Shifting Centres:

Shifting Centres of Gravity in Human Rights Protection Oddný Mjöll Arnardóttir, Antoine Buyse, 2016-02-26 This book brings together researchers from the fields of international human rights law EU law and constitutional law to reflect on the tug of war over the positioning of the centre of gravity of human rights protection in Europe It addresses both the position of the Convention system vis vis the Contracting States and its positioning with respect to fundamental rights protection in the European Union The first part of the book focuses on interactions in this triangle from an institutional and constitutional point of view and reflects on how the key actors are trying to define their relationship with one another in a never ending process Having thus set the scene the second part takes a critical look at the tools that have been developed at European level for navigating these complex relationships in order to identify whether they are capable of responding effectively to the complexities of emerging realities in the triangular relationship between the EHCR EU law and national law Chapter 10 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 3 0 license

Eickelman, James Piscatori, 2013-11-05 Pilgrimage travel for learning visits to shrines exile and labour migration shape the religious imagination and in turn are shaped by it Some travel such as pilgrimage explicitly intended for religious purposes has equally important economic and political consequences Other travel not primarily motivated by religious concerns and thus neglected by many scholars nonetheless profoundly influences religious symbols metaphors practices and senses of community These studies encompassing Muslim societies from Malaysia to West Africa also suggest how encounters with Muslim others have been as important in shaping community self definition as encounters with European others This volume brings together historians social scientists and jurists concerned with pilgrimage scholarly travel and migration in both medieval and contemporary Muslim societies and explores basic issues Can Muslim travel be regarded as a distinct form of social action What role does religious doctrine play in motivating travel and how do doctrinal interpretations differ across time and place What are the strengths and limitations of various approaches to understanding the transnational and local significance of pilgrimage migration and other forms of travel An image of Muslim tradition and change in local communities in relation to travel emerges which competes with the myth of the universality of the Islamic community

United in Discontent Julia Suzanne Torrie, 2010 The early twentieth century advent of aerial bombing made successful evacuations essential to any war effort but ordinary people resented them deeply Based on extensive archival research in Germany and France this is the first broad comparative study of civilian evacuations in Germany and France
