The Animal in Ottoman Egypt Alan Mikhail, 2014 Animals in rural Egypt became enmeshed in social relationships and made possible many tasks otherwise impossible Rather than focus on what animals represented or symbolized Mikhail discusses their social and economic functions as Ottoman Egypt cannot be understood without acknowledging animals as central shapers of the early modern world

Pet Projects Elizabeth Young, 2019-12-17 In Pet Projects Elizabeth Young joins an analysis of the representation of animals in nineteenth century fiction taxidermy and the visual arts with a first person reflection on her own scholarly journey Centering on Margaret Marshall Saunders a Canadian woman writer once famous for her animal novels and incorporating Young's own experience of a beloved animal's illness this study highlights the personal and intellectual stakes of a pet project of cultural criticism Young assembles a broad archive of materials beginning with Saunders's novels and widening outward to include fiction nonfiction photography and taxidermy She coins the term first dog voice to describe the narrative technique of novels such as Saunders's Beautiful Joe written in the first person from the perspective of an animal She connects this voice to contemporary political issues revealing how animal fiction such as Saunders's reanimates nineteenth century writing about both feminism and slavery Highlighting the prominence of taxidermy in the late nineteenth century she suggests that Saunders transforms taxidermic techniques in surprising ways that provide new forms of authority for women Young adapts Freud to analyze literary representations of mourning by and for animals and she examines how Canadian writers including Saunders use animals to explore race ethnicity and national identity Her wide ranging investigation incorporates twenty first as well as nineteenth century works of literature and culture including recent art using taxidermy and contemporary film Throughout she reflects on the tools she uses to craft her analyses examining the state of scholarly fields from feminist criticism to animal studies With a lively first person voice that highlights experiences usually concealed in academic studies by scholarly discourse such as detours zigzags roadblocks and personal experience this unique and innovative book will delight animal enthusiasts and academics in the fields of animal studies gender studies American studies and Canadian studies

Why Animal Experimentation Matters Ellen Frankel Paul, Jeffrey Paul, Animal experimentation has made a crucial contribution to many of the most important advances in modern medicine The development of vaccines for deadly viruses like rabies and yellow fever depended upon animal research and much of our basic knowledge about human health and physiology was discovered through the use of animals as well In spite of these gains animal rights activists have been zealous in communicating to the public and policymakers their view that the use of animals in medical research is morally wrong and should be severely curtailed or eliminated The activists arguments draw upon a range of disciplines and focus on both practical and ethical aspects of animal experimentation Advocates of animal experimentation have been slow to respond to these arguments Given that the worldwide toll of communicable diseases is still immense and that deadly new pathogens may emerge at any time in the future to menace human health failing to defend animal experimentation from the arguments of its opponents has disastrous implications A quick response to an unanticipated threat on the order of the AIDS epidemic is unimaginable absent a vigorous research establishment which in turn is dependent on animal proxies Why Animal Experimentation Matters is a first attempt by research scientists and moral philosophers to mount a convincing defense against animal rights enthusiasts Because opponents of animal experimentation come from a variety of intellectual backgrounds this defense is necessarily interdisciplinary as well In this collection of eight essays the authors scrutinize how animal experimentation actually functions in the laboratory the vital role that it plays in palliating and eradicating human and animal diseases and the moral justification for sacrificing animals for the betterment of human life The subjects covered in the essays include the moral status of animals and persons the importance of animals for advancing scientific knowledge the history of animal experimentation and of its detractors differing theoretical approaches of American and European animal experimentation regulations the heavily restrictive legislation promoted by animal rights activists and the threats posed to research and researchers by violent animal rights zealots Contributors include Baruch Brody H Tristram Englehardt Jr R G Frey Kenneth F Kiple and Kriemhild Cone Ornelas Adrian R Morrison Charles S Nicoll and Sharon M Russell Jerrold Tannenbaum and Stuart M Zola This important anthology will be of interest to scientists philosophers individuals suffering from heritable or communicable diseases relatives of afflicted individuals and policymakers Ellen Frankel Paul is deputy director of the Social Philosophy and Policy Center professor of political science and philosophy at Bowling Green State University and editor in chief of the journal Social Philosophy both are professors of philosophy at Bowling Green State University

