first collection in English devoted to the poems and brings together many of the leading figures in the field of Latin literature and Ovidian studies from the British Isles Germany Italy and the United States It offers a range of perspectives on the poetics politics and erotics of the poems beginning with a critical survey of recent research and concluding with papers on the ancient medieval and modern reception of the poems

The Psychology of Secrets Anita E. Kelly, 2012-12-06 On an MTV special aired in 2000 young interviewees were asked to confess the worse thing they were ever told during a romantic breakup One person tearfully responded that I suck in bed More recently an acquaintance of mine admitted to his new girlfriend that he has a mean streak She decided not to date him after that Another memorable and painful example of openness occurred years ago when I served as a member of a suicide intervention team I was called to a very disturbing scene in an upscale neighborhood to console a woman who was threaten ing to take her life on the lawn in front of her children Her husband had just confessed his long term affair to her that morning and she felt that her world was coming apart Fortunately she did not take her life but was left with the humiliation of haVing her neighbors know about her private troubles The question these examples bring to mind is Why do people so often reveal potentially stigmatizing personal information to others The reader probably has an intuitive answer to this question already It can seem like such a burden even torture to keep secrets from other people Hiding such things as feelings of discontent from a boyfriend or girlfriend violations of the law from close friends and indiscretions from employers can be alienating People want others to know them therefore they often end up disclosing self incriminating information

The Red Fox Ben Collins, 2008 Norm Smith is arguably the greatest Australian Football coach in history Smith who in 1996 was selected as the coach of the Australian Football League s Team of the Century led the Melbourne Demons to a staggering six premierships from 1955 to 1964 When it came to football he was a hard man brutally honest to his players and an utterly ruthless and fearsome disciplinarian but this was offset by a gentler charitable side of his nature which was rarely seen in public This is his story and secondarily that of his older brother and fellow coach Len Smith from their childhood in tough working class Northcote during the Depression Norm as a childhood supporter of Collingwood the club he would conquer many times over as a man through his distinguished playing career at Melbourne where he built a reputation as the most unselfish player in the game his first coaching job at Fitzroy his triumphant reign at Melbourne detailing his relationship with his foster son Ron Barassi his friendly coaching rivalry with his brother and his controversial sacking and reinstatement in 1965 to his last coaching job at South Melbourne which in 1970 he lifted to its first finals series in 25 years and culminating in his premature death at the age of 57

Gloriosa John Shephard, 2017-09-04 A contemporary drama dealing with the aftermath of a tragedy

A Gun and Cherries in the Bucket of Blood Greg Casadei, 2014-06-03 Italian immigrants of the early 20th century experienced an inevitable and often emotionally painful cultural transformation after arriving in America Worlds turned upside down Lives changed forever Greg Casadei captures what that process was like in this touching tale about his family's Americanization He also provides insights and lessons that his experiences provided along the way The Americanization of Greg's family began with his grandparents in Sassofeltrio Italy in the early 1900s It ended with the January 2010 passing of his father in Tucson Arizona In between lies a rich story of fear and faith hardships and overcoming respect and toughness risk taking and rewards family and friends love and togetherness separation and crumbled foundations death and despair and the gradual unraveling of a once tight knit family Through historical facts anecdotes and humor Greg provides a vivid picture of what it was like growing up in an Italian family in America You'll laugh cry and want more as Greg recounts stories about colorful family members and their lives in Sassofeltrio Oakwood Michigan and Tucson Arizona After turning the last page you'll understand why the Americanization of Greg's family was so painful but why he wouldn't have traded the experience for anything

Nineteenth-Century Theatre and the Imperial Encounter Marty Gould, 2011-05-09 In this study Gould argues that it was in the imperial capital's theatrical venues that the public was put into contact with the places and peoples of empire Plays and similar forms of spectacle offered Victorian audiences the illusion of unmediated access to the imperial periphery separated from the action by only the thin shadow of the proscenium arch theatrical audiences observed cross cultural contact in action But without narrative direction of the sort found in novels and travelogues theatregoers were left to their own interpretive devices making imperial drama both a powerful and yet uncertain site for the transmission of official imperial ideologies Nineteenth century playwrights fed the public's interest in Britain's Empire by producing a wide variety of plays set in colonial locales India Australia and to a lesser extent Africa These plays recreated the battles that consolidated Britain's hold on overseas territories dramatically depicted western humanitarian intervention in indigenous cultural practices celebrated images of imperial supremacy and occasionally criticized the sexual and material excesses that accompanied the processes of empire building An active participant in the real world drama of empire the Victorian theatre produced popular images that reflected interrogated and reinforced imperial policy Indeed it was largely through plays and spectacles that the British public vicariously encountered the sights and sounds of the distant imperial periphery Empire as it was seen on stage was empire as it was popularly known the repetitions of character types plot scenarios and thematic concerns helped forge an idea of empire that though largely imaginary entertained informed and molded the theatre going British public

Dismantling Glory Lorrie Goldensohn, 2003 Dismantling Glory deals with the poetry written about the honors and horrors of battle by the very soldiers who put their lives on the line Focusing on American and English poetry from World Wars I and II and the Vietnam War Lorrie Goldensohn presents the move from a poetry largely bound to trench warfare to a global war poetry dominated by air power invasion and occupation Civilians prisoners and children enter this poetry in new and compelling ways as do issues of race and gender changing and complicating the representation of war and expanding the scope of antiwar thinking
