The Art and Architecture of Islam 1250-1800 Sheila S. Blair, Jonathan M. Bloom, 1996-09-25 They discuss for example how the universal caliphs of the first six centuries gave way to regional rulers and how in this new world order Iranian forms techniques and motifs played a dominant role in the artistic life of most of the Muslim world the one exception was the Maghrib an area protected from the full brunt of the Mongol invasions where traditional models continued to inspire artists and patrons By the sixteenth century say the authors the eastern Mediterranean under the Ottomans and the area of northern India under the Mughals had become more powerful and the Iranian models of early Ottoman and Mughal art gradually gave way to distinct regional and imperial styles Subject Guide to Children's Books in Print 1997 Bowker Editorial Staff, R R Bowker Publishing, 1996-09

The Cambridge History of Turkey Kate Fleet, Suraiya N. Faroqi, Reşat Kasaba, 2006-11-02 Volume 3 of The Cambridge History of Turkey covers the period from 1603 to 1839 Artisans, Sufis, Shrines Hussain Ahmad Khan, 2014-12-19 In nineteenth century Punjab a cultural tug of war ensued as both Sufi mystics and British officials aimed to engage the local artisans as a means of realizing their ideological ambitions When it came to influence and impact the Sufi shrines had a huge advantage over the colonial art institutions such as the Mayo School of Arts in Lahore The mystically inspired shrines built as a statement of Muslim ruling ambitions were better suited to the task of appealing to local art traditions By contrast the colonial institutions rooted in the Positivist Romanticism of the Victorian West found assimilation to be more of a challenge In questioning their relative success and failures at influencing local culture the book explores the extent to which political control translates into cultural influence Folktales Sufi shrines colonial architecture institutional education methods and museum exhibitions all provide a wealth of sources for revealing the complex dynamic between the Punjabi artisans the Sufi community and the colonial British In this unique look at a little explored aspect of India s history Hussain Ahmad Khan explores this evidence in order to illuminate this web of cultural influences Examining the Sufi artisan relationship within the various contexts of political revolt the decline of the Mughals and the struggle of the Sufis to establish an Islamic state this book argues that Sufi shrines were initially constructed with the aim of affirming a distinct Muslim identity At the same time art institutions established by colonial officials attempted to promote eclectic architecture representing the British Indian empire as well as to revive the pre colonial traditions with which they had previously seemed out of touch This important book sheds new light on the dynamics of power and culture in the British Empire

Islam and the Religious Arts Patricia Baker, 2004-05-11 Aimed at educationalists and students interested in the world of Islam this work reveals something of the rich variety and diversity of the religious arts of Islam an aspect of Islamic art which still remains misunderstood and under researched Rather than concentrating solely on the Middle East it includes examples of visual expression from West Africa to South east Asia and beyond from the first century of Islamic history to the present day while drawing the readers attention to the enduring impact of 19th century Western perceptions of Islamic art as traditional and decorative pertaining more to the world of crafts rather than that of fine art The relationship between Islamic theological opinion the artist maker and the object is explored in this discussion of religious artistic expression from early Islamic calligraphy and the mosque to contemporary Iranian poster art from prayer rugs to sufi performance and modern Islamic dress
