Interpreting in Nazi Concentration Camps Michaela Wolf, 2016-07-28 This significant new study is concerned with the role of interpreting in Nazi concentration camps where prisoners were of 30 to 40 different nationalities With German as the only official language in the lager communication was vital to the prisoners survival While in the last few decades there has been extensive research on the language used by the camp inmates investigation into the mediating role of interpreters between SS guards and prisoners on the one hand and among inmates on the other has been almost nonexistent On the basis of Primo Levi s considerations on communication in the Nazi concentrationary system this book investigates the ambivalent role of interpreting in the camps One of the central questions is what the role of interpreting was in the wider context of shaping life in concentration camps And in what way did the knowledge of languages and accordingly certain communication skills contribute to the survival of concentration camp inmates and of the interpreting person The main sources under investigation are both archive materials and survivors memoirs and testimonials in various languages On a different level Interpreting in Nazi Concentration Camps also asks in what way the study of communication in concentration camps enhances our understanding of the ambiguous role of interpreting in more general terms And in what way does the study of interpreting in concentration camps shape an interpreting concept which can help us to better understand the violent nature of interpreting in contexts other than the Holocaust

Auschwitz and After Lawrence D. Kritzman, 2014-02-04 Beginning with Marcel Ophus s documentary The Sorrow and the Pity 1970 there has been an attempt to question the idea of a totally unified courageous and resistant wartime France Even more startling have been the increasingly shocking revelations that the politics of collaboration were a mere extension of a deep seated French anti semitic tradition In the shadow of these developments French writers and philosophers today are reflecting on the meaning of Jewish identity in the contemporary world Auschwitz and After analyses for the first time how the memory of Auschwitz and the collaboration continue to haunt the French These critical evaluations are accompanied by provocative essays on the jewish Question and the politics of race as they have been studied by writers historians philosophers and film makers in postwar France Maurice Blanchot on Poetry and Narrative Kevin Hart,2023-05-18 Blanchot and his writings on three major poets Mallarm H lderlin and Char provide a decisive new point of departure for English language criticism of his philosophical writings on narrative in this study by leading Blanchot scholar Kevin Hart Connecting his work to later leading figures of 20th century French philosophy including Emmanuel Levinas Simone Weil and Jacques Derrida Hart highlights the importance of Jewish philosophy and political thought to his overall conception of literature Chapters on community and negation reveal Blanchot s emphasis on the relationship between narrative and politics over the more commonly connected narrative and aesthetics By fully discussing Blanchot s elusive concept of the Outside for the first time this book progresses scholarly understandings of his entire oeuvre further This central concept engages Franz Rosenzweig s work on Abrahamic faiths enabling a reckoning on the role of suffering and literature in the wake of the Shoah with significant implications for Jewish studies more generally The Oxford Handbook of Jewish Studies Martin Goodman,Jeremy Cohen,David Sorkin,2002 This volume on Jewish studies presents surveys of today s interests and directions in the humanities and social sciences It covers the main areas taught and researched as part of Jewish studies in universities throughout the world especially in Europe the US and Israel People of the Book Jeffrey Rubin-Dorsky,Shelley Fisher Fishkin,1996 A Mark Twain scholar An African American philosopher A lesbian feminist literary critic A Cuban American anthropologist A German immigrant to the United States A professor of English at a Jesuit university All share their reflections on the interconnectedness of identities and ideas in People of the Book the first collection in which Jewish American scholars examine how their Jewishness has shaped and influenced their intellectual endeavors and how their intellectual work has deepened their sense of themselves as Jews The contributors are highly productive and respected Jewish American scholars critics and teachers from departments of English history American studies Romance literature Slavic studies art women s studies comparative literature anthropology Judaic studies and philosophy Nearly an equal mix of men and women the authors of these analytical and autobiographical essays include white Jews and black Jews orthodox conservative reform and totally secular Jews Jews by birth and Jews by conversion heterosexual Jews and homosexual Jews past presidents of the Modern Language Association and American Studies Association and young scholars at the start of their careers Rethinking Poles