Driving by Memory William L. Fox, 1999 Road trips to Las Vegas are the occasion for this entertaining meditation on the quintessentially American experience of driving across the desert William Fox successively exiled from California Nevada and New Mexico has spent more time than most of us driving to Las Vegas and he has taken notes on three recent trips his own way of bringing cohesion to the vast and mind numbing aspects of the freeway Approaching the most postmodern city on the planet from three directions he examines the landscape and what we do to it while also trying to figure out who he is what that means and the nature of the transformations of land into landscape through art and architecture landscape design and advertising Fox s history of the region both natural and cultural highlights the creep of the urban supergrid across the most extensively traveled desert in the world This is a profoundly personal even idiosyncratic book about the most public of subjects living in the postmodern West at the end of the millennium and what the cities the freeways the open spaces and the billboards tell us about ourselves

Museum Materialities Sandra Dudley, 2013-10-18 This is an innovative interdisciplinary book about objects and people within museums and galleries It addresses fundamental issues of human sensory emotional and aesthetic experience of objects The chapters explore ways and contexts in which things and people mutually interact and raise questions about how objects carry meaning and feeling the distinctions between objects and persons particular qualities of the museum as context for person object engagements and the active and embodied role of the museum visitor Museum Materialities is divided into three sections Objects Engagements and Interpretations and includes a foreword by Susan Pearce and an afterword by Howard Morphy It examines materiality and other perceptual and ontological qualities of objects themselves embodied sensory and cognitive engagements both personal and across a wider audience spread with particular objects or object types in a museum or gallery setting notions of aesthetics affect and wellbeing in museum contexts and creative and innovative artistic and museum practices that seek to illuminate or critique museum objects and interpretations Phenomenological and other approaches to embodied experience in an emphatically material world are current in a number of academic areas most particularly strands of material culture studies within anthropology and cognate disciplines Thus far however there has been no concerted application of this kind of approach to museum collections and interactions with them by museum visitors curators artists and researchers Bringing together essays by scholars and practitioners from a wide disciplinary and international base Museum Materialities seeks to make just such a contribution In so doing it makes a valuable and original addition to the literature of both material culture studies and museum studies Breaking the Mind Barrier Todd Siler, 1997-10 Siler's provocative and highly accessible work is designed to help readers gain a fuller understanding of this artist visionary's latest tome casting a fresh light on the unrealized symmetry of the mind and the universe Illustrations

Architecture and Embodiment Harry Francis Mallgrave, 2013-06-26 In recent years we have seen a number of dramatic discoveries within the biological and related sciences Traditional arguments such as nature versus nurture are rapidly disappearing because of the realization that just as we are affecting our environments so too do these altered environments restructure our cognitive abilities and outlooks If the biological and technological breakthroughs are promising benefits such as extended life expectancies these same discoveries also have the potential to improve in significant ways the quality of our built environments This poses a compelling challenge to conventional architectural theory This is the first book to consider these new scientific and humanistic models in architectural terms Constructed as a series of five essays around the themes of beauty culture emotion the experience of architecture and artistic play this book draws upon a broad range of discussions taking place in philosophy psychology biology neuroscience and anthropology and in doing so questions what implications these discussions hold for architectural design Drawing upon a wealth of research Mallgrave argues that we should turn our focus away from the objectification of architecture treating design as the creation of objects and redirect it back to those for whom we design the people inhabiting our built environments The Language of Landscape Anne Whiston

Spirn, 1998-01-01 This eloquent and powerful book combines poetry and pragmatism to teach the language of landscape Anne Whiston Spirn author of the award winning The Granite Garden Urban Nature and Human Design argues that the language of landscape exists with its own syntax grammar and metaphors and that we imperil ourselves by failing to learn to read and speak this language To understand the meanings of landscape our habitat is to see the world differently and to enable ourselves to avoid profound aesthetic and environmental mistakes Offering examples that range across thousands of years and five continents Spirn examines urban rural and natural landscapes She discusses the thought of renowned landscape authors Thomas Jefferson Frank Lloyd Wright Frederick Law Olmsted Lawrence Halprin and of less well known pioneers including Australian architect Glenn Murcutt and Danish landscape artist C Th S rensen She discusses instances of great landscape designers using landscape fluently masterfully and sometimes cynically And in a probing analysis of the many meanings of landscape Spirn shows how one person's ideal landscape may be another's nightmare how Utopian landscapes can be dark There is danger when we lose the connection between a place and our understanding of it Spirn warns and she calls for change in the way we shape our environment based on the notions of nature as a set of ideas and landscape as the expression of action and ideas in place Phenomenal Robin Lee Clark, Michael Auping, Museum of Contemporary Art, San Diego, 2011-11-07 The Light and Space movement of great importance to my development as a young artist is far more than a valid art historical reference It translates matters of psychology phenomenology criticality emotional investment and now ness into an immaterial language that is both subversive and compelling Light and Space is as contemporary as ever Olafur Eliasson
