Questions about meanings of home and domestic culture are triggered by dramatic changes in values and ideals about the dwellings we live in and the dwellings we desire or dread. Deborah Chambers explores how home is idealized as a middle-class haven, managed as an investment, and signified as a status symbol and expression of personal identity. She addresses a range of public, state, commercial, popular, and expert discourses about home: the heritage industry, design exhibitions, television, social media, home mobilities, and migration; smart technologies and ecological sustainability. Drawing on cross-disciplinary research including cultural history and cultural geography, the book offers a distinctive media and cultural studies approach supported by original, historically informed case studies on interior and domestic design, exhibitions of model homes, TV home interiors, media home imaginaries, multiscreen homes, corporate visions of homes of tomorrow, and digital smart homes. A comprehensive and engaging study, this book is ideal for students and researchers of cultural studies, cultural history, media and communication studies, as well as sociology, gender studies, cultural geography, and design studies. Real Estate Webographer™ Marc Grayson, 2006-06-30 This book ensures Real Estate professionals are up to date on the latest Real Estate web-enabled technologies.