and Jews Robert Cherry,Annamaria Orla-Bukowska,2007-06-07 Since Polish Catholics embraced some anti Jewish notions and actions prior to WWII many intertwined the Nazi death camps in Poland with Polish anti Semitism As a result more so than local non Jewish population in other Nazi occupied countries Polish Catholics were considered active collaborators in the destruction of European Jewry Through the presentation of these negative images in Holocaust literature documentaries and teaching these stereotypes have been sustained and infect attitudes toward contemporary Poland impacting on Jewish youth trips there from Israel and the United States This book focuses on the role of Holocaust related material in perpetuating anti Polish images and describes organizational efforts to combat them Without minimizing contemporary Polish anti-Semitism it also presents more positive material on contemporary Polish American organizations and Jewish life in Poland To our knowledge this will be the first book to document systematically the anti Polish images in Holocaust material to describe ongoing efforts to combat these negative stereotypes and to emphasize the positive role of the Polish Catholic community in the resurgence of Jewish life in Poland Thus this book will present new information that will be of value to Holocaust Studies and the 100 000 annual foreign visitors to the German death camps in Poland Ruins in the Literary and Cultural Imagination Efterpi Mitsi, Anna Despotopoulou, Stamatina Dimakopoulou, Emmanouil Aretoulakis, 2019-11-28 This book focuses on literal and metaphorical ruins as they are appropriated and imagined in different forms of writing Examining British and American literature and culture in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries the book begins in the era of industrial modernity with studies of Charles Dickens Thomas Hardy Henry James and Daphne Du Maurier It then moves on to the significance of ruins in the twentieth century against the backdrop of conflict waste and destruction analyzing authors such as Beckett and Pinter Kurt Vonnegut Robert Lowell Anne Sexton and Leonard Cohen The collection concludes with current debates on ruins through discussions of Walter Benjamin and Bertolt Brecht as well as reflections on the refugee crisis that take the ruin beyond the text offering new perspectives on its diverse legacies and conceptual resources Political Writings Simone de Beauvoir, 2012-06-21 Political Writings offers an abundance of newly translated essays by Simone de Beauvoir that demonstrate a heretofore unknown side of her political philosophy The writings in this volume range from Beauvoir's surprising 1952 defense of the misogynistic eighteenth century pornographer the Marquis de Sade to a co-written 1974 documentary film transcribed here for the first time which draws on Beauvoir's analysis of how socioeconomic privilege shapes the biological reality of aging The volume traces nearly three decades of Beauvoir's leftist political engagement from exposés of conditions in fascist Spain and Portugal in 1945 and hard hitting attacks on right wing French intellectuals in the 1950s to the 1962 defense of an Algerian freedom fighter Djamilia Boupacha and a 1975 article arguing for what is now called the two state solution in Israel Together these texts prefigure Beauvoir's later feminist activism and provide a new interpretive context for reading her multi-volume autobiography while also shedding new light on French intellectual history during the turbulent era of decolonization On European Ground Alan Cohen, Sander L. Gilman, 2001-04 A profound visual meditation on the trauma that scars twentieth century Europe Alan Cohen's On European Ground considers the battlefields of World War I the Nazi death camps and the Berlin Wall and records the distance between what we remember about these places and what we can still observe in them today By walking these sites and photographing the very ground in which their history has dissolved Cohen opens a space for reflection on their complex gravity and legacy Cohen's images achieve a solemn beauty even as they engage history at its most topical Pictures of trenches and bunkers at the battlefields of Somme and Verdun explore the tension between the violence of the past and the inscrutability of its remnants Photographs from the grounds of Dachau and Auschwitz solicit a provocative dialogue between the ordinariness of these sites today and their haunting memory They teach us as the New Art Examiner notes that the living perceptual connection to the Holocaust is vanishing Images of the Berlin Wall show only the footprint of the barricade that once separated two hostile ideologies They record the physical erosion and looming disappearance of the Wall while capturing its reappearance as a memorialized abstraction Accompanying the photographs in On European Ground are essays by Sander Gilman and Jonathan Bordo as well as an interview with Cohen by critic Roberta Smith of the New York Times The essays present both an introduction to and aesthetic analysis of Cohen s work while the interview discusses the intractable problems of history and memory that his photographs so uniquely capture

