Truth and Vision in Katherine Anne Porter's Fiction Darlene Harbour Unrue, 2008-12-01 My stories are fragments of a larger plan Katherine Anne Porter once wrote And on another occasion she praised a critic who perceived that all her work from the very beginning was part of an unbroken progression all related In Truth and Vision in Katherine Anne Porter's Fiction Darlene Unrue examines the encompassing themes that underlie Porter's shorter fiction and that combined to create the haunting events of her complex metaphorical novel Ship of Fools Porter believed that men and women are compelled toward discovering the truth about their existence but that the nature of our world makes those truths difficult to discern In her writing Unrue finds Porter explored not only this basic human need to confront the truth but also the bewilderment and suffering that are so often the results of failing to fulfill that need Often in Porter's fiction the movement toward truth is obstructed by the hollow beliefs and illusions that abound in the world by the seductions of ideology and dogmatic religion by romantic love or the vision of a golden past Clinging to such illusions using them to lend a false coherence to their lives Porter's characters are led away from the hard realization that truth requires accepting the existence of the unknowable at the center of life and that what is knowable lies within themselves Drawing on essays reviews letters and notes as well as on the intricate fabric of the fiction this study traces Porter's pursuit of the truth through the creation of a body of fiction in which from fragments of life she could assemble an honest vision of the world Ship of Fools Katherine Anne Porter, 1994 The story takes place in the summer of 1931 on board a cruise ship bound for Bremerhaven Germany The passenger list is long and portentous and includes a Spanish noblewoman a drunken German lawyer an American divorcee a pair of Mexican Catholic priests and a host of others This ship of fools is a crucible of intense experience out of which everyone emerges forever changed

The Dialectics of Exile Sophia A. McClennen, 2004 The history of exile literature is as old as the history of writing itself Despite this vast and varied literary tradition criticism of exile writing has tended to analyze these works according to a binary logic where exile either produces creative freedom or it traps the writer in restrictive nostalgia The Dialectics of Exile Nation Time Language and Space in Hispanic Literatures offers a theory of exile writing that accounts for the persistence of these dual impulses and for the ways that they often co-exist within the same literary works Focusing on writers working in the latter part of the twentieth century who were exiled during a historical moment of increasing globalization transnational economics and the theoretical shifts of postmodernism Sophia A. McClennen proposes that exile literature is best understood as a series of dialectic tensions about cultural identity Through comparative analysis of Juan

Goytisolo Spain Ariel Dorfman Chile and Cristina Peri Rossi Uruguay this book explores how these writers represent exile identity Each chapter addresses dilemmas central to debates over cultural identity such as nationalism versus globalization time as historical or cyclical language as representationally accurate or disconnected from reality and social space as utopic or dystopic McClennen demonstrates how the complex writing of these three authors functions as an alternative discourse of cultural identity that not only challenges official versions imposed by authoritarian regimes but also tests the limits of much cultural criticism

Katherine Anne Porter Remembered Darlene Harbour Unrue, 2010-05-13 This is a collection of reminiscences and memoirs by contemporaries friends and associates of Porter offering a revealing portrait of the elusive and complex American writer From a fractured and vagabond girlhood in Texas Porter led a wildly itinerant life that took her through five marriages innumerable love affairs and homes in Colorado New York Paris Mexico Louisiana California and Maryland With very little formal education she grew to become a major writer of short stories and the author of several books including Flowering Judas and other stories Ship of Fools Pale Horse Pale Ride Noon Wine and The Collected Stories of Katherine Anne Porter which won both the Pulitzer Prize and the National Book Award The 63 reminiscences in this book are testaments to Porter s extraordinary beauty her gift for mesmerizing and charming audiences and friends her yearnings for a lasting home her delusions about love the astonishing range and scope of her reading her sharp tongue and vindictiveness and her final paranoid renunciations of friends and family Along the way Porter formed friendships with Eudora Welty Elizabeth Hardwick Flannery O Connor and Cleanth Brooks whose remembrances of her are included
