Midsummer Night Uwe Timm:

Midsummer Night Peter Tegel, Uwe Timm, 2000-02-17 An amusing and cautionary tale of one summer solstice night in Berlin

Beyond 1989 K. Bullivant, 1997-09-01 With the fall of the Berlin Wall in November 1989 four decades of separation seemed to have been brought to an end In the literary arena as in many others this seemed to be the surprising but ultimately logical end to the situation in which after the extreme separation of the two Germanies literatures during most of the period up to 1980 an increasing closeness could be observed during the 1980s as relations between the two German states normalized With the opening up of the East in the Autumn of 1989 claims were being made on the one hand that German literature had never in fact been divided while others were proclaiming the end of East and West German literatures as they had existed and the beginning of a new era This volume examines these claims and other aspects of literary life in the two Germanies since 1945 with the hindsight born of unification in 1990 as well as looking at certain aspects of developments since the fall of the Wall when as on East German put it in 1996 rapprochement came to an end

Love and the Turning Year Kenneth Rexroth, 1970 An assemblage of delicate Chinese verse which delicately explore the worlds of love nature and meditation

Zen and the Birds of Appetite Thomas Merton, 2010-07-27 Merton one of the rare Western thinkers able to feel at home in the philosophies of the East made the wisdom of Asia available to Westerners Zen enriches no one Thomas Merton provocatively writes in his opening statement to Zen and the Birds of Appetite one of the last books to be published before his death in 1968 There is no body to be found The birds may come and circle for a while but they soon go elsewhere When they are gone the nothing the no body that was there suddenly appears That is Zen It was there all the time but the scavengers missed it because it was not their kind of prey This gets at the humor paradox and joy that one feels in Merton's discoveries of Zen during the last years of his life a joy very much present in this collection of essays Exploring the relationship between Christianity and Zen especially through his dialogue with the great Zen teacher D T Suzuki the book makes an excellent introduction to a comparative study of these two traditions as well as giving the reader a strong taste of the mature Merton Never does one feel him losing his own faith in these pages rather one feels that faith getting deeply clarified and affirmed Just as the body of Zen cannot be found by the scavengers so too Merton suggests with the eternal truth of Christ

Routines Lawrence Ferlinghetti, 1964 Routines first published by New Directions in 1964 and going through four printings is now reissued with the addition of three more of Ferlinghetti's very short experimental plays

Poems from the Book of Hours Rainer Maria Rilke, 1975 Rilke's Book of Hours falls into three parts The Book of Monkish Life 1899 The Book of Pilgrimage 1901 and The Book of Poverty and Death 1903 Although these poems were the work of Rilke's youth they contain the germ of his mature convictions Written as spontaneously received prayers they celebrate a God who is not the Creator of the Universe but seems to be rather humanity itself and above all that most intensely conscious part of humanity the artist This exquisite gift edition contains Babette Deutsch's classic translations which capture the rich harmony and suggestive imagery of the originals allowing interpretations both religious and

Guide to Berlin Brian Ladd, 2004 Berlin's traumatic past and vibrant present explored and explained in a guide to the culture buildings and society of the city Most people do not think of Berlin as a beautiful city but it is filled with stunning sights sounds and textures all the more astonishing when the stories behind them are revealed Today's Berlin is new and vibrant but history has left its scars A look in the right place is rewarded with glimpses of the glories of old Prussia as well as the abominations of Hitler's Third Reich and of the outer bulwark of the Soviet empire Brian Ladd a historian who has been returning to Berlin for twenty five years pays homage to the familiar landmarks but he also penetrates into obscure corners of the city and brings them alive with his shrewd and informed comment He explains what the sights of Berlin have meant to Berliners who coped under kings and dictators and who toiled suffered and celebrated as their city was destroyed and rebuilt This book invites you to share their passions as it draws you into the dynamic new capital that has risen from wreckage of post war German history BRIAN LADD is at the State University of New York at Albany He has been a constant visitor to Berlin over a quarter of a century Selected Poems (1938-1958) Delmore Schwartz, 1967 Every point of view every kind
