The Necropolitical Theater Jeffrey K. Coleman, 2020-05-15 The Necropolitical Theater Race and Immigration on the Contemporary Spanish Stage demonstrates how theatrical production in Spain since the early 1990s has reflected national anxieties about immigration and race Jeffrey K Coleman argues that Spain has developed a necropolitical theater that casts the non European immigrant as fictionalized enemy one whose nonwhiteness is incompatible with Spanish national identity and therefore poses a threat to the very Europeaness of Spain The fate of the immigrant in the necropolitical theater is death either physical or metaphysical which preserves the status quo and provides catharsis for the spectator faced with the notion of racial diversity Marginalization forced assimilation and physical death are outcomes suffered by Latin American North African and sub Saharan African characters respectively and in these differential outcomes determined by skin color Coleman identifies an inherent racial hierarchy informed by the legacies of colonization and religious intolerance Drawing on theatrical texts performances legal documents interviews and critical reviews this book challenges Spanish theater to develop a new theatrical space Jeffrey K Coleman proposes a convivial theater that portrays immigrants as contributors to the Spanish state and better represents the multicultural reality of the nation today

Guarding Cultural Memory Flora Mar a Gonzlez Mandri, 2006 In Guarding Cultural Memory Flora Gonz lez Mandri examines the vibrant and uniquely illuminating post Revolutionary creative endeavors of Afro Cuban women Taking on the question of how African diaspora cultures practice remembrance she reveals the ways in which these artists restage the confrontations between modernity and tradition Gonz lez Mandri considers the work of the poet and cultural critic Nancy Morej n the poet Excilia Salda a the filmmaker Gloria Rolando and the artists Mar a Magdalena Campos Pons and Belkis Ay n In their cultural representations these women conflate the artistic the historical and the personal to produce a transformative image of the black woman as a forger of Cuban culture They achieve this in several ways by redefining autobiography as a creative expression for the convergence of the domestic and the national by countering the eroticized image of the mulatta in favor of a mythical conception of the female body as a site for the engraving of cultural and national conflicts and resolutions and by valorizing certain aesthetic and religious traditions in relation to a postmodern artistic sensibility Placing these artists in their historical context Gonz lez Mandri shows how their accomplishments were consistently silenced in official Cuban history and culture and explores the strategies through which culturally censored memories survived and continue to survive in a Caribbean country purported to have integrated its Hispanic and African peoples and heritages into a Cuban identity The picture that finally emerges is one not only of exceptional artistic achievement but also of successful redefinitions of concepts of race gender and nation in the face of almost insurmountable cultural odds Seeing in Spanish Ryan Prout, Tilmann Altenberg, 2011-05-25 Seeing in Spanish brings together 22 chapters which share a focus on aspects of visual cultures from the Spanish speaking world Together these chapters address film photography cover art body art posters television architecture ekphrasis biography murals graffiti and digital photo montage Between Don Quixote and Daddy Yankee the essays move from the seventeenth century to the present and traverse Europe the Americas and cyberspace The book is divided into five sections The first of these on Spain includes chapters on the representation of women on LP covers in Spain in the 60s and 70s portrayals in Spanish cinema of Saint Teresa Luis Bu uel s adaptation of Tristana urban and rural space in recent Spanish documentary film Catalan television fine art in Don Quixote and visions of adoption in three narratives by Spanish writers and filmmakers The second section on Mexico and Peru includes chapters on the fragmentary body in images of Mexico the art of Abraham ngel Jes s Ruiz Durand s agrarian reform posters Diego Rivera s murals and the role of artistic production in staging the 2006 Oaxaca conflict The third section on Cuba looks at the portrayal of women and of children in recent cinema from the island It also examines Nancy Morej n s celebration of the life and art of exiled Cuban artist Ana Mendieta Section four includes chapters on Chile and Argentina It addresses street art and graffiti new forms of publishing Chilean cinema after Pinochet and Violeta Parra s appliqu and collage works Section five embraces Colombia Bolivia and virtual spaces The contributions to this last section of the book examine childhood in Colombian cinema the online creativity of pro and anti fans of reggaeton and the photographic diaries of T Ifor Rees the UK s first ambassador to Bolivia In addition to the geo political structure which underpins the book s five sections the introduction suggests pathways through the contributions focussed on public art and graffiti women children cyberspace and diplomacy and reconstruction and disintegration Seeing in Spanish includes 50 illustrations stills from films photographs reproductions of paintings and screen grabs from the internet which complement the chapters analyses of aspects of Hispanic visual cultures To aid accessibility footnotes throughout the book provide English translations of all references from texts in other languages Taken together the book s 22 chapters make a valuable contribution to the existing literature on figures like Don Quixote and Saint Teresa They also break new ground in approaches to novel areas of scholarship such as sleeve design artisanal book production and

