With 31 Ill Arthur Evans Moule, 1891 New China and Old Arthur Evans Moule, 1891 New China and Old Arthur Evans Moule, 2015-06-11 Excerpt from New China and Old Personal Recollections and Observations of Thirty Years The investigation of subjects connected with the Empire of China does not as some suppose resemble the mere discovery of ancient fossils We are not occupied simply and solely with the description of a civilization and of manners and customs fixed and petrified long ago No longer can it be said of China that there are scarcely any signs of advance and reform and development The great Empire may not indeed be like her neighbour Japan wide awake as the brochure of the lamented Marquis Tseng seemed to imply yet most surely she stirs and turns in her sleep and awakening is close at hand And we may notice something like the opening of earliest spring after a long winter though each budding tree and expanding flower stands still in the ancient soil and has fossils thickly strewn round the roots My life as a messenger from the Church of England to China during the past thirty years has enabled me to notice some of these signs of upheaval and rejuvenescence About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works New China and Old Arthur Christopher Moule, 1891 New China and Old Arthur Evans Moule, 2015-02-18 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work was reproduced from the original artifact and remains as true to the original work as possible Therefore you will see the original copyright references library stamps as most of these works have been housed in our most important libraries around the world and other notations in the work This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work As a reproduction of a historical artifact this work may contain missing or blurred pages poor pictures errant marks etc Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant *New China and Old, Personal Recollections and Observations of Thirty Years, by the Ven.