Animal Rights Law Raffael N Fasel, Sean C Butler, 2023-02-23 Do animals have legal rights This pioneering book tells readers everything they need to know about animal rights law Using straightforward examples from over 30 legal systems from both the civil and common law traditions and based on popular courses run by the authors at the Cambridge Centre for Animal Rights the book takes the reader from the earliest anti cruelty laws to modern animal welfare laws to recent attempts to grant basic rights and personhood to animals To help readers understand this legal evolution it explains the ethics legal theory and social issues behind animal rights and connected topics such as property subjecthood dignity and human rights The book s companion website bloomsbury pub animal rights law provides access to briefs on the latest developments in this fast changing area and gives readers the tools to investigate their own legal systems with a list of key references to the latest cases legislation and jurisdiction specific bibliographic references Rich in exercises and study aids this easy to use introduction is a prime resource for students from all disciplines and for anyone else who wants to understand how animals are protected by the law New Home, New Herds: Cuman Integration and Animal Husbandry in Medieval Hungary from an Archaeozoological Perspective Kyra Lyublyanovics, 2017-12-31 The Cumans are known to history as nomadic mounted warriors Some arrived in the Hungarian Kingdom in the mid thirteenth century seeking asylum eventually settling and integrating This study collects historical ethnographic and archaeological information on the animal husbandry aspect of the development of the Cuman population in Hungary A Short History of the Hebrews to the Roman Period Robert L. Ottley, 1904 Wild Animal Story Ralph Lutts, 2001-09-12 At the beginning of the twentieth century the wild animal story emerged in Canadian literature as a distinct genre in which animals pursue their own interests survival for themselves their offspring and perhaps a mate or the pure pleasure of their wildness Bringing together some of the most celebrated wild animal stories Ralph H Lutts places them firmly in the context of heated controversies about animal intelligence and purposeful behavior Widely regarded as entertaining and educational the early stories by Charles G D Roberts Ernest Thompson Seton John Muir Jack London and others had an avid readership among adults and children But some naturalists and at least one hunter Theodore Roosevelt discredited these writers as nature fakers accusing them of falsely portraying animal behavior The stories and commentaries collected here span the twentieth century As present day animal behaviorists psychologists and the public attempt to sort out the meaning of what animals do and our obligations to them Ralph Lutts maps some of the prominent features of our cultural landscape Tales include The Springfield Fox by Ernest Thompson Seton The Sounding of the Call by Jack London Stickeen by John Muir Journey to the Sea by Rachel Carson Other selections include essays by Theodore Roosevelt John Burroughs Margaret Atwood and Ralph H Lutts postamble

Confronting Cruelty Lyle Munro, 2005-03-01 Why and how do people campaign on behalf of a species that is not their own Responses to this question provide important insights into the much misunderstood animal rights movement and the people in it who challenge the moral orthodoxy that underpins our attitudes towards nonhuman animals The norm of moderate concern for animals that animals matter albeit less than humans permits the abuse of animals in vivisection factory farming bloodsports and other contexts where animals suffer Social movement theory is used to show how animal rights activists are engaged in the social construction of cruelty as a social problem which they seek to prevent by their intellectual practical and emotion work in seminal campaigns against cruelty in the United States England and Australia

Histological Demonstrations; a Guide to the Microscopical Examination of the Animal Tissues in Health and Disease George Harley, 1866 Animal Breeding Orville L. Bondoc, 2008 This book is an outstanding contribution to the very meager list of books and reading materials available to Filipino teachers students and practitioners working on animal improvement Dr Bondoc offers scholarly breeding principles based on his years of experience and research A Short History of the American Negro Benjamin Brawley, 1913 Using Animal Models in Biomedical Research Pierce K. H. Chow, Robert T. H. Ng, Bryan E. Ogden, 2008 Animal models play crucial roles in the continuum of experimental activities that make up biomedical research This book fills this gap in knowledge and provides material not easily sourced by the average biomedical researcher such as current information biosafety animal protocol design and histological pathological support