Rebel (M)Others in African American and Afro-Cuban Women's Writing Paula Sanmartin,2014-03-28 This book is an essential addition to the study of comparative black literature of the Americas it will also fill the gap that exists on theoretical studies exploring black women's writing from the Spanish Caribbean This book examines literary representations of the historic roots of black women's resistance in the United States and Cuba by studying the following texts by both African American and Afro Cuban women from four different literary genres autobiographical slave narrative contemporary novel on slavery testimonial narrative and poetry Incidents in the Life of a Slave Girl 1861 by the African American former slave Harriet Jacobs Dessa Rose 1986 by the African American writer Sherley Ann Williams Reyita sencillamente testimonio de una negra cubana nonagenarian Simply Reyita Testimonial Narrative of a Nonagenarian Black Cuban Woman 1996 written transcribed by the Afro Cuban historian Daisy Rubiera Castillo from her interviews with her mother Mar a de los Reyes Castillo Bueno Reyita and a selection of poems from the contemporary Afro Cuban poets Nancy Morej n and Georgina Herrera The study argues that the writers participate in black women's self inscription in the historical process by positioning themselves as subjects of their history and seizing discursive control of their histories Although the texts form part of separate discourses the book explores the commonalities of the rhetorical devices and narrative strategies employed by the authors as they disassemble racist and sexist stereotypes re constructing black female subjectivity through an image of active resistance against oppression one that authorizes unconventional definitions of womanhood and motherhood The book shows that in the women's revisions of national history their writings also demonstrate the pervasive role of racial and gender categories in the creation of a discourse of national identity while promoting a historiography constructed within flexible borders that need to be negotiated constantly The study's engagement in crosscultural exploration constitutes a step further in opening connections with a comparative literary study that is theoretically engaging in order to include Afro Cuban women writers and Afro Caribbean scholars into scholarly discussions in which African American women have already managed to participate with a series of critical texts The book explores connections between methods and perspectives derived from Western theories and from Caribbean and Black studies while recognizing the black women authors studied as critics and scholars In this sense the book includes some of the writers own commentaries about their work taken from interviews many of them conducted by the author Paula Sanmart n herself as well as critical essays and letters Black Women as Custodians of History adds a new dimension to the body of existing criticism by challenging the ways assumptions have shaped how literature is read by black women writers Paula Sanmart n's study is a vivid demonstration of the strengths of embarking on multidisciplinary study This book will be useful to several disciplines and areas of study such as African diaspora studies African American studies Afro Latin American and Afro Caribbean studies women's studies genre studies and slavery studies

Branche,2021-04-30 Imagine the tension that existed between the emerging nations and governments throughout the Latin American world and the cultural life of former enslaved Africans and their descendants A world of cultural production in the form of literature poetry art music and eventually film would often simultaneously contravene or cooperate with the newly established order of Latin American nations negotiating independence and a new political and cultural balance In Black Writing Culture and the State in Latin America Jerome Branche presents the reader with the complex landscape of art and literature among Afro Hispanic and Latin artists Branche and his contributors describe individuals such as Juan Francisco Manzano who wrote an autobiography on the slave experience in Cuba during the nineteenth century The reader finds a thriving Afro Hispanic theatrical presence throughout Latin America and even across the Atlantic The role of black women in poetry and literature comes to the forefront in the Caribbean presenting a powerful reminder of the diversity that defines the region All too often the disciplines of film studies literary criticism and art history ignore the opportunity to collaborate in a dialogue Branche and his contributors present a unified approach however suggesting that cultural production should not be viewed narrowly especially when studying the achievements of the Afro Latin world 2023 Günter Berghaus,Dalila
