The National Union Catalogs, 1963-1964 Desire, Violence, and Divinity in Modern Southern Fiction Gary M. Ciuba, 2011-02-04 In this groundbreaking study Gary M. Ciuba examines how four of the South's most probing writers of twentieth century fiction Katherine Anne Porter Flannery O'Connor Cormac McCarthy and Walker Percy expose the roots of violence in southern culture Ciuba draws on the paradigm of mimetic violence developed by cultural and literary critic René Girard who maintains that individual human nature is shaped by the desire to imitate a model Mimetic desire may lead in turn to rivalry cruelty and ultimately community sanctioned and sometimes ritually sanctified victimization of those deemed outcasts Ciuba offers an impressively broad intellectual discussion that gives universal cultural meaning to the southern experience of desire violence and divinity with which these four authors wrestled and out of which they wrote In a comprehensive analysis of Porter s semiautobiographical Miranda stories Ciuba focuses on the prescribed role of women that Miranda imitates and ultimately escapes O Connor s The Violent Bear It Away reveals three characters whose scandalous animosity caused by religious rivalry leads to the unbearable stumbling block of violence McCarthy s protagonist in Child of God Lester Ballard appears as the culmination of a long tradition of the sacred violence of southern religion twisted into his own bloody faith And Percy s The Thanatos Syndrome brings Ciuba s discussion back to the victim in Tom Moore s renunciation of a society in which scapegoating threatens to become the foundation of a new social regime From nostalgia for the old order to visions of a utopian tomorrow these authors have imagined the interrelationship of desire antagonism and religion throughout southern history Ciuba s insights offer new ways of reading Porter O Connor McCarthy and Percy as well as their contemporaries who inhabited the same culture of violence violence desired dreaded denied and deified

The Sacrament of Desire Alex D. Suderman,2022-09-26 This book explores the political theological implications of sacramental desire in Fyodor Dostoevsky s The Brothers Karamazov with Friedrich Nietzsche s Thus Spoke Zarathustra in critical dialogue with Henri de Lubac Suderman demonstrates how the work of de Lubac, Dostoevsky and Nietzsche address a transcendent desire for a higher social and political unity in late modern Western cultures and the imperialistic and coercive tendencies latent within it concretely expressed in the Western church and the modern state. Specifically this book investigates how Dostoevsky and Nietzsche envision new forms of political embodiment that are neither escapist nor imperialist. Through a detailed examination of Zarathustra's dramatic discovery of the eternal return and Alyosha's mystical experience of the resurrection, Suderman demonstrates the metaphysical significance of their respective political ethics. While the intent of de Lubac is to recover the social implications of the sacraments of Roman Catholicism, Nietzsche and Dostoevsky espouse alternative articulations of community and the sacramental desire necessary for such embodiment, a desire rooted in their respective perceptions of God.

Cemeteries of Ambivalent Desire Marie Theresa Hernández, 2008. From San Isidro Cemetery, a burial place for Latino workers, the author pieces together a narrative of the lives and struggles of the Mexican American community that formed her heritage. She also provides visual images to spur the reader's imagination and anchor the narrative in historical reality.

Maxine Hong Kingston's Broken Book of Life Maureen Sabine, 2004-02-29. The numerous studies of Maxine Hong Kingston's touchstone work The Woman Warrior fail to take into account the stories in China Men, which were largely written together with those in The Woman Warrior but later published separately. Although Hong Kingston's decision to separate the male and female narratives enabled readers to see the strength of the resulting feminist point of view in The Woman Warrior, the author has steadily maintained that to understand the book fully, it was necessary to read its male companion text. Maureen Sabine's ambitious study of The Woman Warrior and China Men aims to bring these divided texts back together with a close reading that looks for the textual traces of the father in The Woman Warrior and shows how the daughter narrator tracks down his history in China Men. She considers theories of intertextuality that open up the possibility of a dynamic interplay between the two books and suggests that the Hong family women and men may be struggling for dialogue with each other even when they appear textually silent or apart.

Maternal Metaphors of Power in African American Women's Literature Geneva Cobb Moore, 2017-03-31. An in-depth examination of Black women's experiences as portrayed in literature throughout American history, Geneva Cobb Moore deftly combines literature history, criticism, and theory in Maternal Metaphors of Power in African American Women's Literature by offering insight into the historical Black experience from slavery to freedom as depicted in the literature of nine female writers across several centuries. Moore traces Black women writers' creation of feminine and maternal metaphors of power in literature from the colonial era work of Phillis Wheatley to the postmodern efforts of Paule Marshall, Alice Walker, and Toni Morrison. Through their characters, Moore shows how these writers re-created the identity of Black women and challenge existing rules shaping their subordinate status and behavior. Drawing on feminist psychoanalytic and other social science theory, Moore examines the maternal iconography and counter-hegemonic narratives by which these writers responded to oppressive conventions of race gender and authority Moore grounds her account in studies of Wheatley Harriet Jacobs Charlotte Forten Grimké Jessie Fauset Nella Larsen and Zora Neale Hurston All these authors she contends wrote against invisibility and powerlessness by developing and cultivating a personal voice and an individual story of vulnerability nurturing capacity and agency that confounded prevailing notions of race and gender and called into question moral reform In these nine writers construction of feminine images real and symbolic Moore finds a shared sense of the historically significant role of black women in the liberation struggle during slavery the Jim Crow period and beyond A foreword is offered by Andrew Billingsley a pioneering sociologist and a leading scholar in African American studies Catalog of Reprints in Series Robert Merritt Orton, 1965
