suitable. New Geographies Stephen Ramos, Neyran Turan, 2009-09. New Geographies journal aims to examine the emergence of the geographic, a new but for the most part latent paradigm in design today, to articulate it and to bring it to bear effectively on the social role of design. Although much of the analysis of this context in architecture, landscape, and urbanism derives from social anthropology, human geography, and economics, the journal aims to extend these arguments to the impact of global changes on the spatial dimension, whether in terms of the emergence of global spatial networks, global cities, or nomadic practices, and how these inform design practices today. Through essays and design projects, the journal aims to identify the relationship between the very small and the very large and intends to open up discussions on the expanded role of the designer with an emphasis on disciplinary reframings, repositionings, and attitudes. Making Better Places Patsy Healey, 2017-08-24. A major new introduction to planning by one of the leading figures in the field. This text goes beyond description of planning's central ideas and practices to stress the importance of its potential to improve the quality of life in the 21st century. Perspecta 56 Guillermo Acosta

Navarrete, Gabriel Gutierrez Huerta, 2024-07-23 Exploring architecture as a form of concealment and obfuscation in engendering new ways of understanding conceptualizing and reshaping the world Architecture is the perfect form of camouflage As buildings recede into the background of everyday life the myriad forces that shape our natural social and political landscapes hide in plain sight Embedded within the spatial and material organizations of the built environment are ideas of value hierarchy and control that tilt the ground and influence perception in the name of endless competing interests Operating across multiple scales and mediums architectural camouflage gives familiar form to obscure objectives Design transforms and encodes our shared environments from domestic domains to digital territories through its material practices aesthetics and discourses Immanent in the periphery architecture's images are internalized as forms for understanding and reshaping the world Camouflage in turn dwells in the architecture of our collective subconscious Latent within architecture's deceptions is a profound capacity to reflect the elusive intentions and surreal ambiguities of our ecological entanglements In masking hierarchies and shifting sensitivities to what escapes perception architecture can engender vital questions around the agency and significance of its world making practices Mediating with and within the background architecture can awaken new modes of attention to material and social layers previously unimagined or hidden and engage directly with the mirrored frameworks that define reality This issue of Perspecta considers the complexities and potentialities of architectural concealment obfuscation and mimicry of the power inherent in architecture's expanding capacity as media In the veiled extents of our physical and digital worlds what is still not found Contributors APRDELESP and Xavier Nueno Guitart Ashley Bigham and Erik Herrmann Esther M Choi feminist architecture collaborative Marianela D Aprile and Douglas Spencer Theo Deutinger and Christopher Clarkson DESIGN EARTH David Freeland and Brennan Buck Linda Gordon Noah Kalina Dana Karwas Andrew Economos Miller M C Overholt and Alex Whee Kim Trevor Paglen Lukas Pauer Nina Rappaport David Sadighian Matthew Soules Jerome Tryon Michael Young NorCalMod Pierluigi Serraino, 2006-08-03 Many people think modernist architecture never flowered in California north of the San Fernando Valley NorCalMod dispels that notion in a copiously illustrated history showcasing extraordinary examples of its proud contribution to the Bay Area and environs As a style modernist architecture was hotly debated in its day why create modern structures where such distinctive Victorian and Arts and Crafts buildings already existed pulling heavyweights such as Frank Lloyd Wright Lewis Mumford and Walter Gropius into the fray Ultimately that existing Bay Region Style would remain the area's architectural hallmark but not before hundreds of important modernist projects many still standing yet unjustly neglected today had been established The remarkable photos in this book open our eyes to a long lost chapter in the history of California architecture and make NorCalMod a volume to be enjoyed by those interested in California history and style as well as by architecture students and professionals Law and the City Andreas Philippopoulos-Mihalopoulos, 2007-05-07 This invaluable guide offers a lateral critical and often unexpected description of some of the most important cities in the world each one from a distinctive legal

Feeding Barcelona, 1714-1975 Montserrat Miller, 2015-01-12 The food markets of Barcelona host thousands of customers daily from tourists eager to sample fresh fruits and grilled seafood to neighborhood cooks in search of high quality ingredients While other countries experienced major shifts away from the public market model in the twentieth century Barcelona's food markets remained fundamental to the city's identity economy and culture Montserrat Miller's Feeding Barcelona 1714 1975 examines the causes behind the extraordinary vibrancy and tenacity of the Barcelonan market system Miller argues that recurrent revolutionary uprisings in Barcelona beginning in the mid eighteenth century forced ongoing collaboration between the public and private sectors to ensure adequate and effective food distribution Municipal support permitted small scale food sellers in Barcelona to survive in a period more commonly characterized by increasing capitalization in food retail while the importance of food markets to Barcelona's social networks enhanced vendors ability to recognize and adapt to changing customer demands In addition a high number of stalls owned by women contributed both to the financial well being of vendor families and to the sociability patterns that placed neighborhood food markets at the center of daily life in the city The shared commitment of vendors shoppers and government officials to a market model of food sales created the lasting and unique market system that persists in Barcelona to this day Drawing from extensive archival research and numerous interviews with individuals at all levels of the market system Feeding Barcelona 1714 1975 is the first detailed history of the historical and social influences that create urban food markets

Compositional Intelligence Daniel Koehler, 2025-09-12 With a foreword by Mario Carpo Given the extensive data sources represented by urban environments this book investigates the potential of architecting for cities using large scale models the technological underpinning of Generative AI Koehler examines Large Language Models LLMs in relation to architectural questions of typology those critical junctures where architecture engages with the city itself Typology becomes the interface between an AI model and its modeled audiences represented languages and scales of operation The investigation reveals how LLMs represent a fundamental shift from comprehending discrete elements to understanding entire languages introducing a stochastic perspective that transforms how we read and shape urban reality At the heart of this framework lies the concept of inductive types threshold interfaces that superpose multiple value regimes and actively reconfigure themselves in response to changing urban conditions By treating architecture as a form of representational materialism rather than a fixed language designers can engage with complex urban systems while maintaining critical agency This approach envisions architecture as an embedding of languages where buildings become processors of information that compute through their spatial arrangements The synthetic knowledge produced by LLMs enables access to plural values and stakeholder perspectives allowing architects to participate in broader material ecologies through computational superposition rather than traditional dialectical methods Providing a robust theoretical framework as well as practical insights into how architects can adapt their notational tools and design processes to embrace AI this will be an essential read for any practicing or researching architect or urban designer interested in the implications of AI on the built environment