Reckonings Mary Fulbrook, 2018-09-04 Winner of the Wolfson History Prize 2019 Shortlisted for the 2019 Cundill History Prize From the Holocaust Museum in Washington D C to the stumbling stones embedded in Berlin sidewalks memorials to victims of Nazi violence have proliferated across the globe More than a million visitors as many as killed there during its operation now visit Auschwitz each year There is no shortage of commemoration of Nazi crimes But has there been justice Reckonings shows persuasively that there has not The name Auschwitz for example is often evoked to encapsulate the Holocaust Yet focusing on one concentration camp however horrific the scale of the crimes committed there does not capture the myriad ways individuals became tangled up on the side of the perpetrators or the diversity of experiences among their victims And it can obscure the continuing legacies of Nazi persecution across generations and across continents Exploring the lives of individuals across a spectrum of suffering and guilt each one capturing one small part of the greater story Mary Fulbrook s haunting and powerful book uses reckoning in the widest possible sense to reveal the disparity between the extent of inhumanity and later attempts to interpret and rectify wrongs as the consequences of violent reverberated through time From the early brutality of political oppression and anti Semitic policies through the euthanasia program to the full devastation of the ghettos and death camps then moving across the post war decades of selective confrontation with perpetrators and ever expanding recognition of victims Reckonings exposes the disjuncture between official myths about dealing with the past and the fact that the vast majority of Nazi perpetrators were never held accountable In the successor states to the Third Reich East Germany West Germany and Austria prosecution varied widely and selective justice was combined with the reintegration of former Nazis Meanwhile those who had lived through this period as well as their children the second generation continued to face the legacies of Nazism in the private sphere in ways often at odds with those of public remembrance and memorials By following the various phases of trials and testimonies from those immediately after the war through succeeding decades and up to the present Reckonings illuminates the shifting accounts by which both perpetrators and survivors have assessed the significance of this past for subsequent generations and calibrates anew the scales of justice

World War II in Asia and the Pacific and the War's Aftermath, with General Themes Loyd Lee, 1998-10-23 A companion to World War II in Europe Africa and the Americas this volume reevaluates the most enduring literature on basic aspects of the war in Asia and the Pacific. It also covers themes pertaining to societies at war, culture, the arts, and science and technology as well as international relations and the postwar world. Included are not only grand strategy, military and naval campaigns, and matters of diplomacy but also resistance, collaboration, prisoners of war, and broad topics of the home front, including chapters on gender issues, film, literature, popular culture, and propaganda. This volume and its companion provide the first comprehensive historiographic reference work on the war. Each chapter describes the state of knowledge on the topic, relating each bibliographic reference to the chapter's themes and issues, and concludes with a bibliography. Recent original scholarship is included when it aids new understanding, and older works of enduring value also find a place. The essays in this volume will interest scholars and college teachers as well as advanced students and serious amateurs seeking insight into the history of the war and its literature.

Perpetration and Complicity under Nazism and Beyond Mary Fulbrook, Bastiaan Willems, Stephanie Bird, Stefanie Rauch, 2023-07-13

Perpetration and Complicity under Nazism and Beyond analyses perpetration and complicity under National Socialism and beyond. Contributors based in the UK, the USA, Canada, Germany, Israel, and Chile reflect on self-understandings, representations, and narratives of involvement in collective violence, both at the time and later, a topic that remains highly relevant today. Using the notion of compromised identities to think about contentious questions relating to empathy and complicity, this interdisciplinary collection addresses the complex relationships between people's behaviours and self-understandings through and beyond periods of collective violence. Contributors explore the compromises that individuals, states, and societies enter into both during and after such violence. Case studies highlight patterns of complicity and involvement in perpetration and analyse how people's stories evolve under changing circumstances and through social interaction, using varying strategies of justification, denial, and rationalisation. Each chapter also considers the ways in which contemporary responses and scholarly practices may be affected by engagement with perpetrator representations.

They Must Be Represented Paula Rabinowitz, 2020-05-05

They Must Be Represented examines documentary in print, photography, television, and film from the 1930s through the 1980s, using the lens of recent feminist film theory as well as scholarship on race, class, and gender emerging from the new interdisciplinary approach of American cultural studies. Paula Rabinowitz discusses the ways in which these four media shaped truth claims and political agency over the decades: in the 1930s about poverty, labor, and popular culture during the Depression; in the 1960s about the Vietnam War, racism, work, and counterculture; and in the 1980s about feminist and gay critiques of gender history, narrative, and cinema. A great deal of documentary expression has been influenced by developments in cultural anthropology, as committed artists brought their cameras and typewriters into the field, not only to report but also to change the world. Yet recently, the projects of both anthropology and documentary have come under scrutiny. Rabinowitz argues that the gendering of vision that occurs when narratives conform to conventional genres profoundly affects the relation of documentarian to subject. She goes on to define this gendering of vision in documentary as an ethnographic process Ultimately this polemical study challenges the construction of the spectator in psychoanalytic film theory and articulates a new model for theorizing power relations in culture and history

