Silence Now New And Uncollected Earlier Poems:

The Silence Now May Sarton, 1990 A collection of poems exploring the events and emotions of old age in the contemporary world includes Sarton's latest works and a selection of earlier poems never before published The Creative Crone Sylvia Henneberg, 2010 Henneberg shows how these writers offer radically different but richly complementary strategies for breaking the silence surrounding age Rich provides an approach to aging so strongly intertwined with other political issues that its complexity may keep us from immediately identifying age as one of her chief concerns On the other hand Sarton's direct treatment of aging sensitizes us to its importance and helps us see its significance in such writings as Rich's Meanwhile Rich's efforts to politicize age create stimulating contexts for Sarton's work Henneberg explores elements of these writers' individual poems that develop themes of aging including imagery and symbol the construction of a persona and the uses of rhythms to reinforce the themes She also includes analyses of their fiction and nonfiction works and draws ideas from age studies by scholars such as Margaret Morganroth Gullette Kathleen Woodward and Thomas Cole From publisher description Conversations with May Sarton May Sarton, 1991 With increasing candor and openness May Sarton's conversations have given an intimate view of her honest courageous inner life Best known to her many readers as a novelist and keeper of journals Sarton sees herself pre-eminently as a poet In the interviews collected here she speaks forthrightly about herself her independence and her writing Although born in Belgium Sarton is quintessentially American in her choice of solitude on which her personal well-being and writing depend She is a modernist who has defined herself as an artist with the occasionally painful recognition that all else must finally be subordinated to her writing Her journal After the Stroke makes clear that when she cannot write she stands on the edge of the abyss of nonbeing These interviews offer Sarton's readers the model of a woman who has supported herself as a writer of achievement who has made her way without the comforts of academic tenure grants or bestseller listings A House of Gathering Marilyn Kallet, 1993 May Sarton has been writing and publishing poetry for over sixty years A House of Gathering gives her poetry long overdue critical attention and discusses Sarton's place among modern and contemporary world authors As working poets the contributors offer knowledgeable discussions of Sarton's craft The essays cover a broad range of topics from Pastan's memoirs of Sarton as her teacher at Radcliffe in the 1950s to Charlotte Mandel's close scrutiny of Sarton's poetic forms in her earliest collections to Bobby Caudle Rogers's consideration of the poetic sequence as a form in contemporary American poetry to Keith Norris's reading of Sarton as a postmodernist William Stafford's essay on Sarton's A Private Mythology offers eloquent testimony as to the poet's breakthrough in mid-career In addition A House of Gathering includes an original interview with May Sarton a recent poem Friendship and Illness working drafts for Old Lovers at the Ballet a letter from Sarton to H D and several original photographs These essays will appeal to readers interested in poetry and literature in general in women's studies and in May Sarton May Sarton Selected Letters 1955 To 1995 May Sarton, 2002-06-04 All her life May Sarton carried on a voluminous private correspondence with family friends and lovers Early childhood into middle age covers topics of theater study travel teaching and the anguish as World War II approaches Later joys of flowers affection for animals and illustrious acquaintances and intimates both here and abroad are shown The Art of Growing Older Wayne C.

Booth,1996-12-15 Culled chiefly from great literary works this unusual compendium of prose and poetry excerpts highlights the physical and emotional aspects of aging Although Booth The Rhetoric of Fiction age 71 includes such cheery banal verse as I Haven't Lost My Marbles Yet Minnie Hodapp he has tailored this collection to encompass the unpleasant truths about aging William Butler Yeats's Sailing to Byzantium and excerpts from Simone de Beauvoir's The Coming of Age offer realistic assessments of the perils and possible consolations of aging The thoughtful commentary with which Booth connects the selections reminds readers that physical decay and fear of death are conditions common to us all This provocative collection braces rather than comforts I Remember You Laynee Gilbert,2000-10 Saying Goodbye Edward A. White,1990-01-01

Leaving a pastorate is hard on both congregation and pastor Learn how to make this transition a growth experience for all Written for congregations and pastors Saying Goodbye skillfully weaves accounts from clergy laity and educators of seven denominations with White's own insight as a former General Presbyterian to create a resource for meaningful and healthy partings Includes examples of a farewell worship service and litany for closure of a ministry The Education of Harriet Hatfield May Sarton,1993 Harriet Hatfield begins a new life at the age of 60 after her lover of 30 years has died and left her comfortably well off But when Harriet opens a bookstore for women in a blue collar neighborhood of Boston she is viciously attacked for her lesbianism Ms Sarton's powerful portrayal of the shy reserved woman's battle becomes a moving statement about the place of the outsider in our world and the necessity of following the human heart Dallas Morning News

The Key To Everything Gerry Pearlberg,1995 The powerful selection of forty four classic lesbian love poems in this collection by no means adheres to the simple love poem formula A broad range of moods and experiences is presented here celebratory erotic passionate humorous tender and wry The diversity of voices represented in this volume provides constant surprises forty four nuanced singular treatments of this age old theme from a lesbian perspective Research Guide to Biography and Criticism: 1990 update ,1985 Denise Levertov Dana Greene,2012-09-14 Levertov was the quintessential romantic She wanted to live vividly intensely passionately and on a grand scale Once she acclimated herself to America the dreamy lyric poetry of her early years gave way to the joy and wonder of ordinary life By the late 1960s and early 1970s however her poems began to engage the issues of her times The crystalline and luminous poetry of her last years stands as final witness to a lifetime of searching for the mystery embedded in life itself This volume represents the first attempt to set Levertov s poetry within the framework of her often tumultuous life New Books on Women and Feminism ,1989 Contemporary Lesbian Writers of the United States Sandra Pollack,Denise Knight,1993-10-11 The first comprehensive biographical critical and bibliographical source on lesbian writers this reference book features essays on 100 contemporary writers of poetry fiction and drama in the United States Many had written as self identified lesbians at some point during the 1970-1992 period of coverage. Each essay comprises a biography with personal history often derived from interviews, an analysis of major works and themes, an overview of the critical reception and bibliographies of primary works and of critical studies and reviews. The volume introduction by Tucker P. Farley situates contemporary lesbian literature in its historical and political contexts. Appendices list publishers of lesbian writers and periodicals featuring lesbian writing. An extensive bibliography provides nonfiction resources focusing on lesbian issues including works in psychology, sexuality, parenting, health, history, and theory as well as literature. A companion to Contemporary Gay American Novelists: A Bio-Bibliographical Critical Sourcebook edited by Emmanuel S. Nelson. Greenwood Press, 1993. This work will be an important addition to college and university libraries supporting gay and lesbian and women's studies programs and literary curricula incorporating this material. It will also be a valuable resource for public and school libraries and collections and specialists in American literature providing information and analysis for understanding the expanding literary canon. Something about the Author Hile, 1996. Provides biographical information on over 100 authors of books for young readers.
