Integrated Livestock-fish Farming Systems David Little, Peter Edwards, Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2003-01-01 Integrated farming in Asia is either considered an eco friendly good that should be preserved for environmental reasons or a poor practice that will soon be superseded by industrial aquaculture This report finds that most livestock fish integration is sound business conducted by entrepreneurs accessing urban markets where the price of fish is relatively low It can be used as part of a strategy to reduce environmental impacts of intensive livestock production and to produce low cost food Farmers have proved adept at both developing their systems to meet their own needs and diversifying the role of ponds fish and livestock within their complex livelihoods

Gottschalk, H.P. Müller, 2012-12-06 Investigations on seed proteins have been intensively carried out during the past two decades This is valid with regard to both their chemical composition as well as their nutritive value The development of new biochemical and physical methods has resulted in obtaining deep insights into the structures of seed proteins and their mutual interactions Intensive exchange of information between the scientists participating in national and international research programmes has given strong impulses for intensifying the research in this field For the quantitative and qualitative investigations of seed proteins not only some model plants were used on the contrary they were carried out on a large number of different crops important for different regions of the earth In this way a level of knowledge has been reached which could not be expected in this diversity within such a short period This holds not only true for biochemical but also for physiological characters of the species of the limiting amino acids studied With regard to nutritional aspects the problem was of special interest but also seed proteins acting as antinutritional factors were analysed in detail Based on the knowledge of seed protein structures it was possible to perform investigations on the genetic basis of their synthesis This was done under two different aspects The basic knowledge on the genes involved should be widened moreover it should be tried to improve the seed proteins quantitatively and qualitatively under the influence of mutant genes Aquaculture, 1979-84 Henry Gilbert, 1984