No Road Leading Back Chris Heath, 2024-09-03 This by turns shattering and hope giving account of prisoners who dug their way to freedom from the Nazis is both a stunning escape narrative and an object lesson in the ways we remember and continually forget the particulars of the Holocaust No Road Leading Back is the remarkable story of a dozen prisoners who escaped from the site where more than 70 000 Jews were shot in the Lithuanian forest of Ponar after the Nazi invasion of Eastern Europe in 1941 Anxious to hide the incriminating evidence of the murders the S S later in the war enslaved a group of Jews to exhume every one of the bodies and incinerate them all in a months long labor an episode whose specifics are staggering and disturbing even within the context of the Holocaust From within that dire circumstance emerges the improbable escape made by some of the men who dug a tunnel with bare hands and spoons while they were trapped and guarded day and night an act not just of bravery and desperation but of awesome imagination Based on first person accounts of the escapees and on each scrap of evidence that has been documented repressed or amplified since this book resurrects their lives while also providing a complex urgent analysis of why their story has rarely been told and never accurately Heath explores the cultural use and misuse of Holocaust testimony and the need for us to face it and all uncomfortable historical truths with honesty and accuracy

Pained Screams from Camps Aisling Reid, Valentina Surace, 2024-06-17 Detention camps exceed the juridical concept of punishment and crime This book comprises two parts 1 a collected volume that discusses camps not as something of the past but as a paradigmatic political space in which ordinary law is completely suspended and 2 an Italian English parallel text of the war diary of an Italian prisoner during his confinement at the Stalag X B internment camp near Sandbostel from 1943 1945

1 The Human Condition of Exception Collected Essays Edited by Aisling Reid and Valentina Surace Written in Italian and English the essays collected in this volume explore the issue of camps and suffering from various perspectives including philosophical inquiry literary analysis historical description and legal assessment As Agamben suggests the camp embodies the state of exception A dehumanising camp life will therefore emerge every time such a structure is created What happens in camps exceeds the juridical concept of punishment as well as that of crime Prisoners are faced with a useless pain Levinas as it is not the expiation of a fault Prisoners attempt to describe their extreme suffering through their diaries Their experience however cannot be entirely communicated Even their screams which express humanity at the extreme limit of its un power are silenced Given the recent popularity of right wing politics as well as the centenary of Mussolini s march on Rome such research is more urgent than ever The book will appeal to readers with an interest in philosophy as well as Irish history scholars studying internment during Partition and The Troubles in Northern Ireland

2 Aldo Quarisa s Diary An Italian English Edition Edited by Aisling Reid and Valentina Surace Transcribed and with a preface by Galileo Sartor Translation of the diary by Aisling Reid Italian English In 1943 Aldo Quarisa worked at a military school in Florence where he taught literature In October of that year one month after Italy had surrendered to the Allied forces the Italians declared war on the Germans In Florence the German occupiers responded quickly by arresting and deporting people with military connections to numerous concentration camps in Austria Quite suddenly Aldo was detained and deported through a network of camps including Benjaminovo and the Stalag X B internment camp near the German village of Sandbostel For two years he found himself imprisoned alongside other Italians including the celebrated journalist Giovannino Guareschi who secretly kept a diary that was later published as his Diario Clandestino 1943 1945 in 1946 Much like Guareschi Aldo also kept a diary and excerpts are published here in both Italian and English for the first time The diary describes in unprecedented detail the monotony of camp life the cruelty of the guards and the prisoners struggle to survive The text is an important document that preserves the memory and voices of all those who suffered during the war and will inevitably be of interest to readers with an interest in World War II

The Documentary Film Reader Jonathan Kahana, 2016-01-21 Bringing together an expansive range of writing by scholars critics historians and filmmakers The Documentary Film Reader presents an international perspective on the most significant developments and debates from several decades of critical writing about documentary Each of the book's seven sections covers a distinct period in the history of documentary collecting both contemporary and retrospective views of filmmaking in the era And each section is prefaced by an introductory essay that explains its design and provides critical context Painstakingly selected from the archives of more than a hundred years of cinema practice and theory the essays reviews interviews manifestos and ephemera gathered in this volume suit the needs and interests of the beginning student the advanced scholar the casual reader and the working documentarian
