

An aerial photograph of a beach at sunset or sunrise. The ocean waves are breaking onto the shore, creating white foam. The sand is a warm, golden-brown color. The sky is not visible, but the lighting suggests a low sun. The text is overlaid on the right side of the image.

There is an instinct in a woman to love most her own child – and an instinct to make any child who needs her love, her own.

Higher Education and Love Victoria de Rijke, Andrew Peterson, Paul Gibbs, 2022-01-01 This book explicitly unites the concepts of higher education and love to examine how these concepts are mutually compatible As the world of higher education moves towards the metrics of value and the worth of knowledge becomes more valued in its use rather than its discovery a crisis brews If higher education is to contribute to the wellbeing of the self and of others then the institution needs to be radically reviewed to see if and how love contributes to higher education within and beyond its walls This book addresses the core question of what the university might be like today and into the future if the timeless notion of love was the basis of its educative process notwithstanding the material artefacts the university helps to create but also as a way of framing approaches to higher education

Journal of a Dissenter Chris Wright, 2025-01-20 This is a lengthy intellectual journal by a political radical that ranges over a variety of subjects such as Marxism capitalism history many schools of modern philosophy psychology economics and contemporary American politics It also includes quite a few personal passages but I've kept those only because they express common experiences and youthful psychological tendencies Its most useful content for students might be its many summaries of good historical and scientific scholarship especially in the journal's second half. Ultimately the document is a fairly comprehensive expression of a particular society as refracted through an inquisitive and critical mind from the ages of 15 to 44.

One Heart One Love Pamchingla R Khayi, One Heart One Love by Pamchingla R Khayi is an exploration of love's spiritual and emotional dimensions and its pivotal role in human happiness. The book delves into the dual nature of human emotions: love, which embodies patience and kindness, and hate, characterized by negativity and cruelty. Through biblical references and personal insights, Khayi discusses various types of love, including divine, familial, and romantic love, and emphasizes that all forms of love stem from a single source. Khayi argues that true happiness is intricately linked to our relationship with God, positing that alienation from divine love leads to spiritual and emotional voids. Each chapter builds on this central theme, examining how love influences every aspect of life, from personal relationships and moral decisions to our ultimate fulfillment and purpose. The book is both a theological treatise and a practical guide, encouraging readers to cultivate a deep loving relationship with God as the foundation for all other relationships. Through a blend of scriptural analysis and poignant narratives, Khayi invites readers to reflect on the transformative power of love and its capacity to heal, connect, and restore. One Heart One Love serves as a reminder that in the quest for happiness and meaning, love is both the journey and the destination, with divine love at its core.

Slings and Arrows Jerome David Levin, 1995-04-01

Levin examines what therapists can do to help the victims of narcissistic wounds to integrate, mourn, and heal them. He shows the nature of the injuries to each party and considers ways to minimize them, since treatment itself can seem an injury to both patient and therapist.

Entries examine both general and culture-specific interpretations of love, not just the dichotomy of spiritual and physical love, but the full emotional spectrum of love in relationships and practices. Collectively, they encompass love's integral and sometimes conflicting role in shaping beliefs and
